Department of Education and Training Question No. SQ17-000366

Senator Collins, Jacinta provided in writing.

Students with disability

Question

How many years will it take for the data to be reliable enough for the purposes of determining students with disabilities funding?

Answer

At its 16 December 2016 meeting, Education Council agreed in principle that the Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability should be one of a range of factors to inform policy and funding decisions for students with disability and to continue to work collaboratively to improve data quality and consistency.
