Question:

I note that since February the listing of grants on the Office's web site has been updated and a number of grants from 2013 are now listed.

However, I found the site difficult to use in that the initial list does not have details and you have to select each one individually to get the details of the grants. It is not possible to look at a list of complete details. The details have to be copied and compiled manually.

Is any consideration been given to improving the listing?

Can it be supplied in a form of report or spreadsheet form as DSS does for its community grants?

Answer:

The Grant listing on the Office for Women's Grant web page complies with the Commonwealth Grant Rules and Guidelines.
