

Senate Finance and Public Administration Legislation Committee
ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ON NOTICE
SUPPLEMENTARY BUDGET ESTIMATES 2013

Prime Minister and Cabinet Portfolio

Department/Agency: Australian Public Service Commission

Outcome/Program: 1.1

Topic: APS voluntary redundancies

Senator: Seselja

Question reference number: 154

Type of question: Hansard, FPA, Monday 18 November 2013, p. 131

Date set by the committee for the return of answer: 17 January 2014

Number of pages: 5

Question:

Senator SESELJA: Mr Sedgwick, I will just refer you to the number of reports in recent months—particularly here in the ACT—about voluntary redundancies within the Public Service. Are you able to talk us through your understanding of that, in terms of how many agencies and departments have initiated voluntary redundancy programs this year? Mr Sedgwick: I do not have a comprehensive list. I am quite happy to take that question on notice.

Senator SESELJA: Is it your understanding that it is a widespread practice across agencies in the Public Service?

Mr Sedgwick: There are a number of agencies that need to live within their budget. In order to live within their budget, there are times when they need to reduce staff. If, as has happened, the level of resignations has fallen—it has been falling for the last few years—then agencies will often find themselves in a position where they will offer voluntary redundancies. But I just do not have the number off the top of my head, so I am quite happy to take it on notice.

Senator SESELJA: In taking that on notice, could you also come back with not only a number of agencies but the number of VRs in the last financial year plus this financial year to date?

Mr Sedgwick: We cannot separately identify VRs from other retrenchments; but, subject to that caveat, yes.

Senator SESELJA: So to the extent that you can break it down or provide them.

Mr Sedgwick: To the extent that we can do it, yes.

Answer:

Between 1 July 2012 and 30 June 2013 there have been 2,679 retrenchments<sup>1</sup> across 70 departments and agencies.

Between 1 July 2013 and 30 November 2013 there have been approximately 832 retrenchments across 49 departments and agencies. Data from 1 July 2013 to 30 November 2013 (Attachment B) are unofficial figures as:

- 10 agencies have not submitted their data up to and including 30 November 2013.
- Machinery of Government moves are still being finalised.
- The data has not been subjected to the full range of quality assurance and verification checks that are instituted bi-annually.

<sup>1</sup> When an employee employed under the Public Service Act 1999 is identified as excess to the requirements of the agency and is terminated under section 29(3)(a) of the Act, this type of separation action is known a retrenchment.
