Answer

1. The department owns 1 property. This property is classified as an administered asset (i.e. the department is responsible for the land on behalf of the Commonwealth).
2. The department owns 1 property. This property is classified as an administered asset (i.e. the department is responsible for the land on behalf of the Commonwealth).
3. Australian Parliament House (APH) is located on the land identified above.
  - a. There is a wide range of occupants at APH which include Ministers and their staff, Senators and their staff, employees of the 4 parliamentary departments (Department of Parliamentary Services, Department of the House of Representatives, Department of the Senate and Department of the Parliamentary Budget Office), the press gallery, external contractors and commercial businesses. Occupancy levels vary significantly between sitting and non-sitting periods.
  - b. The current value of APH is $2.086 billion (as at 30 June 2013).
  - c. Contracts are in place in relation to the running and operational requirements of APH including security, cleaning, maintenance and catering services.
4. One building (APH) is owned by the department as outlined in the response to question 1 (above).

5. Name: Australian Parliament House (APH)
Owned/Leased: Owned (Administered)
Size (m2): 287,781 m2 (total) 90,347m2 (lettable)
Location: Capital Hill, Canberra (Block 2, Section 1)
Valuation: $2.086 billion (as at 30 June 2013)

6. The lettable area of APH is 90,347m2. This represents 31.4% of the total size of APH of 287,781m2. The Department does not measure the percentage occupancy levels of accommodation within Parliament House. All available accommodation is fully allocated to the work of the Parliament/parliamentary departments.
