Additional funding for students with disability measure

Question

Could you explain why the Victorian Government ($45.24 million), QLD Government schools ($25.05 million) and NSW Government schools ($19.55m) are receiving the largest amounts of extra SWD funding? (Figures from SQ16-000961)

Answer

Additional funding for students with disability has been provided to states, territories and sectors where a gap has been identified between the current funding provided through the students with disability loading and a model informed by the Nationally Consistent Collection of Data on School Students with Disability (the fact sheet at Attachment A refers).
