1.	IGIS	Xenophon	Orders made by the International Court of Justice on 3 May 2014	IGIS	Senator XENOPHON: I am not trying to cause you discomfort. Would you be able to confirm the second part of that order—that is, the court's provisional measure (3), agreed to by 15 votes to one, which I read in part—and could you indicate, on notice, what the contents of that are. ... Senator Brandis: I will take that on notice.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 112	9/7/15
2.	IGIS	Xenophon	Former ASIS Officer – Passport	IGIS	Senator XENOPHON: For instance, is it the case that Witness K still does not have his passport returned? Is that the case? Senator Brandis: I would have to take that on notice. I do not know. I do not handle the return of passports.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 116	9/7/15
3.	ANAO	Ludwig	ANAO Staffing profile	ANAO	Senator LUDWIG: I was just trying to understand where the ANAO pressure points were with respect to its current staffing profile. Perhaps, in order to save time, you could take that on notice? Mr McPhee: I am happy to do so. Senator LUDWIG: The 2014-15 budget papers refer to an average staffing level of 349. However, this year's budget has a figure of 338 for 2014-15 growing back to 345 for 2015-16. On notice, can you provide an explanation for the fluctuation? Maybe, just so I can follow it, you can indicate whether it is full time equivalents or bodies—whichever you usually work in I am happy to receive your answer in. Mr McPhee: Yes, we will do that.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 121	2/7/15
4.	APSC	Bernardi	Industrial Action – Wage bargaining	APSC	CHAIR: Are you able to tell me the highest number of workers that have participated in any one protected industrial action, say in the Department of Human Services? Mr Lloyd: I do not have that figure at my disposal. CHAIR: Would you be able to obtain it on notice for me? Mr Lloyd: I will take it on notice, yes. CHAIR: Thank you. What about somewhere like the tax office? Or do you need to take that on notice too? Mr Lloyd: Yes, I would.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 125	9/7/15

			QoN 94		APSC and the Department of Finance to put offers before their employees. Is there an updated list of those available? Mr Lloyd: I can tell you that agreements have nominally expired in 115 APS agencies and that there are 91 APS agencies and 18 non-APS agencies currently bargaining. As of 21 May, I have approved 55 remuneration offers in 48 agencies. Of those, 24 have been tabled in bargaining. Senator LUDWIG: Can you provide a list of those? I am happy for you to take it on notice. Mr Lloyd: Yes.	page 129
6.	APSC	Ludwig	Enterprise Bargaining – QoN 94	APSC	Senator LUDWIG: In question on notice 94, you indicated that six agencies have approved offers but have not yet put them before their employees. Has that now been done? Mr Lloyd: I forget which six it was Senator LUDWIG: In that answer to question on notice 94 you indicated that six had gone before their employees—had gone to a vote or they were going to be put to the vote, I assume. So have they now all done so? Mr Lloyd: I would not think so because to my knowledge only three agencies have gone to a vote. Senator LUDWIG: So could I get the names of those six agencies and which ones have been put to the vote and then, by default, the remaining must be those which have not yet gone to the vote. Mr Lloyd: I have just been told four have gone to the vote. Senator LUDWIG: I am happy for you to take that on notice but I do appreciate the correction.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 129	9/7/15
7.	APSC	Ludwig	Enterprise Bargaining	APSC	Senator GALLAGHER: Do you have information about how many participated in the vote? Is that reported back to you as the central bargaining agency? Ms Foster: We do have those numbers, just not to hand. But we will see if we can get them for you. Senator LUDWIG: In addition to the two mentioned in question on notice 94, how many APS agencies have had their offers rejected by the APSC and the Department of Finance? Are you able to provide on notice a list of those, if any?	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 130	9/7/15

					Mr Lloyd: That is an iterative process. It is one where there is a communication back and forth between the agency and the APSC as the proposal has been developed. So it is very hard to say whether they are actually rejected. Senator LUDWIG: Perhaps if I rephrase it: those that are stalled in that process. Mr Lloyd: Okay, we will take it on notice. Ms Foster: I do not think there are any that I would categorise as stalled. We are in active discussion. Senator LUDWIG: That was my colour. I am happy to have the number that are still in the iterative process. Of all of those that we have been talking about, are we able to be provided a list of those offers where they include the 1.5 per cent mentioned by Senator Bernardi? Mr Lloyd: The one to human services? Senator LUDWIG: Yes. So how many include 1.5 per cent and how many include less than 1.5 per cent? Ms Foster: I think we can provide that on notice.
8.	APSC	Ludwig	Speeches	APSC	Senator LUDWIG: So you are not able to then say how many times, on what dates or at what events you have delivered speeches? Can you provide that to the committee? Mr Lloyd: I possibly could. ... Senator Cormann: If you think it is important, we will assist you with that information. I am sure there are many fine speeches that have been given by the commissioner since he has taken up his role.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 130	9/7/15
9.	APSC	Ludwig	Investigation into leaking of information regarding military pay	APSC	Senator LUDWIG: How much did the investigation cost? Was it an internal investigation? Mr Lloyd: I would have to take that on notice. Senator LUDWIG: I am happy for you to take that on notice. Ms Foster: It was an internal investigation. Senator LUDWIG: But it still would have had a cost to the APSC itself because you would have had to put officers to the work, I presume, to do the investigation. Senator Cormann: I think we have taken this on notice,	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, page 132	9/7/15

It sounds like very interesting and good work. I just would not mind having a bit of a breakdown of that, so that it does not look like you are spending $408,000 on 137 employees. It might be helpful to explain that story a little better. Mr Neave: Certainly. I am happy to do that.	FPA Monday 25 May 2015, pages 135 & 136	7/7/15

36.	Prime Minister and Cabinet	McLucas	Whitepaper on Northern Australia	Whitepaper on Northern Australia Taskforce	Senator McLUCAS: To be very clear, I am not asking: 'when did we know there was a vacuum for infrastructure in northern Australia'. Everyone has known that for a very long time. The question I am asking is: when did we come to a view that a concessional loan facility would be a solution? Senator Cormann: And that is exactly the question that I have taken on notice; to see whether we might be able to provide you with a precise date for that. 38.	Prime Minister and Cabinet	Wong	Whitepaper on Northern Australia	Whitepaper on Northern Australia Taskforce	Senator WONG: Was it an initiative of—did the Prime Minister request an NPP in the budget process, in this form? Senator Cormann: I have already taken on notice the question of when the idea was first considered by government. In that context, I am very happy to add to that response—to the extent we can if that information is readily available—who it was that first put the proposition on the table. Suffice to say, in this government there are orderly and methodical processes when it comes to the consideration of policy options, and they were applied in relation to this particular proposal. It went through the usual process—including getting authority from the Prime Minister—for a proposal like this to be brought forward in the context of our budget process. Senator WONG: Who sought the authority? Senator Cormann: I will take that on notice. That is the final report, and I am not sure what the terms and the conditions are—whether they have technically wound up now—but they are very close to winding up. Senator McLUCAS: So they have not actually wound up? Mr McDonald: I am not sure whether technically they are wound up, but their final report has been provided. Senator McLUCAS: It does actually say, if you go to the government board's website, it is part of the PM&C cabinet portfolio and functions in an advisory capacity, and then it says that everything is vacant—so it exists, but with no membership. It was writ large that the transaction was appropriate. The minister has actually requested that the ILC provide that advice to him. The ILC chair wrote to the Prime Minister almost two months ago that this seemed to be an extraordinary request because it potentially breaches the issue of legal privilege for us because we are potentially in litigation with former directors. 180.	Prime Minister and Cabinet	Siewert	IAS	Programme Implementation Taskforce	Senator SIEWERT: I still do not understand what happened, but we have time constraints. We can go into more detail later, but the most important thing now is to find out who the money is going to and what services are being funded. If you have provided this publicly, I apologise: I could not find it. Ms Black, when you answered the question before about the criteria, was that the criteria that was used for the funding decision-making process? Ms Black: I guess it was in the application kit—we went to very specific criteria for funding. Certainly when our assessment panels, our grant selection committee and our original assessment teams looked at it, they were looking at it from a front-line service delivery perspective. That was when we mapped services currently in an area and regional data, so we could inform ourselves of what were critical services in those areas. Senator SIEWERT: That were gaps. Ms Black: Yes. Senator SIEWERT: I might get you to take that criteria on notice, because I know we are going to run short of time. But I think we could do that as they get finalised. Senator McLUCAS: Is it sensible to ask for a list by, say, the end of next week? Or is that too early? Ms Carroll: I would suggest probably at the end of the following week. In the next two weeks we will get most of them back, signed. And perhaps, without verballing you, Senator, you are asking, 'Do you have that thing in place?' Perhaps you could provide those processes on notice. But I am aware that, across all of the land councils, there are mechanisms. Most of the land councils actually have those, because the leadership is also involved in other business arms after they have leased this out. I am not demanding or requesting an answer immediately. Looking at the objects of the act about whether agencies are acting consistently with Australia's international obligations, that includes a number of factors. If there is an allegation that a certain operation by ASIS or ASIO was not lawful but, on the face of it, there was a finding by the Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security that there was no issue with the legality or the lawfulness of that particular operation, but there is a contrary, cogent view that has been expressed, is that something that you would look into under the objects of the legislative framework that has appointed you? Mr Gyles: I rather doubt that one instance would be enough to make that a focus. ... Senator XENOPHON: No, I am not asking a question on merits; I am just trying to establish whether or not, if a person has a complaint about the conduct of IGIS, Mr Gyles as the Independent National Security Legislation Monitor has jurisdiction to look at those matters. I obviously have not got our pre-election costings document here with me, but I can send you about one dozen transcripts of interviews that I gave personally in the lead-up to last election, where I explicitly referenced this as a key part of our policy. When we were questioned on how we would fund it, there were obviously various components to it—the temporary paid parental leave levy and various other components. But one of the savings that was built into the system that we took the last election was that we would stop public servants from accessing two taxpayer funded schemes, and that was part of the conversation very explicitly in the lead-up to last election. Senator GALLAGHER: I must have missed that in terms of a specific focus on public servants. Senator Cormann: I see Senator Wong shaking her head.
