Department of Education and Training Question No. SQ16-000852

Senator Collins, Jacinta provided in writing.

Data and modelling - School Resourcing Standard

Question

How close is the amount of per-student funding provided in the 2016 school year in each state, territory, and non-government system and non-systemic school to the School Resourcing Standard?

- o How close will this be at the end of 2017?
- o At the end of 2019?

Answer

Funding under the Australian Education Act 2013 (the Act) is determined at the Approved Authority (AA) level where an AA represents one or more schools. The Schooling Resource Standard (SRS) is based on total public funding only (that is, Commonwealth and state or territory recurrent funding).

The following table shows a theoretical estimate of the total public funding and Commonwealth funding as a projected percentage of the SRS for each approved authority in 2016 and 2017 if current arrangements under the Act and National Education Reform Agreement (NERA) were to continue.

The total public funding estimate assumes that state and territory funding has been provided as envisaged by the Act and NERA, however, only three states have signed bilateral agreements that commit to providing these funds.

For the current schools funding period (2014–2017) the Australian Government agreed to pay all states on the same basis as if they had signed bilateral agreements under the NERA to be fully participating in accordance with the Act. Projected SRS percentages are presented on this basis.

2019 allocations are subject to consultations with states and territories and the non-government school sector.

Notes on data:

1. Data is at the 2016–17 Budget.
2. Projected SRS percentages are sourced from departmental modelling and are based on data using the latest available actual information. Data is subject to change as final 2016 data becomes available about the student population.
