| 1.          | 1.1                         | Senator Dastyari | Caretaker letter sent to nbn co           | Senator DASTYARI: Is there a form letter that comes from PM&amp;C that every departmental secretary, like you, then sends out to everybody? Dr Smith: It is pretty much a summary of the caretaker conventions. It is a pretty standard letter. Senator DASTYARI: You may want to take this on notice. Is there a reason we could not have a copy of that letter? Dr Smith: I would like to take that on notice, thanks. Senator DASTYARI: Sorry, Dr Smith, I am new to all this. Is that standard procedure? Dr Smith: I would have to check in terms of the department prior to my tenure. But I am sure it is with many departments and I imagine it is with our department.   | Page 5  |
| 2.          | 1.1                         | Senator Dastyari | nbn article - Copy of advice sent to nbn  | Senator DASTYARI: Did they then provide a letter to you to give to NBN Co or did they send a letter directly to NBN Co? Mr Robinson: As Dr Parkinson's letter on this issue said, we conveyed the advice to NBN Co. We consulted with PM&amp;C and then conveyed some advice. This department provided the advice to NBN Co. Senator DASTYARI: When you say, 'provided the advice', did you provide the advice in writing? Mr Robinson: Yes, and verbally. Senator DASTYARI: Verbally it was: 'Don't do this. This is our view. We are going to send you a letter.' Was that it? Mr Robinson: Essentially, yes. Senator DASTYARI: Where is that letter now? Mr Robinson: Which letter? Senator DASTYARI: The letter that you sent NBN Co. Mr Robinson: It was in fact an email. Senator DASTYARI: Can we have a copy of it? Mr Robinson: I would have to take that on notice. Senator DASTYARI: Would there be an issue? Mr Robinson: I would have to take it on notice. Senator DASTYARI: When was that email sent? Mr Robinson: On the 27th. Senator DASTYARI: And there was only one email? Mr Robinson: Of advice, yes. Senator DASTYARI: Just to be clear, did you receive a response to that email? Mr Robinson: I would have to take that on notice. | Page 7  |

We will have to take on notice whether we have done some since. We may not have. I am not aware of it, so we will have to take it on notice. Senator O'NEILL: Have electorate briefs for every federal electorate in Australia been prepared? Mr Robinson: I would have to take that on notice. Senator O'NEILL: Could you explain the structure of those briefs? Is there commercially sensitive information or not? Mr Robinson: I will take that on notice as well. Senator O'NEILL: So my request is: can the full set of most recent electorate briefs be tabled as quickly as possible? Mr Robinson: We will take that on notice. Senator O'NEILL: Is there any chance that could be found out? We will be here until 11 o'clock tonight. Is there any chance that you could expedite that? Mr Robinson: We will see what we can do. Senator O'NEILL: Thank you. Could you also investigate whether state and territory briefs have been prepared? Mr Robinson: Yes, Senator. ... Senator O'NEILL: Can I add to my request to the department a little bit earlier? I note that there were 54 that went up. There are 96 others for the other electorates that were not briefed and I would like some information on those as well, not just the 54 that have had some FOI response. I would like to turn to digital productivity. Do we have the right people here to answer questions? I would like to turn to digital productivity. Do we have the right people here to answer questions? Ms O'Loughlin, is it you for this? ... Senator O'NEILL: I just wanted to ask a quick follow-up from this morning, because it has been a long, long time. I am really hopeful that I might have provided enough time now for a response. My question—it was the first question—about the 54 electorate briefs and the FOI disclosure log: you were going to see whether you could find out if they were the most recent of the NBN electorate briefs and the department's position. Have you been able to find that information yet? Mr Robinson: Yes. We have prepared later briefing than that. Senator O'NEILL: Would you be able to table it? Mr Robinson: We will have to take it on notice, because we just have to check the information with NBN Co. As to whether we can provide it to you, we will take that on notice. Senator O'NEILL: Right. So, I asked this morning for the full set of the most recent electorate briefs to be tabled without delay, and I am restating that, seeking the state and territory briefs, and also electorate briefs for every federal electorate in Australia. Mr Robinson: Okay. We will take that on notice. Senator O'NEILL: Up to the most recent. Thank you. |   |
| 4.          | 1.1                         | Senator O'Neill | Digital Productivity – report IT use and Productivity | Senator O'NEILL: I understand that the function for digital productivity was transferred out of the department in September 2015. Ms O'Loughlin: That is correct. Senator O'NEILL: Can you explain to me, then, why the department in February 2016 published a 116 page report on IT use and productivity? Ms O'Loughlin: From memory, that report had been developed in the department for a considerable length of time. As it was ready to go, and through discussions with our colleagues in the innovation department, we settled the report and we published it, because we thought it would be useful information to be made available publicly. Senator O'NEILL: Could you indicate to me the date when that project was initiated? Ms O'Loughlin: I will have to take that on notice. I can probably come back to you later today of that. Senator O'NEILL: That would be good. Could you also undertake to provide, if possible today, the cost and the time associated with the preparation and publication of that report? Ms O'Loughlin: Yes. Senator O'NEILL: AusTender contract notice CN3363608, entitled 'Digital Productivity Project'. What is this for? Ms O'Loughlin: It is probably related to the report that you mentioned earlier, but I would have to take that on notice.  | Page 12                                   |

Also, the contract period for that was 15 July 2016 to 31 December 2016. But the report that we have just been talking about, which you said you assisted your colleagues in innovation with, was actually published in February 2016. Ms O'Loughlin: If I can take that on notice I will come back with information on that, perhaps under program 1.1 later this morning.  |   |
| 5.          | 1.1                         | Senator O'Neill  | External advisory group - composition | Senator O'NEILL: Dr Smith, at the end of your evidence there, this external advisory body, could you give me a bit more of an understanding of its role, who constitutes that and why you consider at core business? Dr Smith: It comprises of people from other departments across government as well as some external representatives. I do not have the exact numbers and names, but we can provide those to you. Senator O'NEILL: Later today? Dr Smith: Yes. Senator O'NEILL: Thank you.   | Page 13-14                                |
| 6.          | 1.1                         | Senator Chisholm | Sydney Ave lease costs                | Senator CHISHOLM: Do you anticipate that the new lease will result in savings for the government? Ms Talbot: Obviously, the reason we are moving is part of Operation Tetris, which is whole-of-government. Because we are unable to continue the lease of our current building, because there is another lease that is currently occupied, we move into that arrangement. So, overall it is ensuring that there is a smaller property footprint across the whole of government. Senator CHISHOLM: But there is nothing definitive in terms of savings? Dr Smith: That is probably a question for Finance. Senator CHISHOLM: Do you think any new lease arrangements are going to constrain the department's ability to do its functions? Ms Talbot: No. Ms O'Loughlin: We will come back on notice on the cost of the lease. We do not have that figure with us at the table but will come back on that later today. | Page 15                                   |
| 7.          | 1.1                         | Senator Moore    | Role in the STGs                      | Senator MOORE: Dr Smith, I am asking departments about their role in the STGs, the Sustainable Development Goals. I want to know if your department is part of the interdepartmental committee that has just been set up to look at the impact of the STGs in our country and internationally? Dr Smith: Yes, apparently we are. Senator MOORE: Well, it is very new. I will put this on notice, because it is obviously new. I want to find out on notice exactly who is representing your department and your understanding as a department of what your role will be. Also, whether there will be a focus domestically and internationally. There are too many goals. There are a number of goals, but I would have thought that there are a few there where communications expertise would be invaluable. Dr Smith: Certainly.  | Page 15                                   |

| 8.          | 1.1                         | Senator Bilyk | Tom Roberts | Senator BILYK: We will try a couple, because some are for the minister as well. Minister, the family for the acclaimed Australian artist Tom Roberts sought to donate a family heirloom. I am sure you are aware of the situation. It was a coin and a handwritten letter. The coin had been minted in 1873 and engraved with the Impressionist painter's initials. They sought to donate that to the prime ministerial collection last December. We know that it went missing somewhere. I am not accusing anyone of any unlawful act; I will be very clear on that. I understand that it was referred to the AFP. Is that correct? Senator Fifield: I am not aware of it. I do not have any specific knowledge. Obviously, I am aware of the issue, but I do not have any specific knowledge as to the handling of it. I stand to be corrected, but I do not think that it is anything that our department has involvement with. Ms O'Loughlin: I will check, but I do not believe our department is involved in that issue. Senator BILYK: I understood that the AFP had done some interviews and things, and that the staff that it had been handed to had resigned. Are you able to clarify that? Ms O'Loughlin: It was a staff member of the then minister's office. So it was not departmental staff. Senator BILYK: Minister, do you know if the previous minister's office staff has resigned? Senator Fifield: As I said, I do not have any specific knowledge of this matter. Senator BILYK: So you would not know whether the minister or the department have met with the family of Tom Roberts about this issue? Ms O'Loughlin: I think it was the responsibility of the former minister. Senator BILYK: That does not absolve the current minister. I mean, if everything is dropped when a minister changed, there would be no accountability anywhere. Ms O'Loughlin: Because that staff member had moved to different offices, we have not been involved in this process since then. I understand, though, that the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet may have taken some questions on this issue yesterday. I would just like to check with them about whether they have some knowledge of that process. Senator BILYK: The other question I would like to know the answer to is if anybody from the department—obviously, not from the minister's office—has met with the family of Tom Roberts about the loss of these artefacts? Has any offer of compensation been made and, if so, what is that offer? Also, has there been a formal apology? I am a bit surprised to hear that, Minister, to be honest. This is a significant issue and they were significant cultural artefacts from a very respected Australian artist. I am a bit surprised for you to say to me that it was the former minister as though that absolves you of any information or knowledge about it. Senator Fifield: Neither I or my office have had any interaction or involvement in the events in question. It did not involve an interaction with me or my office. Senator BILYK: Even though it is a significant issue around a cultural artefact, as such, and one of Australia's most renowned artists? Are you saying that the blame stopped at the former minister? | Page 16 and Page 95, 96                   |

|             |                             |               |                               | Senator Fifield: No, I am just making a statement of fact that the issues in question did not involve me or my office, or any interaction between me and my office and the parties involved in that matter. Senator BILYK: I think Ms O'Loughlin said she will try to come back to me. Ms O'Loughlin: I recall now that it was a private donation from the individual, and the coin was provided to the Prime Minister at the Tom Roberts function at the National Gallery last year. Hence, I would like to check with the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet. Senator BILYK: It was then handed to an adviser? Ms O'Loughlin: That is my understanding. That is why the issue had been taken forward by the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet. It had not come to this department at all. But I am happy to talk to the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet and see whether any of the people over there have met with the family, or can help with the other parts of your question. Senator BILYK: I do not suppose you are able to tell me then if the staff person is now working in another minister's office? You probably don't know the answer to that, Minister? Senator Fifield: I do not have a whole-of-government perspective on government staffing. ... Senator BILYK: Was it going to be displayed in the National Gallery? Ms O'Loughlin: No, it was a private donation. Senator BILYK: Yes, but was it going to be displayed? Ms O'Loughlin: That is not my understanding but, again, as it was a matter for PM&amp;C I am happy to take it on board, follow it up with PM&amp;C and report back to this committee. Senator BILYK: What sort of timeline would that take? Ms O'Loughlin: I am happy to do that hopefully in the next few days. ... Senator BILYK: This is a media article where I found the information that the issue had happened. Dr Lisa Roberts, who is a descendent of Tom Roberts, is quoted as saying, 'I'm disappointed. I've done everything that I can to be transparent in my dealings with people but I don't think it's been a two-way street. It's shaken my trust in cultural institutions.' That is where my concern comes in, Minister. They are part of your portfolio, cultural institutions. She goes on say, 'I probably won't donate anything again.' So my question is not only who has spoken to the family but whether there was any compensation suggested. I want to know the whole thing, from go to whoa, about how the family has been treated? Ms O'Loughlin: I am happy to take that up with Prime Minister and Cabinet. |   |
| 9.          | 1.1                         | Senator Bilyk | Gender Balance on Arts boards | Senator BILYK: Good. I have had a look at the make-up of a number of the boards and cultural institutions, and there seems to be some disparity with gender balance, and some have no appointees from diverse backgrounds. What steps are being taken to ensure that the membership of all boards and councils reflect diversity goals and have gender balance? Senator Fifield: There is a whole-of-government objective to improve gender balance on boards. I  | Page 17 and page 19                       |

|             |                             |                  |                   | think, taking my portfolio as a whole, both communications— Senator BILYK: I am asking specifically about the arts area. Senator Fifield: I appreciate that, but looking at it on a portfolio basis I think we do well, and officers at the table will be able to give us the statistics on that. But, obviously, I am keen not just to address this on a portfolio-wide basis but also board by board. Ms Talbot: The department is actively working towards the new gender diversity target of a 50 per cent balance on portfolio board positions. We actively monitor the diversity of portfolio board appointments, and the secretary has written to all agency heads advising portfolio agencies of the new gender diversity targets and of the need to be committed and accountable to achieve gender balance on boards. Recently we had to provide results to the whole-of-government Gender balance on Australian government boards report 2015-16. That was for the whole portfolio. We had 45.1 per cent women appointed to boards as at 30 June, 2016. I should note that that does not include managing directors of Australia Post, ABC, SBS and staff-elected positions on the ABC board. The latest results we have for gender balance across the portfolios is that we are now sitting at 47 per cent female, so we have slightly increased since we provided that report. Is there a specific— Senator BILYK: Well, you have said that the agencies had all been contacted. Are you able to tell me which specific agencies, including the national cultural institutions, have diversity and/or disability action plans in place? Ms Talbot: That I do not actually have. Senator BILYK: Can you take that on notice? Ms Talbot: We can take that on notice. Senator BILYK: For those who do not, what plans are there and what is the timing? Ms Talbot: I have to take that on notice, Senator. Senator BILYK: What about organisations that are funded by people such as the Australia Council, Creative Partnerships Australia and Screen Australia? I basically have the same questions to them. Which ones have diversity or disability action plans in place? For those that do not, what are the plans and timing around that? Ms O'Loughlin: We can take that on notice for you. ... Senator BILYK: With regard to the question on notice and the diversity issues, can we also get a breakdown specifically for the arts area for gender diversity and everything else I asked for? I know you gave me whole-of-department staff, but could I get a breakdown for the arts area as well? Ms O'Loughlin: Yes. |   |

What I am trying to establish is when the government became aware that there was an issue with the Optus HFC network. Senator Fifield: NBN undertake constantly a range of scenario planning. They are forever looking at and reviewing what is the best and most cost-effective way of rolling out the NBN. So that was   | Page 20-21                                |

|             |                             |                  |   | and is an ongoing exercise on the part of NBN. Senator CHISHOLM: So it is a pretty obtuse answer here when I am really trying to get the specifics of when the government knew that there was an issue with the Optus HFC network. We know that there was a media report on 25 November 2015. Surely there would have been some conversation given that the previous minister—in terms of his role with this, there would have been some communication from the NBN to the government and establishing what and when that was. Senator Fifield: NBN, as Bill Morrow has indicated previously at estimates, has been trialling and is looking at technology called 'fibre to the distribution point'. He has been very upfront at estimates that that is something that he was looking at and that there were trials taking place to see if that was something that would be appropriate to deploy and to see if that would be a cost-effective option in some situations. I was aware of it because everyone here was aware that that was being looked at as well. So NBN have ultimately taken the decision that, where it could have been an option to use Optus HFC, they will be using different technology solutions. Senator CHISHOLM: I think I am just going to have to be really clear with my question. When did the NBN Co—on what date—first advise the government of its plan to abandon the use of the Optus HFC network? Senator Fifield: I will take that on notice. |   |
| 11.         | 1.1                         | Senator Urquhart | Mobile Black Spots Programme – Retention of taxpayers money | Senator URQUHART: Why is it that Telstra and Vodafone are retaining taxpayers' money until that last base station is built in 2018? Why does that happen? Is there any other company out there that can hang onto taxpayers' money for a period of two years at the expense of the taxpayer? Why is that happening? Minister? Senator Fifield: I will ask Mr Paterson to speak to the design of the program. Mr Paterson: I will have to take that on notice. I believe we would be able to exert that clawback provision before the end of the program. But I will have to take that on notice. Mr Robinson: As Mr Paterson said, it is important to note that there are clawback provisions in the funding agreements and I think there was—  | Page 101                                  |

Is that just a coincidence? How did that happen? Senator Fifield: No-one at the table knows what the number of forums were or where they were held. Senator URQUHART: I am telling you what they were. Did the department pay any costs of the forums? Mr Paterson: Not to my knowledge, no. Senator URQUHART: No costs at all? Mr Paterson: I would not believe so. Senator URQUHART: You would not believe so—you do not know for sure?  | Page 103                                  |

Do you have a threshold? If I get to 80 or a100, do I get it? Mr Paterson: I think this was identified in the ANAO report. You had an ultimate merit list of about 507 sites, I think, and the government funded 499. Senator DASTYARI: Yes, I think 507 is the number in here. Mr Paterson: But there would have been a number of sites that would have been considered not to be value for money and not meriting, so they would not have been on that merit list. Senator DASTYARI: Yes. Mr Paterson: If your question is how many points you needed to get to that cut-off, I do not have that information. I would have to take it on notice. Senator DASTYARI: But are we talking roughly 60, 100, 200? Mr Paterson: I just do not know, I am afraid. Senator DASTYARI: That is a worthless figure then. Saying it has gone from five to 10—of what? That is meaningless. It is an arbitrary figure then. What does it mean? You are saying the NP contribution has doubled. I am saying, 'In relation to what?' And you say saying you cannot tell me the relation. Mr Paterson: It will definitely have an impact because you are getting more points. The extent of the impact depends on how many points you get for other things. | Page 108                                  |

I mean it is a government program and a government decision. When was that decision about the final guidelines made for the round 1? What year are we talking about? Mr Robinson: We will take that on notice. Senator DASTYARI: What year are we talking about here? You surely must know. It will be in the ANAO report. I will just read it again. I can find it in five minutes. Mr Paterson: What year are we in now—2016. It would have been late 2014, I would expect. Senator DASTYARI: So 2014 you suspect—maybe 2015. Mr Paterson: From memory, I think it was around December 2014. So who would have been the minister? Mr Robinson: It was Minister Turnbull that signed this. Senator DASTYARI: It is very clear that you were trying to avoid saying that! So the final guidelines were made by Minister Turnbull, is that correct?  | Page 109-110                              |

The final draft— Senator DASTYARI: When were you given the first draft? Mr Paterson: I do not know when we got the first draft, but it may have borne no major resemblance to the final draft. Senator DASTYARI: Sure, but when were you given it? Mr Paterson: These are iterative documents; they are developed over time. Senator DASTYARI: Sure, but that was not the question. The question was: when were you given it? Mr Paterson: We will have to take that on notice, Senator. Senator DASTYARI: Was it this year or last year? Mr Paterson: It would have been this year, I would expect, but I will have to take it on notice. Senator DASTYARI: Surely you know this: was it before or after the election? You are the point person, the draft report would come to you. Mr Paterson: I am trying to recall, Senator. I was not in the job at the time. Mr Robinson: Sorry, Senator, is your question when we would have seen a draft report? Senator DASTYARI: Yes. Mr Robinson: Was it before the election? It was before the election. Senator DASTYARI: Was it before the draft guidelines were issued for round 2? Mr Robinson: We will have to take that on notice. Senator DASTYARI: How could you not know that? That is such a basic thing. If you have draft guidelines and there is an ANAO report about round 1— CHAIR: Senator Dastyari, they have taken it on notice. They have indicated they do not have that information. Asking them why they do not know it is not really helping. Senator DASTYARI: But it does not pass the believability test. | Page 114                                  |

Move on if you have another question. Mr Paterson: The guidelines were issued in February. Mr Robinson has confirmed that we would have seen a draft ANAO report before the election—we are talking around May or June. What we need to take on notice is what happened between February and June. Senator DASTYARI: The ANAO report includes a response from the department, so you obviously saw it before May. The question is whether it was before February. Mr Paterson: I doubt we would have seen a draft before February that was in a close-to-final state because it was so much time before we got the report that we could comment on. We will have to take it on notice.  |   |

Are you aware of that? As you know, that is the location of Black Friday. Senator Fifield: There have been recent fires in a number of places in Australia but, obviously, that area was heavily impacted. Senator DASTYARI: You don't know the answer, do you? Senator Fifield: I cannot go through each electorate off the top of my head. Senator DASTYARI: Sure. Maybe the department could answer? Senator DUNIAM: It is a Labor electorate. Mr Paterson: There were two base stations under round 1 funded in the McEwen electorate. Senator DASTYARI: To what value? Mr Paterson: I would have to take that one on notice. Senator Fifield: But, that is an important point, because the Victorian state Labor government had a very major say as to which mobile black spots in that state were funded. That is correct, isn't it? Mr Paterson: That is correct. Senator Fifield: There was very close cooperation with the state Labor government. Senator DASTYARI: You might want to take this on notice, if you do not have the information: how many were requested in that electorate? Mr Paterson: I can take that on notice. Senator DASTYARI: Do you have that information with you? Is that on the table? Mr Paterson: No, I do not have the carriers' applications. Senator DASTYARI: Fair enough. | Page 115 - 116                            |

I would suspect that we did not do anything and it was organised by the parliamentary secretary's office. But I will have to take it on notice.   | Page 117                                  |

Obviously our answer will be constrained by whether we had any role and whether there were local advertisements and so forth and if they were not organised by us we would not necessarily be aware of them. But we can check our records for anything that we did. Senator O'NEILL: But you did do media monitoring, did you? Mr Paterson: Yes, exactly. If we came through on the media we can attempt to go back through those records, yes. Senator O'NEILL: And you did provide briefs? Mr Paterson: My understanding is that if a brief was requested we would have provided a pretty basic background brief. But yes, we can check those records.   |   |

I hope we do not have to FOI it. I also want to ask, in 1.1: when did the department become aware that the NBN was switching from HFC to fibre to the distribution point? I am looking for a date. Mr Robinson: A decision to do that would have been quite close to the announcement. Senator O'NEILL: Can you give me a date? Mr Robinson: I will take it on notice.  | Page 118                                  |

How can a decision of this scale be made with no written communication? Is that what you are telling me? Or is there written communication of some form? Mr Robinson: I will have to take that on notice. I would not think it is exceptional, because in the course of the corporate plan process we were very well briefed on what was happening with HFC deployment and what the options may be there, and it was publicly indicated that the HFC numbers were within a range. We knew that NBN Co were working towards a decision about what would occur. Senator O'NEILL: Are those briefs that you are talking about always verbal or are they accompanied by documentation? Mr Robinson: They are sometimes accompanied by documentation. Senator O'NEILL: I would be very interested in that documentation and the points at which you were aware in the lead-up. You talked about multiple points along the journey. I would very much like seeing the journey that you are describing and certainly the documents, if there are any, with regard to that decision of the NBN Co board. But in order to be as accurate as I can I will take that on notice. Senator O'NEILL: What was the mechanism that was used to trigger this announcement? Senator Fifield: The mechanism was a decision by NBN. Senator O'NEILL: So they make the decisions. They ring you and say, 'Nice talking to you again today, Mitch. We are just going to change our plan. We have been talking about it in the media. It's a pretty big plan but, trust me, on this conversation it's okay for you to go out now. We're going to make a change.' Is that how they do business with you? Senator Fifield: No. Ultimately a decision point is reached. NBN took the decision and that was subsequently announced. This really is just part of the outworking of the multitechnology mix mandate that NBN has, which is that they have the flexibility to change the technologies that will see the NBN rolled out. The mandate is to choose the technology that will see NBN rolled out fastest and at lowest cost. So NBN has significant operational flexibility. Senator O'NEILL: In the interests of time, Minister—we hear these answers at question time all the time—can we just get to the specific answers. Did the department brief the minister on the NBN proposal to switch from the HFC to a different access network technology? Mr Robinson: Yes, I believe we did. Senator O'NEILL: In what form was that briefing? Mr Robinson: It included written briefing. Senator O'NEILL: Could you take on notice to provide a time line of every interaction, verbal or in writing, with the NBN and the minister about the HFC network and a potential switch to a different technology mix, on notice? Mr Robinson: I am happy to take it on notice, but there would have been many interactions. Senator O'NEILL: Could you undertake that back to September 2015? It would be very helpful to see the style of communication about things of this scale. We are hearing that there seem to be casual conversations. So you did brief the minister in that period? Mr Robinson: I believe so, yes. | Page 120                                  |

| 40.         | 2.1                         | Senator Bilyk | Fake or non-authentic Indigenous arts and craft | Senator BILYK: There is a large amount of what we could call fake or not authentic Aboriginal style arts and craft available for sale in arts and crafts outlets primarily directed at the tourist market in Australia. You see it everywhere. You see in The Rocks. You see it in big markets and you see it in all the main tourist precincts. These products are harming Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures and their incomes by misappropriating or exploiting Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander culture, violating their stories, the imagery, the knowledge and heritage which is embodied in authentic works. What steps are being taken to address this problem, including through action by the ACCC—I am not sure if you are aware of what they are doing—and consideration of strengthening current laws? Ms Basser: We fund a number of Indigenous visual art service organisations such as ANKAAA and Desart. They do a lot to try to educate people, particularly travelling into and purchasing material without authenticity. We also fund, along with the states and territories, Arts Law, who provide legal assistance to Indigenous organisations in terms of this. Senator BILYK: But this is the stuff that is fake. It is not the stuff that is genuine that I am worried about. Ms Basser: There is material around to tell tourists or give some idea about how you ascertain what they are looking at, that the works that they are looking at are actually genuine. Senator BILYK: So what form does that material take? Ms Basser: I would need to take that on notice as to what the most up-to-date material is but I know there used to be material that I have seen and I would just need to find out what the latest is. Senator BILYK: I would be really interested in what it is, where it is and how people access it. Do you have to go online to be able to find out about it? Ms Basser: Yes. ... | Page 98 - 99                              |

It was previously used by Lion FM. Is anybody able to provide assistance on that? It is one of the community— Mr Bean: What is the nature of the question? Senator ABETZ: I have been advised that Lion FM stopped using 96.1 for broadcasting some four years ago. Another community organisation has applied to use it and ACMA in its wisdom has denied it—in fact, it is J-AIR—from using it on I think three or four separate occasions now. They have approached me to seek publicly a reason as to why that has occurred. Mr Bean: I think this is in relation to a community broadcasting service. Senator ABETZ: That is right. Mr Bean: Yes. If there is nobody here to help, I will go through some questions for you to take on notice. In relation to Lion FM, when did it go off air? Has its spectrum or dial—96.1—been allocated to anybody else and, if so, to whom? If it has not been allocated to another community organisation, why has the J-AIR request been rejected now I think on three or four separate occasions after three or four separate requests have been made? J-AIR has been denied its applications for a temporary community broadcasting licence. It has put in three applications over the past four years.  | Page 27                                   |

I would ask: has the rejection ever referred to unavailability of spectrum, because I understand that is the case. But, of course, 96.1 remains lying idle and is available. It has the potential of serving a community within the Melbourne area of at least 50,000 people and the general public at large. It does in fact broadcast over the internet and through another mechanism which allows it to operate 24 hours per day, seven days a week. It provides 42 shows on topics of news, business, community information, lifestyle, sport et cetera. So, as far as community organisations go, it is pretty dynamic and yet it has continually been frustrated in its request for licence. Can you provide a good brief on all of that and we might revisit this topic at the next estimates. Of course, you can avoid all of that by simply allowing J-AIR to use 96.1. Mr Bean: Yes, Senator.  |   |

I would need to take that on notice, but I understand that the MOLI technology does not work in those circumstances. That is my understanding. I will confirm that, but, as I indicated in my earlier answer, that is one reason why emergency services organisations and carriers are continually looking for ways to maintain and enhance the information available through the emergency call service.  | Page 30                                   |

My next question is in relation to social media. What is your reach on social media for advertising and for raising awareness of your website? Ms Wright: I can take that detail on notice. One thing that I would mention is that last week we launched a major initiative—Rewrite Your Story, which is a way of attracting young people to be comfortable to come to us to complain about cyberbullying. We made the decision to do a live Facebook launch and to use a Twitter beam. We have had hundreds of thousands of young people engaged in either viewing the material or being aware of it. So I think that was again a good example of using resources very prudently to reach your target audience. The decision we made is that the heart of the scheme, if you like, that we operate for cyberbullying is to combat cyberbullying through social media sites and services. So it made sense to reach that cohort through social media. Again, the amount of dollars is very small, but, as I said, you can get hundreds of thousands of young people aware. Again, there is another way that I think we have been keen on—we have had a billboard in Melbourne on a corner of Hoddle Street in Collingwood made available to us free of charge for a month and possibly two months because they believe in what we are providing. We know they tell us that I think 380,000 cars will pass that billboard and have the chance to see that program and that family members and young people can come to us about cyberbullying and to report it. So that is another example where we do not have to use very much in the way of a budget because there is such good community buy-in for what we do. | Page 34                                   |

We know her well.   | Page 35                                   |

It makes reference there, initially obliquely on the website, where it has Sam's Story and a photo of a young woman and then if you click on it, it is a revenge porn story. Further to my colleague's line of questioning, how do you reconcile the fact that this is not just about children? It is about young adults, young women in particular, who have been the subject of revenge porn. How do you get that message across? I wonder whether there is a problem with the name and whether it confuses some young adults from actually going to your site. Can you see the difficulty there that they may not know that you can provide help and advice on these issues? Minister, is that an issue that you are looking at? Senator Fifield: It is something that is in my mind. The role of the Office of the eSafety Commissioner is one that has expanded over time, and I think that is a good thing, but I think you raise a pertinent point in terms of how the office is branded and what people might think that means in terms of the range of advice that is available. |   |

We have a public consultation process that we are about to undertake and then we will look at the criteria that would constitute what languages we keep, what languages we change and what languages we might increase or decrease. Senator DASTYARI: Is that consultation process written anywhere? What we have got to do is make sure that we put our very limited resources to things that our audiences are engaging with us on and what we have found is, by limiting our stories of women's sport to one area, you are then actually reducing your audience base for those stories. I think, and we think, it is important that women's sports stories are shared with a broader and wider audience. I have one more question on LPOs and then I want to move to a couple of quick questions on another issue. I understand that previously if licensees were required to travel for a meeting—so these are little LPOs out in a small post office perhaps with not too many employees or hardly any, if any—the costs of employing a casual for that time period was borne by Australia Post. I have been advised that this has been changed unilaterally with no consultation. Can you advise if this is accurate and explain why? Mr Fahour: I will have Ms Corbett do that. One of the things that we did do—and you may remember because that was part of the discussions that we had over the last couple of years—is we have this thing called the representational allowance which we pay to our licensees so that when they go and represent the brand somewhere they have got a payment for that so they can use it. That has increased, but I will have Ms Corbett just give a bit more detail. Ms Corbett: I am not aware of any specific change to any of our policies but I am very happy to take that on notice. | 92.         | Aust Post                   | Senator Leyonhjelm | Business Letters        | Senator LEYONHJELM: In 1988 there was a competition policy review which recommended removal of the monopoly of Australia Post with respect to business letters and a limit of the remaining monopoly by allowing private operators, provided they charge at least double what Australia Post charge. Now, this is asking you to speculate a little bit but how would implementation of such a recommendation affect your business model? Mr Fahour: I am testing the history because obviously I joined in 2010 and I am not familiar with that. Senator LEYONHJELM: I have some more questions relating to business mail, so that is where I am heading with this. Mr Fahour: Maybe if I could take that on notice if you do not mind. Senator LEYONHJELM: It might not be necessary to come back to it. What I am interested in is to what extent does Australia Post rely on the revenue from business mail relative to other sources of revenue? Mr Fahour: I will say this. Our total letters business, the reserved services letters business in totality, now is just under 28 per cent of our total revenue, so what you can see is versus 1988, when the whole business was all about letters basically, today letters is a smaller part of our business and we are essentially a parcels e-commerce company. Secondly, within that the business mail is the majority of the letters that are sent because the majority of mail for us is bills and statements that we send under the reserved services business. Social mail, as we call it, is only three per cent of our letters. Senator LEYONHJELM: Understood. In 2011 the requirement for ACCC approval of increases in prices was limited to ordinary letter services, not business mail, so you could increase your letter services on business mail without requiring ACCC approval. So since 2011 have prices for business letters increased faster than the prices for ordinary letters? Mr Fahour: The price of business letters today versus ordinary letters today—and I will get you the | Page 53-54                                |

|             |                             |                |                              | exact mathematics of it—but there is no question that we have been trying to reduce the losses, because the majority of the mail is business mail by definition and we lose money. We have lost money every year since 2009 on letters. So the reality is that business customers have been getting a fairly substantial discount on the efficient cost, which is what the ACCC reviews, and what they are saying is that our efficient cost, the prices that we are getting from business customers gives them too big a discount for us to comply with the requirements of making a commercial rate of return. We are not making a commercial rate of return and still do not make a commercial rate of return. We do not even make a profit on that business mail. So, in effect, what has been going on in the last five years is that the taxpayer has been cross-subsidising businesses through us to send mail at a discounted price. Senator LEYONHJELM: I understand what you are saying. I am just trying to gather a bit of information here rather than suggest that you have not done anything appropriate so far. I interpret that to say the prices for business letters have increased faster than the prices for ordinary letters. Would that be right? Mr Fahour: No. I said I would come back to exactly the calculations. Senator LEYONHJELM: You will let me know. So, are you able to answer in respect of costs of business letters? Have they increased faster than the costs associated with ordinary letters? Mr Fahour: I am not prepared with the exact mathematics of that but, of course, I will take that on notice and I will provide you with the answer to that question. |   |
| 93.         | Aust Post                   | Senator Bushby | Delivery targets - Standards | CHAIR: Exactly that. There is a degree of relativity involved in it, so I just wanted to know what the standards are that you are actually trying to meet. Mr Fahour: I am pleased to say that our service standard that we met, when I gave you that target for this year, actually also had six months of the old standard and six months of the new standard. Our performance exceeded the 94 per cent in that old standard, in that first half, and exceeded the new standard in the second half. We met the expectation both ways, if I could say it like that, so I think that is hopefully a fair response to you. CHAIR: Yes. Mr Fahour: Now, of course, that standard varied in the second half of the year whereby what we said is we had two different products, we had the priority product and then we had the regular product, the priority product was actually the same as the original standard and we exceeded that original standard in the priority product. Of course in the regular, the new economy class one—the regular one is the new economy class—we exceeded that by miles because that, as you said, added an extra day or two or whatever in terms of how much time we had. But the reason why we added the days is that we made it a cheaper stamp. It is a bit like saying, 'Do you want a small cup of coffee, a medium or large?' If you want a small one it is cheaper. CHAIR: Yes. You do not want to have to pay for a large. Mr Fahour: You do not want to pay for large and also I am not wasting money by giving you a big  | Page 57                                   |

We do not direct people to deliberately go out of a particular region where an LPO normally gets it, to go all the way to a corporate and bypass the LPO to avoid payments. We do not do that. Senator XENOPHON: I am not talking about an intent but in practical terms, on notice, can you find out whether there has been a difference in the carding of parcels to a corporate office instead of an LPO? Mr Fahour: Fair enough. | 98.         | Aust Post                   | Senator Dastyari | Executive Pay – consideration to breakdown pay | Senator DASTYARI: You can take this on notice as I am conscious of time. At page 67—and this is not your own; this is the NBN and this is why I am asking you to take it on notice because you do not have this document—of the annual report of 2015-16 it outlines the senior executive pay of NBN officials and it starts with say W Morrow, who I assume is Mr Bill Morrow who will be here later today. The base salary is $2.35 million, a bonus of $1.2 million, superannuation contribution of $19,000—I am sorry, I think that is $190,000—$22,000 long service leave and the full amounts are there. I put to you that for the purpose of transparency I note that back in 2014 your annual report, while it did not name names, there was one executive who was paid between $4.6 to $4.63 million—and we can make our own assumption on who that was—and elsewhere it did not name names. Now, again, that is obviously a decision of nbn co to name names. People can deduce things otherwise but I would say to you that I think it would be worth considering, for the purpose of transparency. CHAIR: Can you frame that as a question? Senator DASTYARI: Would you take on notice whether Australia Post would consider, for the purpose of transparency, providing a greater breakdown of executive pay and salaries in the annual report? The second question I would say is that I think that that would make it a lot more transparent, particularly when you are about to engage in pay negotiations and an EBA agreement with 33,000 award employees who in the last round were given a three per cent pay increase. I will leave it at that. Mr Fahour: Thank you very much. | Page 66                                   |

I am after an answer on what those rigorous fact-checking processes are. Mr Sunderland: You would appreciate that they vary very much depending on the story and the circumstances. I am not in a position to describe precisely what happened with this particular story, but what I can tell you is that whenever any interviews are done on any subject matter then there is a range of things that you would do, depending on the circumstances, to satisfy yourselves that the person is who they say they are and that where you are able to substantiate facts and other  | Page 71 - 72                              |

Now, that will vary greatly depending on the information available to us, our ability to check information out direct hand, or to look at substantiating situations on what we are aware of and what is on the public record, so there is a range of things that happen. Senator HUME: So did the ABC approach the government of Nauru for comment? Mr Sunderland: I do not believe so but I would have to take that on notice to be absolutely sure. Obviously on many occasions in the past on this issue we have approached the Nauru government for information on a range of issues. On this particular story I do not believe we did. I believe that is because we felt the issues the story raised were particularly relevant to the Australian government, whom, of course, we did approach.       |   |

Do you think, in the interests of balance, it could and should have reported and used video of the new school facilities opened on Nauru in recent weeks? Mr Sunderland: What I would say is that that program last night told the stories of a number of individuals. That is the important part of that story. It told the story, the direct real-life experiences, of a particular group of people. Senator HUME: So my understanding is you were made aware of the video of the new school facilities and it was offered to the program but it was not used. Mr Sunderland: I am not aware of whether it was offered or not. I am also unaware of the extent to which it was relevant if what we are doing is telling the precise stories of those individuals, but I would have to take that level of detail on notice. | Page 72                                   |

When is the envelope for your three-year training funding up again? Mr Pendleton: We are in the first year of the new training. Senator DASTYARI: From my understanding of the funding that expired it was $1 million a year for this program. Mr Pendleton: I would have to check. It was done between trienniums and it was a grant of funds that was applied for for the Splash program. Senator DASTYARI: Do you know what the grant was off the top of your head? Mr Pendleton: I would have to check. Senator DASTYARI: I have got $1 million a year here. Does that sound about right? Ms Guthrie: I think we will take that on notice to be specific. Mr Pendleton: I can take it on notice. It was spent over a longer period. It was slower to get out the door and there was cash left over towards the end of it.                                 | Page 82                                   |

|             |                             | Dastyari          |  | about women's sport. The Australian Sports Commission review, which I am sure you are aware of, found that seven per cent of non-news programming on TV was devoted to women's sport. That level remains unchanged since 2010, which is obviously a concern. I just want to turn to the ABC's coverage of women's sport. I understand you have a lot of competing interests and a lot of competing balances all competing for the same pool of money. I do note that in the past few years since 2014 that the ABC has pulled back on some of its sports coverage and my understanding is that since 2014, in the absorption of funding cuts—and you can call it what you want; decreases in future funding or whatever you want to call them, but I call them funding cuts—the ABC has pulled back on some of its sports coverage. Is that a matter of fact? Ms Guthrie: That is true in relation to coverage of TV sports. Production of large sporting coverage is very expensive, as you know, as well as rights. Senator DASTYARI: Yes, and in addition to that, as part of that, obviously the overall cut in sports coverage also resulted in a similar cut in women's sports coverage. Is that correct? Ms Guthrie: I will have to take on notice the specifics around that but I can confirm that our live sports coverage on television has definitely decreased over the last few years. | 83                                 |

On the contents side of the business it has been more in the nature of realignment. I can, on notice, provide you with some of the details of the specifics but I have not got those here. Senator DI NATALE: If you would not mind just providing that on notice. In looking forward do you expect any reductions in any of those areas, drama, children's programs or documentaries, over the coming few years? Are you expecting reductions in the television budgets of any of those areas?   | Page 86                            |

Could you please take on notice how much Australian programming could have been created or repeated, including documentaries, if the ABC had invested in Australian rather than, for instance, British content over the last five to 10 years? Well, say in the last five years, how much has been spent acquiring programs coming out of other countries including, in particular, the UK? I have nothing against the UK but it seems to be where most of the programming comes from. Can you please take that on notice? Mr Pendleton: Yes, we will take it on notice. Ms Guthrie: Yes. Senator XENOPHON: Has the deal struck between the BBC and Foxtel in 2013 resulted in higher costs for the ABC? I am not sure whether it is an ABC publication. We do have an ABC Books arm so it may be an ABC book. We will take that on notice. Senator DUNIAM: That would be handy and also if there was a form of payment by the author. Mr Sunderland: There would not have been but I will look into the process around that choice. Senator DUNIAM: And then who made the decision for that book. I do not have it in front of me, but the letter— Senator O'NEILL: Could I ask you to provide that? Ms Keisler: I believe the department took it on notice this morning to provide it, so you will have it. If I can help, I will. Senator O'NEILL: If you can send that, it would be very helpful. I do not know whether it is his prerogative to decide that he is a bit upset and is going to put something out in the middle of a campaign period. Ms Keisler, how many drafts were there, in your view? Ms Keisler: I cannot recall. Senator O'NEILL: Ten, twenty, five— | Page 138                                  |

| 128.        | nbn                         | Senator Dastyari | Article during Caretaker – PMO contact | Senator DASTYARI: I do not think we will get to the bottom of this until we get the chairman before us, but that is a matter for another day. Minister, when you became aware of this—and, again, the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet may have separately done this, and it is their authority to do this—did you notify the Prime Minister's office? Senator Fifield: I will have to check. Senator DASTYARI: Your recollection, then, is that you personally did not, but your staff may have spoken, so you have to check. Senator Fifield: They may well have. I cannot be certain. Senator DASTYARI: I assume, Mr Morrow and Ms Keisler, that you have no contact with the PMO, the Prime Minister's office. You would go through your department and your minister. Correct? Ms Keisler: Correct. Senator DASTYARI: I assume there was no contact, simply from the fact that it was the previous minister. But there was no contact between you and the Prime Minister about this matter? Mr Morrow: No, there was not. Senator DASTYARI: Minister Fifield, I just want to be clear about this. Are you saying that from your recollection—you will check this—you yourself did not have contact with the Prime Minister's office, but you are checking whether or not anyone in your office had contact with the Prime Minister's office? Senator Fifield: I am not saying I did not. I just cannot recall. My office may well have. I would have expected, in the course of events, the Prime Minister's office would have been advised, just as a heads-up, that something was likely to appear. I would expect that would be the case. | Page 139                                  |

That is when you first became aware of it. The elements that Dr Switkowski has given is that it was raised at a board meeting on the 23rd. Did you want to review the evidence you have given? Mr Morrow: No, it has been quite consistent in what I have said and what the chairman just said— Senator DASTYARI: It is completely different. Mr Morrow: No, it is not. I am quite well aware of what I had said. The Sunday before is when the chairman had mentioned that we wanted to put an opinion piece out there, because he believed there were numerous misrepresentations about the company that were false and quite damaging to the company. In the board meeting on the next day he raised the issue for discussion with both Karina, who was in the board meeting for a particular agenda topic, and the rest of the board members. The opinion piece was put together within a couple of days after that, and, as we talked about in the last Senate hearing, that is when the PM&amp;C advice had taken place. Senator DASTYARI: I would strongly suggest you consider reviewing the evidence that you gave. I have that evidence in front of me; you do not have it in front of you. I will give you the opportunity to take this on notice and reflect on that. The information you gave to us is that you were made aware on the 25th and 26th. That, in my opinion, would fly very much in the face of having a discussion about it at a board meeting prior to that date. I do not think it is fair to put you in a position to deal with that right now, so I will give you an opportunity to reflect on the evidence you have given to this committee. Mr Morrow: I am happy to. Nothing has changed since the last testimony that I gave. | Page 925/11/2016                      |

They will likely see the fibre-to-the-kerb technology, and that will give them initially hundreds of megabits per second. With the upgrades of G.Fast we know that that will go up towards a gigabit per second. It is a great technology. It has many upgrade capabilities that are simple, easy and straightforward. Senator CHISHOLM: Is it possible, just with that group, to get a bit of a breakdown of where those locations are likely to be? Do not quote me on this, but I believe we have had roughly 300 or 400 qualified applications that have come through. There have been only 21 in total that have actually proceeded with this. When you look at the ones that have taken it, typically they are moving from fixed wireless to fibre to the premises. I think there are a couple now that have been from fibre to the node to fibre to the premises. We find that it is typically private schools that are willing to pay for this. I am not sure that that would be a correct statement, so we are happy to check, if that is what you would like. Senator URQUHART: Sorry. Can I just ask one thing? Mr Rue, you indicated that there was information on the website. Is that about the Medical Alarm Register or the alarm subsidy scheme? Mr Morrow: The register. Senator URQUHART: It is just that? Mr Rue: The registry. Senator URQUHART: So there is nothing about the subsidy on the— Mr Morrow: Correct. Senator URQUHART: Yes—I could not find anything. Senator DASTYARI: On the standard, Mr Morrow—and, again, I am not expecting you to be an expert on Australian standards—AS 4607 was the standard. It has not been updated since 1999. That was the last time that standard was updated, which was 17 or so years ago now. That was well before reliable smart technology was introduced into non-monitored alarms. My understanding of your scheme is it does not extend to non-monitored alarms. Mr Morrow: Again, I am not certain whether or not it is that particular document you are quoting   | Page 21-2225/11/2016                  |

Is that right? Senator DASTYARI: So the scheme was available from July? Mr Morrow: There was a form of policy that we had taken prior to that. Then, working with the industry and also in discussions with the department of communications, we concluded that earlier this year. Senator DASTYARI: Minister, were you aware before the implementation of the scheme or after? Senator Fifield: I would have to check. Senator DASTYARI: Okay. Mr Morrow, were you in touch with the department about what would be included in the scheme before or after the implementation of the scheme? Mr Morrow: I was not involved personally in it— Senator DASTYARI: Sure. Mr Morrow: but I can be certain that there were discussions before— Senator DASTYARI: So the department was advised. Was the minister's office advised, or the department, or how— Mr Morrow: Normally we rely on the department to have that communication with the minister's office, so it is possible that— Senator DASTYARI: So the department was consulted in the development of who is and who is not included in this—correct? Mr Morrow: I would think that is natural. I would like to have a chance to confirm that, but that seems reasonable. | Page 2325/11/2016                     |

I am sure there are many different types, but there seems to be two main types of technology. One type of technology is eligible for the subsidy scheme as it has currently been created. One type of technology is not. I am generalising here when I say that the nature of the two types of technology appears to be that the non-monitored type tends to be the cheaper of the two options. The anecdotal evidence is that perhaps that is the type that is used by those on lower incomes who are struggling, the type of people—and, again, I am making some broad assumptions here—who would be more in need of the assistance of a subsidy than others. Minister, on 13 October 2016 you were asked questions about this on a radio interview on FIVEaa in Adelaide with Mr Leon Byner and, at that point in time, you had a discussion with him about this. You have given evidence that you have also been aware of this as an ongoing issue. Is  | Pages 24–2525/11/2016             |

Australian standards are something that apply across a range of portfolios. In fact, I am not even sure that Standards Australia—and I stand to be corrected—is a government body. There are various standard-setting bodies— Senator DASTYARI: That was not where I was going with the question. Senator Fifield: so the government has not set the standard. NBN, across a range of internal NBN policies, consults with stakeholders, and the department of communications, obviously, is a stakeholder. Senator DASTYARI: Minister, have you called on or asked the NBN Co—and, again, I do not know where your powers do you do not lie on this—to extend the subsidy scheme to include non-monitored alarms? Senator Fifield: I have not asked NBN to do that. I have asked for information to better inform myself about how the scheme will operate. It is something I continue to seek advice on. In relation to some of the issues you have raised about the profiles of people who use different sorts of technologies, as I say, it is something that continues to be raised with me. It is something that I seek advice on. We are happy to come back to the committee with further information that addresses some of the questions you have raised. |   |

You can get a public credit rating and a private credit rating. A public credit rating is one that the credit agencies are happy for you to make public. But their requirement then is to continue to monitor the company, because, clearly, any outside body can use that credit rating as a way to make decisions. Therefore, the credit rating agencies want to have an ongoing monitoring arrangement with you. That is opposed to a private credit rating, which is clearly one that is kept between the rating agencies and the company and which is used for the company to make various decisions—in this case, to talk about debt. Senator DASTYARI: And it was on the request of the government? Mr Rue: It was on the request of government—yes. Senator DASTYARI: And when you say government, does that mean a request from Treasury? Minister, you might want to jump—when you say government— Mr Rue: I believe it was a request from both shareholder ministers. Mr Morrow: So it would be the Department of Finance and the Department of Communications. Senator DASTYARI: Minister, was this a cabinet decision or was it done at sub-cabinet level? Senator Fifield: It was a decision of government which was conveyed to NBN. Are you claiming public interest immunity? Senator Fifield: I am telling you the basis upon which the credit rating was provided. Senator DASTYARI: I am formally asking for the credit rating. Senator Fifield: If you are formally asking then we will take that on notice. Mr Morrow: I would remind the senator that, of course, we are allowed, within our agreement with the credit rating agencies, of keeping this private to share with our immediate shareholders. That agreement is, again, something between NBN and the credit rating agencies. Senator Fifield: I will take it on notice, because there are two shareholder ministers here. I have indicated to you the basis upon which it has been provided, but you have asked a question, so we will take that on notice. Senator DASTYARI: Mr Morrow, the point I would make is: it is up to the minister whether or not information is provided or not. There are grounds of public interest immunity that the minister, when in review, can or cannot take, and commercial matters fall within that. That is a matter for the minister. I do note, however, that contractual obligations are not prohibitive of people providing information | Page 4325/11/2016                     |

Then it is any incremental cost of building FTTN over what will be a satellite solution. Senator URQUHART: Was there any allocated for contingency? Mr Rue: Normally in these programs we would allocate a contingency. I think in this case it would have been just under 10 per cent, I would have thought. Senator URQUHART: So around 10 per cent, a little under. Mr Rue: I think it was nine, actually, to be precise, but I would have to check on that. | Page 4725/11/2016                     |

We are constantly testing and looking at various things. For example, even in the Cairns area, we did go out and run some tests on the network to see if there is any evidence of any congestion caused from the FTTN network itself, and the answer came back as no. If there is rain in an area that penetrated the copper cable, it will have an effect and it will slow down speeds but it will be constant on that, not just a busy period. That is a telling troubleshooting issue: if somebody is saying they are fine at noon but they have trouble at 6 pm when more people are going to be on the internet. In FTTN, that is more likely a question to ask the retailer about, 'Have you provisioned enough capacity to run through to deal with all of us as customers of the retailer,' because maybe they need to expand the CBC and maybe they need to build a bigger pipe that connects into our point of interconnect. Sometimes it is a modem of ours that is bad that needs replacing; sometimes there are other issues. Predominantly that is what we see if there is a congestion during a busy period that slows them down. Senator CHISHOLM: In relation to Cairns, could you take on notice to look to see if there any underlying problems there? Mr Morrow: We will. | Page 5725/11/2016                     |

For the week ending 24 November 2016 the NBN weekly report indicates there are 64,781 Premises at Service Class Zero. In Senate Estimates on 25 November 2016, Mr Morrow indicated the number of SC0 premises is around 10,000. Please explain the difference between Mr Morrow’s estimate of SC0 and the number reported in the weekly report.</li> <li>2. Could you outline how NBN deals with SC0? Does NBN have allocated resources to fix SC0 premises? Is there a team that returns to areas after the principal rollout or what is the approach?</li> <li>3.
