Question: SBT 75

Topic: Complaints regarding South Australian charities

Senator WRIGHT asked:

75. Senator WRIGHT: I am just wondering about football fatigue syndrome myself, before September! Can you tell me how many South Australian charities have been subject to complaints to the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission since it was established?

Ms Pascoe: I do not have that information. We would have to take that on notice.

Senator WRIGHT: Thank you for that. I have a feeling from the previous answers that I am going to be pushing my luck here, but would it be possible to tell who those charities are?

Ms Pascoe: No.

Senator WRIGHT: I see, I thought that might be the answer.

Answer:

75. Since the establishment of the ACNC on 3 December 2013, the ACNC has received 15 complaints regarding charities registered in South Australia.
