Senator O'Neill, Deborah asked on 04 June 2015, Proof Hansard page 22

Department's website

Question

Senator O'NEILL: Students First is Liberal Party policy. I have gone to the Australian government

Department of Education and Training website, for which the government is responsible, and this is what it says.

Senator Birmingham: That is fine. That is what it said. I have taken on notice to find out when this site was last updated. Maybe indeed that site needs to have a clear link off to the Students First website if that is the most up-to-date source of information the government is providing around parental engagement.

Answer

The information on parent engagement found on the department's website was last updated on 6 February 2015.
