Department of Education and Training Question No. SQ17-000420

Senator Collins, Jacinta provided in writing.

Registration of graduate teachers

Question

How is the Department implementing the commitment that graduate teachers will be required to achieve registration at the proficient level within three years of full-time teaching? (p.10).

- Have states and territories agreed to implement this?
- What is the timeline for implementation?

Answer

In May 2016, the Australian Government's Quality Schools, Quality Outcomes policy document for school reform outlined a number of key areas for future focus. It was clearly outlined in the policy document that "consultation with states and territories, the non-government school sector, teachers, school leaders and the community will be central to the development of future schooling directions."

The Minister for Education and Training is undertaking this consultation through a range of mechanisms, including Education Council.
