Question:

Senator WONG: Do we have the APSC date yet?

Senator Abetz: Sorry, the APS?

Senator WONG: APSC report.

Senator Abetz: Look, I will have to take that on notice. I do not seem to have that information in the briefing folder.

Senator WONG: We are still waiting for someone to provide Ms Kelly with some assistance.

Ms Kelly: The way the question was asked was on what date did the Prime Minister seek a report from the Public Service Commissioner on the appointment of Mr Thawley, and my recollection of the events is that the department actually made that request of the Public Service Commission, and so—

Answer:

The proposed appointment of Mr Thawley as the Secretary of the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet was the subject of discussions between the former Secretary and the former Australian Public Service Commissioner in October 2014.

Section 58 of the Public Service Act 1999 provides that ‘before recommending to the Governor-General that a person be appointed as the Secretary of the Prime Minister’s Department, the Prime Minister must have received a report about the appointment prepared by the Commissioner.
