QUESTION ON NOTICE
Budget Estimates 2015 - 2016

Outcome: Agency: TEQSA

Department of Education and Training Question No. SQ15-000533

Senator Carr, Kim provided in writing on 15 June 2015

TEQSA: student enrolments

Question

You have provided a list showing student enrolments by level of course at some private providers that do not otherwise publish this data. Is this list exhaustive? It seems to me that, for one, it doesn't include the Whitehouse Institute of design, which is TEQSA-registered? What other providers are not listed?

Answer

The Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA) has provided the following response.

The response previously provided by TEQSA listed data for providers which TEQSA collects through its annual Provider Information Request (PIR). TEQSA makes an annual request (the PIR) for targeted student data from some providers that do not currently report student data through the main national higher education collection managed by the Department of Education and Training.

The attached list includes the TEQSA data previously tabled as well as data for registered providers sourced from the Department of Education and Training's main national collection.
