Question

CSIRO Report - Tomorrow's Digitally Enabled Workforce

What action has the Department taken to respond to the findings made in the 2016 CSIRO report "Tomorrow's Digitally Enabled Workforce" – which I understand the Minister launched?

Answer

The Department has formed the Future of Work Champions which is a senior level inter-departmental meeting focused on policy issues related to the future of work.

The Committee considers and discusses research and analysis on issues relevant to changing work within Australia and internationally. This allows agencies to take account of all current research and analysis in the provision of policy advice to Government.
