1	AG	Ministry for the Arts	Singh	National Cultural Policy - breakdown of $8.6 million additional funds	Senator SINGH: Regarding the $8.6 million in additional funds that you have as part of the National Cultural Policy, can you provide the committee with a breakdown of how that funding is being allocated? Ms Menzies: Yes. Seventy-one organisations have been funded through our matched funding program in almost every state and territory—not the ACT, I am afraid. The other programs include the mentoring program. There is a crowd funding program that has not been released yet. The mentoring program was released last week. The micro-investment program was released last week. Senator SINGH: Sorry, do you have funding amounts for each of these programs—a breakdown of the $8.6 million? Ms Menzies: No, not today. I can provide that for you, though. Senator Brandis: We will take that on notice, Senator	L&C 9 .
2	AG	Ministry for the Arts	Macdonald	Australian Business Arts Foundation Creative Partnership financial statements - $1.2 million budget deficit	CHAIR: ... I note from your annual report—I acknowledge you were only commenced in February 2013—that for the year ending 30 June 2013 there was a deficit of $1.2 million. How do we deal with that? Obviously there is a contingency not to have that sort of deficit after three or four months of operation. Mr Wilkins: Could I get you to point me— CHAIR: It is on page 2 of the Australian Business Arts Foundation Creative Partnerships financial statements to 30 June—last paragraph. Mr Wilkins: This is a question to Creative Partnerships Australia, which I think is separate from the department. I do not know that Ms Menzies has those figures. Do you? Ms Menzies: I do not have those figures, but I can answer in	L&C 11 .

					general terms, which are that we inherited the budget of both predecessor organisations, so we came in with a deficit. I do not think it was $1.2 million, but I cannot talk to that specifically without that in front of me. But we inherited a certain budget situation that we then had to deal with as best we could for the remainder of that financial year. Senator Brandis: Heaven forfend that we would have found yet another deficit inherited from the previous government, Senator Macdonald! In any event, we will take that question on notice. CHAIR: It is there in the annual report. Ms Menzies, you are from Creative Partnerships Australia? Ms Menzies: Yes. CHAIR: And it is your report? Ms Menzies: Yes. CHAIR: I understand now how you got that deficit, but I am interested in what you are going to do about it. Obviously the agency cannot run at a loss as it has done initially. But you will take that on notice. Ms Menzies: Yes.
3	AG	Ministry for the Arts	Singh	Merrepen Arts Centre future funding	Senator SINGH: Okay. I have a question about the Merrepen Arts centre funding. You may be aware that the Merrepen Arts centre is renowned for its fabrics. There have been both opposition and coalition MPs and senators that have worn such fabrics. But their funding was in a cloud of doubt at the end of last year. Are you able to update the committee on the future funding for the Merrepen Arts Centre? Mr Grybowski: I'll have to take that question on notice. They are not a key organisation. CHAIR: That is a good answer. Thank you. We will go to Senator Singh for Screen Australia.	L&C 13

4	AG	National Archives of Australia	Xenophon	Section 36 certificates	Senator XENOPHON: Welcome. I acknowledge the National Archives as a critical repository of the nation's memory. Could you, given the very limited time, indicate how you interact with researchers, government departments and the broader community? In particular, how do you respond to access groups? Are there other groups from whom you receive access requests apart from those three? Mr Fricker: It is a fairly broad question. Senator XENOPHON: Because I only have a few minutes, you may want to take that on notice. But you understand I just want to set the context of the questions I am asking you. Mr Fricker: Yes. [...] Senator XENOPHON: I will put some of these questions on notice. In terms of a section 36 certificate, could you indicate how often they have been issued in the last five years and give examples? Mr Fricker: For the statistics that you are after I might need to take that on notice to accumulate those statistics over the last several years. The process of a section 36 certificate—I do not know if the Secretary of the Attorney-General's Department may wish to— Mr Wilkins: I cannot illuminate you on that. CHAIR: I think it might be better taken on notice. Senator XENOPHON: Could you take it on notice? Mr Fricker: I will take it on notice because it is a technical legal procedure. I will be delighted to take that on notice and provide a fulsome response.	L&C 15&16
5	AG	National Archives of Australia	Xenophon	Waiting period for documents requested	Senator XENOPHON: I want to go to the issue of a waiting period for people wanting documents. Can you give a sense of how long that waiting period is? Mr Fricker: At the moment, it is a major issue for the National Archives that we have accumulated a backlog of some 20,000 applications for access.	L&C 16

Senator XENOPHON: Did you say 20,000?

Mr Fricker: I did. There are 20,000 records awaiting examination so that they can be opened under the Archives Act. Within the broader context of several million applications or requests for access that we receive each year—and five million of those dealt with our material which is already online and digitised, delivered very efficiently through online channels as it should be—over and above that we receive annually about 43,000 applications for files which have not yet been examined for access under the Archives Act. I think that last year, out of those 43,000, we were able to open about 40,000. So the maths is quite simple here: there were 3,000 which were over and above our capacity to respond.

Senator XENOPHON: Okay. I may want to ask you to take that on notice again. I have terrible time constraints on this and want to get through to some other pertinent issues. Under the act you have a 90-day period to process applications for access to government files. Can you indicate on how many occasions that 90-day benchmark was met or not met? You may want to take that on notice.

Mr Fricker: I will take it on notice to give you a percentage, but perhaps I will return to the heart of the question. The overall statistic looks quite good; 90-plus per cent of our applications are responded to within that 90-day period. But, given the immense volumes of requests that we get, the quantum of applications that do go beyond the 90-day period is quite significant. We have devoted an area of our website now to provide public scrutiny of how we are doing eroding that backlog. We are making progress. I have diverted for the Archives significant resources in the last several months to set up a task force to focus on that backlog. We are entering into refreshed agreements with all the government agencies we work with to clear that backlog. It is an area of intense activity within the Archive.

6	AG	National Archives of Australia	Xenophon	Policies for accessing diplomatic cables	Senator XENOPHON: Would you say that Australia's access policies for diplomatic cables are more liberal than, say, the British archives or the US archives? Mr Wilkins: What standard have you got in mind? Senator Brandis: That is a pretty broad question. Senator XENOPHON: Yes it is. I will give an example to the Attorney. For instance, the US Department of State has a prime motive on their own initiative program of declassifying diplomatic cables. Do we have that standard or benchmark? Mr Fricker: As I explained earlier, of the several million access requests that we get, the overwhelming majority of which are resolved well within the 90-day period, 43,000 applications are received, 40,000 of which are opened within the 90-day period. Senator XENOPHON: The question was: does the National Archives have a similar practice to the US Department of State's proprio motu—I am afraid my Latin is a bit rusty—on their own initiative program? Senator Brandis: It is proprio motu. Senator XENOPHON: I am very grateful to you, Senator. I last did Latin about 40 years ago and I conveniently forgot it. That is the question. You may wish to take it on notice. Mr Fricker: We will take that on notice.	L&C 17
7	AG	National Archives of Australia	Seselja	Accommodation requirements and current leases	Senator SESELJA: I am interested in getting an update on the accommodation requirements of National Archives. I understand the current lease on the Tuggeranong facility you have is due to expire in 2017. Is that correct? Mr Marsden: That is correct. Senator SESELJA: What arrangements are being put in place in terms of either an expansion or extension of that lease or a new facility in that area? Mr Marsden: Our intention is to look for a new facility in the ACT region, and we are currently in a tender process at the expression of interest stage to look at that. We are	L&C 17

					coordinating the timing of that so that we can consolidate our holdings into that new repository. Senator SESELJA: You have the Mitchell facility as well. When does that expire? Mr Marsden: Can I take that on notice? Senator SESELJA: Sure. Is it around the same time or is it a longer lease? Mr Marsden: It should be longer, but I will take it on notice rather than guess the answer. Senator SESELJA: Remind me: roughly how many square metres does the Tuggeranong facility cover? Mr Marsden: I can give it to you in shelf kilometres but not in square metres. I do not have that. Senator SESELJA: Perhaps you can take that on notice. Is the intent to bring what is currently housed in the Mitchell facility and the Tuggeranong facility all into one or are we also talking about the other one, in Queen Victoria Terrace? What are you looking to consolidate into one? Mr Marsden: It is the repository holding. We were basically looking to consolidate digital archive for repository holdings from Greenway, and we are being quite open with the Greenway landlord on that issue. The existing Mitchell site is currently out for tender at the moment, and we are looking at 75 shelf kilometres equivalent to basically refurbish. That could be at any other site. It could be at the existing Mitchell site or at any other site in the ACT. The new site will accommodate the bulk of the holdings, but not all holdings going forward.
8	AG	National Archives of Australia	Ludwig	Cabinet documents and minutes deposited to Archives	Senator LUDWIG: Thank you. Mr Fricker, can you remind me whether you hold cabinet documents and cabinet minutes? Mr Fricker: That is correct. Senator LUDWIG: And you hold them in a secure location in the National Archives? Mr Fricker: Once they are deposited in the Archives from	L&C 18&19

					the controlling agency, the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet, then we hold them in secure— Senator LUDWIG: What date have they been deposited up to, if that makes sense? Mr Fricker: I will have to take on notice the years of cabinet documents that have already been deposited with the Archives. That was the question you asked? Senator LUDWIG: Yes. Mr Fricker: I will have to take that on notice. The requirement of the Archives Act is that, within 15 years of the end of their administrative use, they are deposited with the Archives. So, after administrative use of records, there is a lag of some years before they are in fact, deposited with us. So I will have to take that on notice, Senator. Senator LUDWIG: Is it usual for it to be around 10 or 15 years? I am asking you to search your mind. Mr Fricker: It is across the board with Commonwealth records, but with cabinet records I would have to take that on notice and just make sure that I answer that question Senator LUDWIG: And you are perfectly right about that. So, to your recollection, there have not been any cabinet documents of recent origin—the last 12 months or two years or three years—that have been deposited. The previous government's records would not be with you at the moment; they would remain with PM&C? Mr Fricker: I believe so. That is correct. Senator LUDWIG: Thank you.
9	AG	Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program / Civil Law Division	Carr and Ludwig	Cost of the Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program	Senator KIM CARR: We will come back to that. What is the cost of this royal commission? Ms Glanville: The government has allocated $20 million. Senator KIM CARR: On what basis is that calculation made? Ms Glanville: With any particular calculation, departments—and AGD is the coordinating department—prepare estimates	L&C 21&22 of the costs of the commission. They would be provided to the government for consideration.

Senator KIM CARR: But the budget at this stage is $20 million?

Ms Glanville: That is right.

Senator KIM CARR: How much of that will go to lawyers?

Mr Wilkins: It depends what you mean by lawyers. The royal commissioner is a lawyer, obviously.

Senator Brandis: Do you mean legal representatives or do you mean everybody involved in the royal commission who may happen to be a lawyer, Senator Carr?

Senator KIM CARR: I mean the actual legal costs associated with the royal commission.

Senator Brandis: With respect, that is a vague question. Arguably the entire royal commission is—

Senator KIM CARR: It is made up of lawyers.

Senator Brandis: an exercise of a legal power under the Royal Commissions Act.

Senator KIM CARR: How much will go to King & Wood Mallesons?

Senator LUDWIG: Perhaps it would be easier if we asked the department to break it down—to break it down into that which is—

Senator Brandis: It might be helpful if we took this on notice and we gave you a breakdown.

Senator LUDWIG: Break it down into how you will pay Mr Hanger QC, how you will then apportion costs for the solicitors Mallesons et al, how you will determine the rate for people assisting the commissioner's work and how much you have spent already. I think you understand what I am asking for.

Mr Wilkins: I think we need to be very careful not to pre-empt the commission itself—the way it deals with its budget. We can give you some rough estimates about what money

					may be spent on legal representation, but we do not want to pre-empt the commission in how it uses its budget. Senator LUDWIG: I am not asking you to do that. I am simply saying that, to date, they would have expended money. CHAIR: I think it has been indicated that it will be taken on notice, which seems to be the best— Senator Brandis: We will take it on notice. Chair: I am going to Senator Ludlam Senator Brandis: Before you do, Chair, to paraphrase Senator Ludwig: what we will do, to the extent we can, is give you a breakdown of allocated costs as of today—historical costs as of today. Senator LUDWIG: Yes, thank you. Senator KIM CARR: If we could have the disbursements and the office's administrative services staff built into that—is that possible? Mr Wilkins: We will see if we can do that. As I said, I am a bit wary of pre-empting the commission itself. Senator KIM CARR: You might want to look at precedents here too. If my memory is correct, for the Cole commission this information was provided. CHAIR: The witnesses will take that on notice. I am afraid we have to move on.
10	AG	National Security Law Policy Division	Ludlam	AGD work on data retention	Senator LUDLAM: I think the chair has been pretty clear. Some of the questions I want to put to you collectively are probably better dealt with under 'national security', so I will come back a little bit later in the morning. But I have one for you, Mr Wilkins. Can you update us on what work the department has done on data retention and matters attendant on that since the election? Mr Wilkins: No, I cannot do that off the top of my head. I think I will have to take that on notice. Senator LUDLAM: Are you aware of any work at all having been done?	L&C 22

					Mr Wilkins: No, I will take it on notice. Senator LUDLAM: Is there anybody at the table or in the room who can deal with this? Mr Wilkins: No, I do not think so. We will take it on notice. Senator LUDLAM: You do not need to check? Mr Wilkins, how long will it take for you to identify if there is anything you would like to tell us? Mr Wilkins: I will do it as soon as I can, actually. Senator LUDLAM: If we could come back to it later today, that would be good. Mr Wilkins: It will take more than today. I do not— Senator LUDLAM: Just to establish whether any work is being done. Mr Wilkins: I am conscious of the fact that I do not want to give you a half-baked answer— Senator LUDLAM: Because there is a bit of a history of that regarding this matter, in particular. Mr Wilkins: You have said that, not me. Senator LUDLAM: There is a history of questions being— Senator Brandis: That is a very unfair reflection on the department. Senator LUDLAM: In this particular matter of data retention I have put questions that have then had to be repeated for corrections, clarifications and contradictions provided on notice, so I do not think it should take more than a day to establish whether the department has done any work in this area. To me that seems a little unreasonable. Mr Wilkins: I will do it as soon as I can.
11	AG	Royal Commission into Institutional Response to Child Sexual Abuse	Macdonald	Royal Commission into Institutional Response to Child Sexual Abuse: Associated costs	Ms Glanville: In terms of the department's staffing, the numbers have slightly reduced. We have had a voluntary redundancy round, and there has also been some natural attrition. I am happy to get the exact figure for you in relation to the department's staffing. The figures that would appear in the additional estimates indicate some increase in overall	L&C 23&24

					staffing. That relates to the Defence Abuse Response Taskforce and the royal commission's staff, as well. CHAIR: The royal commission's staff are additional. Is that what you are saying? Mr Wilkins: It is included as part of our departmental staff, even though it is obviously separate. In those papers it is included as part of the department's staff. Ms Glanville: That is for two royal commissions: the sexual abuse royal commission and the home insulation program royal commission. And, of course, another royal commission has been announced— ... CHAIR: The achievements of this royal commission (into child sexual abuse) cannot of course be judged in money terms. It is a very important commission and if something comes out of it that addresses the issue and the problem it will be well worthwhile. Without going to too much trouble, I am wondering about the sort of questions that Senator Ludwig, I think, asked you about another royal commission in relation to costs. If you have it now we will take it. Otherwise I will put it on notice. Ms Dines: I do have a breakdown of costs, but, as was mentioned before, it is a little difficult to separate. There is almost a legal element involved in all staffing, so I think it would be better if— CHAIR: There is almost a legal what? Ms Dines: There is a legal cost element involved in almost every aspect of what we do, so I think it would be better to take that question on notice.
12	AG	Ministry for the Arts	Macdonald	Stakeholders farewell events post-election – costs borne by the taxpayer	CHAIR: I have heard that, when the previous minister left, there were a series of parties thrown by various stakeholders. Do we have any details of them? Are there any costs that came back to the taxpayer as a result of those, or would I have to ask the individual agencies?	L&C 25

					Senator Brandis: Mr Wilkins might know. I do not know about such parties. Were they parties celebrating the departure of the former government? Or were they nice farewell functions for the outgoing minister? CHAIR: I suspect the latter, from what I have heard. Senator Brandis: There were certainly, as you will well remember, parties the length and breadth of the land to celebrate the departure of the former government. CHAIR: But they were not paid for by the taxpayer. Senator Brandis: No. CHAIR: Or not by the corporate taxpayer. Mr Wilkins, is it possible to get that sort of information? I hear that there were a number of parties across Australia where quite considerable money was spent by members of some of the arts communities in wining and dining the former minister. That is fine—if he has done a good job and they were appreciative, that is great. I am just interested in whether there were such parties that were a cost to the budget. If there were parties and there was no cost to the budget, it is of no interest to me whatsoever. But I would be interested if you have that information or, if not, if you could take it on notice. Mr Wilkins: As you would appreciate, I was not in charge of the arts at that point in time, so I have no knowledge of that directly at all and at this stage I do not have any indirect knowledge. So I think it is probably better if I take your question on notice.
13	AG	Corporate Division	Macdonald	Stakeholders farewell events post-election – costs borne by the Department	CHAIR: Mr Wilkins, thank you for taking it on notice, but did you subsume the budgets of the agencies or the Office of the Arts that happened before the administrative arrangements changed? Are you the one to ask? Mr Wilkins: Yes, I think that is legitimate. I am now responsible for what would have been the budgets at that point in time.	L&C 25

					CHAIR: I would be interested to know whether the department did anything—I suspect not. I have heard that some of the arts agencies had parties—that I was not invited to. I would be interested to know whether any noticeable taxpayer money was spent on that. Senator Brandis: We will take that on notice.
14	AG	Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program	Carr	Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program – funding	Senator KIM CARR: Mr Wilkins, you indicated earlier that the budget allocation for the royal commission into the home insulation scheme was $20 million. In MYEFO, it was a figure of $12.2 million. Has the budget blown out by $8 million already? Ms Glanville: The $20 million includes the allocations for Commonwealth representation and support for witnesses before the commission. Senator KIM CARR: But in MYEFO it was $12.2 million—is that true? Ms Glanville: That is the monetary amount that has been allocated to the commission itself. But in addition to that amount, to reach the $20 million, there are costs for Commonwealth representation and for witnesses as well. Senator KIM CARR: Did you say a monthly amount? Ms Glanville: No. The overall cost of the commission that has been allocated to date is $20 million. The figure you are referring to, from the additional estimates book, is the amount the royal commission itself has; the costs related to representation by the Commonwealth; and also the costs that go to witnesses or others, including the attendance at the commission of the families of the deceased. That brings the total figure up to $20 million. Senator KIM CARR: Why wasn't that extra $8 million allocated in the MYEFO statement? Ms Glanville: I might have to take that on notice or ask our financial— Senator Brandis: It may be that that is a question for the	L&C 26

					Department of Finance. The accounting practices that are adopted by the central agencies in expressing various amounts in the MYEFO and in the additional estimates statements are no doubt the reason why a distinction was made, as Ms Glanville has tried to explain to you, between the $12.5 million, which is the correct figure that was specified to be the cost of the royal commission—that is, the operation of the royal commission, as it were—and the additional figure, which is the cost of legal representation and so on, which was evidently accounted for elsewhere.
15	AG	Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program / Civil Law Division	Carr	Hourly rate for Counsel assisting the Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program Salary of the Commissioner Cost of AGD staff providing administrative support to the Royal Commission	Senator KIM CARR: Can you tell me what the hourly rate will be for the counsel assisting the royal commission? Ms Glanville: No. I would have to take that on notice. Senator Brandis: I am not sure that the counsel assisting is being remunerated on an hourly rate basis or a per diem basis. Senator KIM CARR: What payments are being made to the counsel assisting? Ms Glanville: As I said, I would have to take that on notice. Senator KIM CARR: And what is the commissioner being paid? Ms Glanville: I would also have to take that on notice. Senator KIM CARR: How many staff of the Attorney-General's Department are now working on this particular commission? Senator Brandis: No staff of the Attorney-General's Department, as I understand it, are working on the commission, but staff from the Attorney-General's Department are providing administrative support to the commission. Senator KIM CARR: How many? Ms Glanville: Around 11. Senator KIM CARR: What is the total cost for the 11? Ms Glanville: I would have to take that on notice as well.	L&C 26

16	AG	Corporate (Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program and Royal Commission into Institutional Response to Child Sexual Abuse)	Carr	Offsets between Royal Commissions	Senator KIM CARR: Are you able to tell me whether there are any other costs associated with the royal commission that the government will have to pay? [...] Senator KIM CARR: Has there been any offset in any other royal commission, for instance? Senator Brandis: No. Senator KIM CARR: So there has been no that money that was previously allocated for the royal commission into institutional responses to child sexual abuse? Senator Brandis: It has been absorbed by the department itself, I am told. I will ask Ms Glanville to answer that question. As I understand it, no money has been taken away from anywhere else, but there was an underspend that was reallocated. CHAIR: Would it be better to take that on notice? Ms Glanville: I think we will if that is okay. ... Senator KIM CARR: When was the underspend? Senator Brandis: All these questions, because we want to be sure that we give you a full and accurate answer, will be taken on notice. Senator KIM CARR: When was the underspend identified and for what period? Senator Brandis: We will take that on notice. Senator KIM CARR: How much was the underspend? Senator Brandis: We will take that on notice.	L&C 26&27
17	AG	Strategy and Delivery Division	Ludwig	Cost and installation of the AG's bookshelf	Senator LUDWIG: I want to go to question 36 which was asked at estimates last time. What was the amount of co-funding from this department for the installation of the bookshelf? Mr Wilkins: I will have to take that on notice. Senator LUDWIG: I am sure you can get it today and come back to us.	L&C 28&29

Mr Wilkins: I will get it today.

Senator LUDWIG: Did you receive any other requests for the co-funding of the bookshelf—in other words, outside of the request from the Department of Parliamentary Services?

Mr Wilkins: I am not quite sure what you are talking about.

Senator LUDWIG: I will say it again more clearly. The Department of the Senate, you say, phoned you out of the blue and said, 'Can you'—

Mr Wilkins: They did not phone me out of the blue.

Senator LUDWIG: What did they say?

Mr Wilkins: I do not know whether it was out of the blue. What do you mean by 'out of the blue'?

Senator LUDWIG: You did not ask for the phone call.

Mr Wilkins: No.

Senator LUDWIG: So they phoned you. What was the nature of the conversation took place?

Mr Wilkins: Basically, whether we could contribute to the cost of a bookcase.

Senator LUDWIG: How much did they ask for, at that point?

Mr Wilkins: I do not recall. That is what I just said I would take it on notice.

Senator LUDWIG: Was it a percentage—half the bookshelf installation cost?

Mr Wilkins: I cannot recall. I think was about 50 per cent.

Senator LUDWIG: You will take that on notice and provide that to the committee?

Mr Wilkins: Yes, I will.

Senator LUDWIG: Did they then indicate how that would be installed—any other process? Or, simply, you are going to provide costs?

Mr Wilkins: I got my assistant to take care of this. I do not normally worry about that type of stuff about bookshelves.

Senator LUDWIG: Someone obviously thought you would.

They phoned you about it.

Mr Wilkins: I will take that on notice.

CHAIR: This is not good enough, Mr Wilkins! I think you as the secretary of the department should be intimately aware of such important expenditure in your department!

Mr Wilkins: Chair, I apologise!

Senator LUDWIG: If someone is going to take the time to phone you, Mr Wilkins, about the installation of a bookshelf, then someone takes it very seriously.

Mr Wilkins: Indeed, and I had a discussion. It was clearly a matter that was of enough importance for the secretary to ring me up, and I discussed it. We reached a decision on the matter and I will let you know exactly what that was—I will take it on notice—and then it was left up to other people to deal with the details of that matter, which is normally the way in which decision-making works.

Senator Brandis: out of the blue or not. Can I add, with a little trepidation about putting my toe in the water here—

Senator LUDWIG: Feel free, Senator Brandis.

Senator Brandis: I suspect the reason that Mr Wilkins has never been asked about a bookcase before is that until now the Attorney-General's office has always been fully equipped with extensive shelving. But I am the first Attorney-General since this Parliament was built to be in a Senate office. What I asked for were the same facilities as had always been uncontroversially provided to every other Attorney-General—Labor and Liberal—who happened to be in an office on the House of Representatives side of the building.

Senator LUDWIG: Do we know, Mr Wilkins, whether the fitting or fixture of the bookshelf is removable—for when Senator Brandis leaves that office?

Mr Wilkins: My understanding is that it is.

Senator LUDWIG: Perhaps you could take it on notice.

					Senator Brandis: I can answer that question, because I asked that it be removable and I asked that it be constructed at the cheapest price consistent with the standards of the building. Senator LUDWIG: When did you make that request and in what form did you make that request? Senator Brandis: Late last year. Senator LUDWIG: And to whom? Senator Brandis: I think the request was made on my behalf by my staff, but I made it clear that I wanted to ensure, in view of some remarks that Senator Conroy had made, that whatever was installed was demountable, as it were, and that the construction be as inexpensive as possible consistent with the standards of the building. Senator LUDWIG: Perhaps you could take on notice the form of that request. If a copy of that email or letter is made available to the Department of Parliamentary Services— Senator Brandis: I do not know whether those of my staff who dealt with the matter dealt with it orally or by email or letter, but we will have a look.
18	AG	Access to Justice Division	Macdonald	Cost of the Review into the Efficiency of and Cost-effectiveness of all four Australian government funded legal assistance programs (Allen Review)	CHAIR: Is the government aware of this report yet, Minister? Senator Brandis: Yes, this is the Allen review? CHAIR: It has not been publically released, but it has been released to the government? Mr Fredericks: It is well known to the government and it is under consideration. Senator Brandis: Mr Fredericks, Mr Wilkins and I spend an enormous amount of our time discussing access to justice issues, I think it is fair to say. Mr Fredericks: Correct. CHAIR: So we mere mortals would expect to read that shortly? Mr Fredericks: Ultimately that is a matter for government, but it ought be in the near future. CHAIR: On notice and in very round figures, could you tell	L&C 33-35

			Wright	Reduction of legal assistance program funding	me the cost of this review? Mr Fredericks: Yes, I will need to take that on notice. CHAIR: It has been going for, what, 12 months? Mr Fredericks: Actually, Senator, my colleague is assisting me here. I can give you the total of the contract because it is published: the cost of that was $815,366. It is worth noting that the states and territories contributed to that cost, given that it is under the NPA. They contributed $167,341. [...] Mr Fredericks: The four legal assistance programs are actually those that I just noted in the context of the NPA review. They are, firstly, the legal aid program; secondly, the Indigenous legal assistance program; thirdly, the community legal services program; and fourthly, the family violence prevention legal services program. I should just note, in relation to that fourth program, that that program now resides with the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet. Senator WRIGHT: I am now going to ask you something that would probably take quite a significant amount of time, I imagine, to answer. But I would like a broad overview and then I would like the detail for every organisation whose funding will be affected by this measure. There are various organisations that receive funding under these four areas. Can you, off the top of your heads, tell me what they are? I do not know if you can answer those in full detail today or whether you need to take those on notice. Senator Brandis: I think will take those on notice.
19	AG	Access to Justice Division	Wright	Reduction of legal assistance program funding	Senator WRIGHT: Generally, then, what sorts of organisations are going to be affected? Senator Brandis: This is what I was trying to get to before. Senator WRIGHT: Okay, now we can come to it. Senator Brandis: Well, now I can. You read the note to the MYEFO and I want to explain to you the approach the	L&C 35 government has taken.

Senator WRIGHT: I would appreciate brevity though.

Senator Brandis: The kind of services where these savings will be found are in what is sometimes called policy and advocacy. You see—as you are aware but others may not be—that most of what the legal assistance sector or the access to justice sector does this case work: helping specific people who are too poor to afford a lawyer. But increasingly over recent years an increasing percentage of the legal assistance dollar has been spent on what is called advocacy work or policy work, which is not directed to helping specific clients with specific needs but in participating in—as it were—society's discussion about various areas of potential law reform or identifying gaps in the legal system.

Now, that is a good thing to do but in my view—and I hold this view very strongly—where resources are limited, I would rather see that money spent helping individual people in need who cannot afford a lawyer rather than spent on policy development. That is where the savings will be found.

Senator WRIGHT: Please advise of every organisation whose funding will be affected by this measure and please advise at what point, in relation to each of those organisations, will the loss of funding be effective? That is specific information that many, many organisations are keen to understand and know.

Senator Brandis: Sure, we will take that on notice. Can you clarify, when you say the loss of funding will be effective, you are after a date, are you?

Senator WRIGHT: Yes, essentially, because we have got the forward estimates. We have got the figures over the forward estimates, but we want to understand what the implications of this are.

Senator Brandis: We can take that on notice.

20	AG	Access to Justice Division	Singh and Wright	Indigenous Community Legal Centres	Senator SINGH: So you have visited an Indigenous community legal centre? CHAIR: Could you spell it, Senator Brandis. I think it is Y-E-S. Senator BRANDIS: Move on, please, Senator Singh. I have given you my answer. Senator SINGH: You have visited an Indigenous community legal centre? Senator Brandis: I have given you my answer, and the answer is yes. Senator SINGH: Which one have you visited? Senator Brandis: I told you a moment ago that as recently as Friday I visited Caxton, who extensively— Senator SINGH: You told me that you went to a Caxton function. Senator Brandis: At a function they hosted. Their practice in Indigenous justice is one of the most extensive practices in Queensland. Senator WRIGHT: Chair, could I clarify the answer, please. I am just interested in whether Senator Brandis has visited any of the community legal services that are within the ATSILS umbrella—the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services— as opposed to the more generic community legal centres. Senator Brandis: I would need to know which those are and I do not have the list in front of me. I will have a look at it. Senator WRIGHT: Perhaps you could look at that. They are specific, and my understanding is that there is generally one in each state—the Aboriginal Legal Rights Movement in South Australia, for instance, and so on. So I think that might be the question that Senator Singh is asking. Senator Brandis: I have not been to visit the Aboriginal Legal Rights Movement in South Australia. Senator WRIGHT: I think perhaps you need to take it on	L&C 38
----	----	-----------------------------------	------------------	------------------------------------	---	--------

					notice to understand—or perhaps you could even find out while you are here. There are not that many, I think. It is the groups that are under the NATSILS umbrella, and you would be familiar with NATSILS, of course. Senator Brandis: Yes, I am. CHAIR: I think there is one in the Torres Strait. Senator WRIGHT: I think it would be useful. I think that is what Senator Singh might be asking about. Senator SINGH: That would be good. Yes, those under the ATSILS umbrella. You will take that on notice, Senator Brandis? Senator Brandis: Which question? Senator SINGH: The question that Senator Wright just put to you. Senator Brandis: I just told Senator Wright that.
21	AG	Access to Justice Division	Wright	National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services (NATSILS) submissions	Senator WRIGHT: Thank you for that. To what extent has the government made reference to NATSILS's submissions to government? NATSILS has made submissions at different times in relation to Indigenous law, policy and law reform. Mr Fredericks: This department will always take into account submissions that are received. Senator WRIGHT: So are you confirming that NATSILS has in fact made submissions at different times in relation to Indigenous law, policy and reform? Mr Manning: That is my understanding. I have only been in this position since the end of November, but I have met with NATSILS recently. They explained to me that they have made numerous submissions on different topics. Senator WRIGHT: All right. I ask you to take on notice the submissions they have made over the last five years in terms of the area we have just been discussing. Mr Wilkins: You mean just in relation to legal assistance? Senator WRIGHT: In relation to Aboriginal law, policy and reform issues.	L&C 40&41

Mr Wilkins: That is what I thought. I am not sure I can do that. The department of the environment, for example, would have received submissions. I do not think I am going to go and ask them.

Senator WRIGHT: I would imagine it would generally be about law given that it is Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Legal Services, but perhaps we will confine it to the areas of law reform and policy affecting Indigenous people.

Mr Wilkins: But I think it is law reform and policy across government. I am not going to be able to answer that any time soon.

Senator WRIGHT: What do you think you could answer, then?

CHAIR: With respect, five years seems to be an unreasonable call upon the department.

Senator WRIGHT: I would ask the department to put that to me if that is the case. I am interested in knowing and understanding—and I think you can understand where my question is coming from—what services, value and things have been obtained from this organisation and the nature of that. It is not just some general, 'Yes, they've made numerous submissions' but what submissions and how often. The question then will be: if they are not able to continue to make those submissions, where will the government receive that unique view about the implications of changes to law on Aboriginal people in the legal sector.

CHAIR: I am not going to even allow that question. We are short of time. If they are rejected from making submissions—

Senator WRIGHT: They are not. This is a reasonable question to ask.

CHAIR: It is hypothetical.

Senator WRIGHT: No, it is not. I am asking specifically what submissions NATSILS has made in the area of, let's say in relation to—

					CHAIR: You have asked that, and it has been taken on notice. Senator WRIGHT: I am not sure that it has, because you have suggested that they have said no. Mr Wilkins: It has not been taken on notice. Senator WRIGHT: Do you understand the question? Mr Wilkins: I do, and I do not think it is a tractable question, with all due respect. I am happy to look at my own department to see what submissions they have made to my department— Senator WRIGHT: Thank you. That would certainly be of assistance Mr Wilkins: but not the whole of government. Senator WRIGHT: All right. Thank you for clarifying that. I am happy to have that discussion about what is reasonable and what is not.
22	AG	International Law and Human Right Division	Siewert	Addressing recommendations of the UN Committee on Rights of Persons with Disabilities (September 2013)	Senator SIEWERT: I want to follow up on Indigenous incarceration as well, particularly with persons with disabilities. I am wondering if the department has had a look at the concluding observations from the UN Committee on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities in September last year, when they made comment about the rate of incarceration and, in particular, the imprisonment of people with disabilities who have not been convicted of a crime. Mr Wilkins: We are a little bit constrained. A lot of these recommendations are directed at the states and territories, and we do not know what they are necessarily going to do on those. A lot of them are in other departments. This would be quite a wide-ranging discussion. Senator SIEWERT: Right. I want to narrow it down a little bit, but I wanted to know first off if you are familiar with those recommendations. Mr Wilkins: No, I am not personally— Senator SIEWERT: I beg your pardon. Is the department? Mr Reid: Yes, we are aware of those recommendations.	L&C 41&42

				Senator SIEWERT: Okay. Given that Australia is a signatory to the convention, is it something you are going to be taking a lead role in responding to? Mr Reid: A range of different Commonwealth agencies and state and territory agencies will be responsible for different aspects of the recommendations. I do not know that I would call our role a lead coordinating role. Senator SIEWERT: Okay. What role will you be taking? Mr Wilkins: I think it is probably too early to say exactly who is going to be coordinating this and how it is going to be coordinated through which ministerial councils. I am not quite sure yet, actually, so I do not think we can answer that question. Senator SIEWERT: Could you answer the question in terms of a time line in which it looks like there will be a decision on that process? Mr Wilkins: I think we will have to take that on notice. As I said, I am not familiar with it. We were not aware this was coming on, so I have not read the actual obligations, thought about exactly how they might be taken forward or discussed it with colleagues. I think we will probably need to take it on notice. Senator SIEWERT: It would be appreciated if you could take that on notice in terms of the process for addressing those recommendations, in particular ending the unwarranted use of prisons for management of unconvicted persons with disabilities. It covers a wide range of issues under that. Could you take on notice what your agency's response is going to be? Mr Wilkins: Do you mean what the process might be for establishing responses to this? Senator SIEWERT: Given that it does not seem to be addressed yet, what the process is for responding to those recommendations from your agency's perspective if you are
--	--	--	--	--	--

					not going to be the lead agency. Mr Wilkins: Okay. Senator SIEWERT: They also talk about establishing mandatory guidelines and practices to ensure that persons with disabilities in the criminal justice system are provided with appropriate supports and accommodation. Could you look at all those recommendations that are pertinent to your department? Mr Wilkins: Yes, if it is relevant. We obviously do not run any prisons. Senator SIEWERT: No. But, as I said, Australia is a signatory to the convention. Mr Wilkins: Yes, but you understand that does not necessarily mean that the obligations reside at the Commonwealth level. Senator SIEWERT: I appreciate—and we have traversed this area before—that states are responsible for incarceration. However, Australia is signatory to the convention and therefore I presume that the Commonwealth will be undertaking the lead in responding to those recommendations. Mr Wilkins: In a sense. It may be conveying what the federation of Australia is going to do about those obligations, but it will not necessarily be a Commonwealth agency that is doing so. Senator SIEWERT: I appreciate that. So there will be a process established around that conveying, and I for one would certainly hope that there was more active engagement of the Commonwealth with the states and territories. Mr Wilkins: Well, that is what we are going to find out: what timeline and how that might work. We will come back to you on all of that.
23	AG	Access to Justice Division	Wright	Funding of Environmental Defender's Office	Senator WRIGHT: Thank you, Minister. I am going to ask you now a question that I think would not translate easily to being on notice. I will have to ask some of these other ones on	L&C 44&45

notice. Previously, the Minerals Council has openly lobbied against EDOs. They have accused EDO lawyers of a campaign of economic sabotage, and that was reported on the ABC. The Australian reported that the New South Wales—

CHAIR: Do you have a question, Senator?

Senator WRIGHT: It does come to a question—I think an important question that the public would be interested in knowing about.

CHAIR: Well, forget the political sideshow—

Senator WRIGHT: No, this is actually the background I have to ask about. As the peak mining industry body in New South Wales, the New South Wales Minerals Council was lobbying the federal Attorney-General to cease the EDO's funding. That was reported in the Australian in October last year. These are not unverified assertions.

CHAIR: Is the question: did they lobby the—

Senator WRIGHT: What I am asking is: what submissions, formal or informal, did the Minerals Council of Australia, the Minerals Council of New South Wales or anybody who represents the interests of the mining sector, make to the federal government to support the withdrawal of funding from EDOs after the election? It is a very important question from the public interest point of view, I would have thought.

Senator Brandis: I can answer your question directly. I do not know what approaches may have been made by those organisations to other ministers or other departments. It may be that they may have written to me but, if they did, I cannot immediately recall any correspondence from them. As you know, when there is a change of government, many, many organisations in the community, from all points of view, make approaches to the new government to, as it were, put a point of view. I do not recall seeing any such communications from any of the organisations that you have mentioned and I had no meetings with anyone from any of the organisations which you have mentioned in which I was lobbied for the purpose for which you have described. So the answer to your question, subject to the qualifications I have made, is: none.

Senator WRIGHT: All right, I understand you cannot recall. Can I—

Senator Brandis: I have no recollection. I just want to allow for the possibility that there may have been a letter, among the hundreds of letters that come into my office every day, that I did not see.

CHAIR: I understood you the first time, Minister.

Senator WRIGHT: Can I ask you, Minister, to take that question on notice?

Senator Brandis: No, I will not take on notice a question that I have just given you a direct answer to.

Senator WRIGHT: But you said you have no recollection. That does not really answer the question. It may be that you did receive such a letter and you do not have a recollection of it. So I am asking you—

CHAIR: Thank you, Senator Wright. We are not here as a debating society. We will now be moving to—

Senator WRIGHT: Chair, I would just like to know whether the minister is willing to take it on notice or not.

CHAIR: group 3, national security and criminal justice programs.

Senator Brandis: I—

Senator WRIGHT: Will you—

CHAIR: I am sorry, Minister, and I am sorry, Senator Wright, but we have finished that. We have had more than fair—

Senator WRIGHT: I do not have an answer to the—CHAIR: You will get it on notice if you put it on notice.

Senator Brandis: Chair, before we go on, I have just been handed a note. I do try to be helpful. The note from my adviser says, 'I think the NSW Minerals Council wrote us a letter, but I am not certain.' I will take on notice whether a letter was received from the NSW Minerals Council.

24	MJ	Emergency Management Australia	Cameron	Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment Blue Mountains and Newcastle areas, Victoria and Tasmania	Mr Sheehan: At the time of the declaration of AGDRP for the Blue Mountains, we were within the period of 24 hours after the event. The declaration was in relation to those severely affected. The department, on an ongoing basis, then reviewed the situation in the Blue Mountains and is obviously aware of the various criteria that have been used for AGDRP over time and can obviously take that information into account. But, at the time of the declaration, we were within 24 hours of the event, so information in relation to electricity and people's residences was very limited. Senator CAMERON: In relation to the Victorian and Tasmanian bushfires, these declarations are made fairly quickly. The declarations in Victoria and Tasmania went to this 'moderately affected' situation. Is that correct? Mr Sheehan: Which fires? Are we referring to historical fires? Tasmania one year ago and Victoria— Senator CAMERON: I do not know the exact date, but they were the recent Victorian—the last Victorian—bushfires. Mr Sheehan: With respect to Tasmania, I would have to take on notice the time lines for declarations. I do not have the details of the time line for declaration. In respect of the Victorian fires, there has been activation of the cost-sharing arrangements between the Commonwealth and Victoria under what is known as NDRRA—Natural Disaster Relief and Recovery Arrangements. In the time available I should be able to give you details of when that occurred.	L&C 45
25	MJ	Emergency Management Australia	Cameron	Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment	Senator CAMERON: Senator Brandis said on 18 November—you can pick it up in Hansard on page 163—that there was an assessment made on the gravity of the impact on what was described as 'particular potential classes of claimants'. This is when we were talking about those who	L&C 46

					were 'moderately' affected. Did the department conduct a situational judgement on an assessment of the gravity of the potential claims? Mr Sheehan: On an ongoing basis, yes. Initial judgements were made on the information available in the lead-up to the declaration and then, as further information comes to hand, we take that into account for our briefings. Senator CAMERON: Can you provide me with all the departmental correspondence on this assessment process? Mr Sheehan: I will need to take that on notice. We will go through the material.
26	MJ	Emergency Management Australia	Cameron	Australian Government Disaster Recovery Payment Blue Mountains and Newcastle areas	Senator CAMERON: Can you also take on notice whether you conducted an evidence based disaster assessment process and provide all details of discussions and documentation between the department and the Australian Government Crisis Coordination Centre, the Emergency Management Australia liaison officers and the senior Commonwealth and state officials in relation to 'moderately affected' in the Blue Mountains and Newcastle area? Mr Sheehan: That is similar to the question I took on notice before. We will look at the documentation to see what we can provide.	L&C 46
27	MJ	Emergency Management Australia	Cameron	Impact of NSW road closures during bushfires	Senator CAMERON: Can you take a few questions on notice? Given that the department sought and received information from Traffic New South Wales on road closures, was that for the purpose of assessing how many residents would be adversely affected—under the 'moderately affected' definition? Take that on notice. I do not have time to get the answer.	L&C 46
28	MJ	Emergency Management Australia	Cameron	National Disaster Recovery and Relief Arrangements – small business	Senator CAMERON: On the small business loans issue: in reply to question on notice No. 48, you said that the minister had commenced discussions with the department in mid-September last year and then steps were taken on 2 October to	L&C 47

				loans	implement this. There was then a declaration on 23 December. Can you advise me what processes took place between 2 October and 2 December? Can you advise why it took so long to make the declaration and why small businesses in the Blue Mountains still do not have access to this small business loan that was a promise of the Abbott government? Mr Sheehan: I can take that on notice. It may be helpful to note that the payment can be made retrospectively and, if New South Wales chooses to use the payment under NDRRA, it can be applied to events retrospectively. Senator CAMERON: That is fine but is not much help to a business who has closed down. It is not much help to employees who have lost their jobs. This was, as per the rhetoric the government used prior to the election, designed to immediately help businesses consequentially affected by the fires. Maybe you can explain to me how this delay meets the commitments that were made—not only the promise that was made but also how it meets the determination that the minister made. Mr Sheehan: We will take the question on notice, Senator.
29	AG	National Security Law and Policy Division	Xenophon	Interception Capability Plans	Senator XENOPHON: I want to ask about the department's interception capability plans which outline how nominated carriers and carriage service providers can help law enforcement agencies with lawful interception of telecommunication services. Do these plans vary significantly from company to company? Ms Smith: There are approximately 170 carriers of carrier licences at the moment in Australia. As such, the plans do vary greatly, depending on the level of infrastructure they hold. Obviously, some have a massive amount of the network and some have a very small part of the network. Senator XENOPHON: Because I am really constrained for time, I want to get to other issues. Are these plans available for viewing by the public?	L&C 50

					Ms Smith: No, they are not. The Telecommunications (Interception and Access) Act protects— Senator XENOPHON: Does the Parliamentary Joint Committee on Intelligence and Security have access to these plans? Ms Smith: I have certainly never provided them, no, because they are protected for the purposes of what they have given. Senator XENOPHON: So not even the parliamentary joint committee, which meets in camera, has access to these plans? Ms Smith: If that question is asked, then we will have to deal with that. But it has never been asked of the department. Senator XENOPHON: From your point of view, that is that protected material that even— Ms Smith: I would have to have a look at that. Senator XENOPHON: Please take that on notice. Does IGIS, the Inspector-General— Mr Wilkins: I do not think we need to take it on notice. If they ask for it then we could probably give it to them. Ms Smith: Yes, but we have never been asked. Senator XENOPHON: So you can give it. You are not precluded from giving it? Mr Wilkins: We will take that on notice.
30	AG	National Security Law and Policy Division	Xenophon	Requests for information to overseas telecommunications and carriage service providers for	Senator XENOPHON: How do Australian authorities go about requesting overseas telecommunications carriers and carriage service providers for information that they may have about Australians? Ms Smith: Generally that is done through mutual assistance arrangements. However, some US providers have offices in Australia, so they provide cooperation to law enforcement.	L&C 50&51

					Generally it is a matter for mutual assistance. Senator XENOPHON: Please provide, on notice, details of which treaties govern this process. Could you also, on notice, provide how many times this has occurred in the past five years and to which foreign countries. Mr Wilkins: The latter we may not be able to do, but we can certainly do the former. Senator XENOPHON: Why not? Because it is classified? Mr Wilkins: It may be. Who knows? Before we look at that, there may be some restrictions on what we can tell you. Senator XENOPHON: I am not asking about the content. I am just asking about what the protocols are. Mr Wilkins: I am saying there may be some restrictions on even that. But we will have a look at it.
31	AG	National Security Law and Policy Division	Xenophon	Surveillance device warrants issued under the Surveillance Devices Act 2004 ?	Senator XENOPHON: ... Could you—perhaps on notice—provide the number of surveillance device warrants issued under the Surveillance Devices Act 2004. Ms Smith: That is in the public Surveillance Devices Act annual report, which was tabled towards the end of last year. We can certainly provide that link to that. Senator XENOPHON: If you could. Would that provide details of how many times an eligible judge or nominated AAT member has declined to issue a warrant? Ms Smith: I will have to take that on notice. I think it does, but I will take it on notice.	L&C 51
32	AG	National Security Law and Policy Division	Madigan	GPS location data	Senator MADIGAN: I would just like to touch on the Surveillance Devices Act 2004. The Ford Motor Company in the US stated in a 3 February 2014 letter to US Senator Al Franken that it stores all GPS location data created by the cars that it makes, rental and private, for two to three weeks and then sends it off to Acquity Group, a management company, and then to other agencies. What is the situation in Australia? How is Australian GPS data collected or stored?	L&C 52

					Mr Wilkins: I think we should probably take that on notice. It is a rather complicated question. Senator Brandis: We will take it on notice without conceding the premise of the question, I might say. Senator MADIGAN: What legal authorisation is required for police to get access to GPS data of vehicles, rental and private? You can take that on notice. Senator Brandis: We will take that on notice. Senator MADIGAN: How does the process work? How do your investigators go about getting the data? Senator Brandis: Once again, I think the best thing to do is, without conceding the premise of the question, to take that bracket of questions on notice.
33	AG	International Crime Cooperation Division	Madigan	Extradition requests made with Indonesia	Senator MADIGAN: Okay. Further questions go to extradition requests that the Australian government has received from the Indonesian government in the past 10 years. How many have there been? Mr Wilkins: Unless they become public we do not discuss matters of extradition requests that have been made. It is a bit like the question that Senator Xenophon asked about mutual assistance. We can take that on notice but only give you information in respect of matters that have been made public because they have come before the courts. We can do that. Over the last 10 years? Senator MADIGAN: Yes. How many extradition requests have been made for the extraditions of Australians to Indonesia? Mr Wilkins: Sorry, extradition of Australians to Indonesia? Senator MADIGAN: Yes, and vice versa. In the past 10 years. Mr Wilkins: We will take that on notice.	L&C 52
34	AG	Access to Justice Division	Wright	Cuts to the Aboriginal and Torres Strait	Senator WRIGHT: I will go back to my questions regarding the Indigenous legal services and in particular the cuts to the NATSILS budget. I understand the cuts are in the vicinity of	L&C 54

				Islander Legal Services (NATSILS) budget	4.5 per cent. Senator Brandis: I am told 4.45 per cent. Senator WRIGHT: It is 4.45 per cent? Senator Brandis: So I am told. Senator WRIGHT: My understanding is that the law reform and policy aspect of the work of NATSILS is two to three per cent. So it has been put to me that— Senator Brandis: But two to three per cent of what, Senator Wright? I think we might be using metrics here that are not perfectly commensurable. Senator WRIGHT: The information that I have is two to three per cent of their budget, and I understand that the budget is being cut by 4.45 per cent. Senator Brandis: That is why I asked for clarification. Senator WRIGHT: That is the information that I have. The concern that has been raised with me is: even if you can identify—and I am still not clear on how the department would identify—what are front-line services and what are not front-line services, it would inevitably involve a cut into front-line services of about 1.45 per cent, if my maths is correct. Senator Brandis: That might be right if those assumptions were correct. I have not seen that figure of two to three per cent. Senator WRIGHT: I might ask the department to take that on notice. I presume that if there has been a meeting recently with the director of NATSILS and the department you may have already been alerted to that issue. I think obviously that is an important one to raise. I might have time for one more quick question. If I can go back to the issue of the funding for the environmental— Senator Brandis: As I said, Mr Cubillo, the chairman of NATSILS, met with two of my staff only a fortnight ago in Brisbane.

35	AG	Australian Human Rights Commission	Singh	Appointment of Mr Tim Wilson	Senator SINGH: On what date did you announce the appointment of Mr Wilson? Senator Brandis: On the afternoon of 17 February, after his appointment had been made. Senator SINGH: Professor Triggs, when were you made aware of Mr Wilson's appointment to the position? On what date? Prof. Triggs : I do not think I recall that date. I would have to take it on notice, to be perfectly honest. It was certainly before Christmas. Senator Brandis: I did advise Professor Triggs of the cabinet's decision to make a recommendation to Her Excellency the Governor-General when the cabinet at its December meeting decided to make that recommendation. So Professor Triggs was not waiting until 17 February, if that is what you are getting at.	L&C 57
36	AG	Australian Human Rights Commission	Siewert and Boyce	Letters to Attorneys-General regarding AHRC report into disability justice strategy	Senator SIEWERT: Thank you. Mr Innes, this takes me to the issues I raised with the department this morning: the work that was done on the rights of people with disabilities and concluding comments around the unwarranted use of prisons for management of unconvicted people with disability, with a particular focus on Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander persons. I also note that the report that you did and released last year raised these issues. Have you had a chance to review or have any input to government on the concluding observations and the work that needs to be undertaken in light of those observations? Mr Innes: I would endorse all the comments that Commissioner Gooda has made with regard to this issue. It applies equally to people with disabilities, who are significantly disadvantaged in the justice system and many of whom are Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people. The work I have done with regard to the concluding observations in this area is the access to justice report, which was released a	L&C 63

					few weeks ago. It raises these issues of people being held, in some cases, eight and 10 years without trial, being found unfit to plead and not held in appropriate accommodation after that time, but they are also disadvantaged in the justice system in numerous other ways set out in the report. I have written to the Attorney-General of the Commonwealth and to the state and territory attorneys-general to advocate these issues and to talk to them about my report. I only did that a couple of weeks ago and I have not had any of those meetings yet. Senator SIEWERT: Okay. Senator BOYCE: Would you be able to give us copies of those letters at some stage if that is possible? On notice would be adequate. Mr Innes: I am happy if I am able to. They will not tell you much more than what is in the report itself. They really attach a copy of the report and request an opportunity to discuss the issues in the report with the various attorneys, but I am happy to make them available. Senator BOYCE: Thank you.
37	AG	Australian Human Rights Commission	Hanson-Young	Department of Immigration release of personal information	Senator HANSON-YOUNG: To cast your mind back, the security breach from the immigration department last week mistakenly released online the personal details of over 10,000 asylum seekers. What in your view is the implication of a massive security breach such as that? Mr Wilson: I have to say that I am yet to receive my full briefing from the commission on legal and policy dimensions around asylum seekers, so all I can say is that it is obviously a deeply concerning event, but I do not have the specific details. That may be a question better answered by the president herself. Senator HANSON-YOUNG: You may also need to refer this question to Professor Triggs, but I will ask you directly. Would it be appropriate for the department to inform those people who were the subject of the breach of their personal	L&C 65

					information that it has indeed happened to them? Mr Wilson: My personal opinion, which may be different from what they are legally obliged to do, is yes, but I am happy for the president to answer the question. Senator HANSON-YOUNG: Professor Triggs, in relation to the data breach last week in the immigration department, would it be appropriate for the department to inform all of those whose personal information was released that the breach had occurred and they were part of that security breach? Prof. Triggs: I was in China until yesterday. Again, this is something I have only been reading in the press. I have not myself had a briefing on it. My immediate answer would be that in the interests of transparency and the safety of those people they need to know that authorities in other countries may be now aware of personal details of which they were not previously aware. That is obviously the concern that one would have from the human rights law point of view. Before giving you any kind of categorical answer, frankly I would like to have a briefing with my own legal experts and get back to you on notice. Senator HANSON-YOUNG: Could you, between you and Mr Wilson, take those questions on notice? Prof. Triggs: We will be pleased to.
38	AG	Australian Financial Security Authority	Boyce	Analysis of bankruptcy by postcode report	Senator BOYCE: Ms Ingram, going back to your figures for 2012-13 regarding that wonderful postcode bankruptcy debt agreement thing you did, is there any way you are able to update us on the information in that? .... Senator BOYCE: I want to ask you a couple of questions about that. For example, the highest number of bankrupts in my home state of Queensland are in three postcodes on the Gold Coast. I think the highest number is one bankrupt per 189 adults. I think there is only one place in New South Wales that outdoes them. Could you characterise why this area is one	L&C 66&67

					of the highest in Australia? Ms Ingram: We do not do analysis of the statistics in that way, so I would be purely speculating. We offer our statistics to the Bureau of Statistics, obviously, and academics, who do more analysis in respect of that. Senator BOYCE: And you are aware of work being done there? Ms Ingram: I am not aware of work being done. Senator BOYCE: Would you expect to be aware of it if there was academic research? Ms Ingram: I would expect that AFSA would be. I can take that on notice, because I may not be aware of particular inquiries.
39	AG	Australian Financial Security Authority	Macdonald	Government regulated debt agreements - television advertising	CHAIR: The government regulated debt agreements have enormous coverage in advertising on television. What they promise they can do is absolutely great—if it happens. Is there any regulation of how those people who organise the debt agreements are paid— Ms Ingram: Yes. CHAIR: And where do they get their money from for this massive advertising? Ms Ingram: They administer the payments to creditors and they are allowed to impose a fee related to the realisations they get from the debtor. We also oversee the advertising of debt agreement administrators, although ASIC has the power to operate in that area. We will refer to ASIC any conduct we think is misleading—also to the ACCC. CHAIR: You have power over their advertising? Ms Ingram: We do not have power directly over their advertising, but we use powers of persuasion. If we do not get a result, we will refer them formally to ASIC and/or the ACCC. CHAIR: Some of the early advertising was quite outrageously suggesting it was—	L&C 67&68

				Ms Ingram: government guaranteed, yes. CHAIR: A lot of them are on the movies at three o'clock in the morning, which I tape—and I can then fast forward through them when I actually watch the movies. Is there a percentage of what they pay out? Are the fees regulated by your agency? Ms Ingram: There is some regulation of the fees, although we cannot tell them what fees they can charge. CHAIR: What is the regulation then? Ms Ingram: I will have to take that on notice to give you the exact details. CHAIR: Do they charge a percentage? Ms Ingram: I will refer you to our general counsel. They are not allowed to take the fees up front. There used to be a practice where they would basically collect the fee up front and then take their time about how they administered. CHAIR: The creditor actually pays? Ms Ingram: It is the creditor who pays in any administration—because they end up getting less money. But the creditors vote on any debt agreement, so they have to be happy with the fees that are charged. It is not the debtors who decide what the fee is; it is the creditors. The creditors can vote against the debt agreement if they are not happy with the level of fees charged. CHAIR: If they vote against, the company—the entrepreneur—who is organising the debt agreement does not get paid at all? Ms Ingram: No, the debt is still outstanding. They risk bankruptcy. CHAIR: I assume there is a whole new class of entrepreneur who runs these debt agreements. Is that correct? Ms Ingram: There are debt agreement administrators who have to be registered with us. It is, if you like, a profession. CHAIR: Mr McCosker, can you quickly enlighten us?
--	--	--	--	--	--

					Mr McCosker: We do not have the details with us on the specific requirements. It is enshrined in legislation. We can take that on notice for you
40	AG	Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre	Boyce	Prevalence of financial misbehaviour by location	Senator BOYCE: These nine Russian tourists had put $30 million into numerous Gold Coast bank accounts. I was asking earlier about the number of bankruptcies in Queensland—and the Gold Coast tops Australia for bankruptcies. Is the Gold Coast something of a hot spot for financial misbehaviour? Mr Schmidt: The major centres in Australia all have elements of criminal behaviour. Obviously Sydney and Melbourne, just as they are the centres of legitimate commercial activity, have a lot of the illicit behaviour as well. The Gold Coast is a significant area. As to whether it is a hot spot, I would say there is a certain amount of activity there which warrants attention. Senator BOYCE: You would expect that there would be a certain amount of criminal behaviour where there is legitimate financial activity. From some of the reporting that I have seen, it seems that the Gold Coast has a higher percentage than one might expect, given that it would not even be in the top five financial centres in Australia. Mr Schmidt: I do not have a clear answer on that question. Senator BOYCE: Would you be able to take it on notice and see if there is anything you can provide in this area. Mr Schmidt: Yes.	L&C 71
41	AG	Civil Law Division	Rhiannon	Open Government Partnership	Senator RHIANNON: Mr Wilkins or Senator Brandis, could you give us an update on where the Open Government Partnership is up to, and Australia's approach to enter this? Mr Wilkins: That was actually for this morning, I think. Senator RHIANNON: So you cannot— Mr Wilkins: All I can tell you is that it is progressing and there has been some discussion amongst departments. There is some issue about which department should ultimately be	L&C 75

					charged with taking it forward, but that is about all I know of the top of my head. Senator RHIANNON: But wasn't it that we were about to become part of the Open Government Partnership? Senator Brandis: I can give you some information about this. Australia announced its intention to join the Open Government Partnership on 22 May last year. There have since been three interagency meetings to discuss progress, including the requirements of an action plan. One of those meetings was held before the elections, on 17 July, and the other two have been held since the election, on 29 October and on 5 November. So the action plan is in development. I hope that helps. Senator RHIANNON: So can we meet the deadline? I understand the meeting of the Open Government Partnership is in April 2014. Will we meet the deadline with regard to submitting our national action plan? Mr Wilkins : My understanding is that it is not a deadline, actually. Senator RHIANNON: Much of the material you read—with due respect—certainly presents an expectation that we were going to enter at that April meeting and that the national action plan is not ready. If that is not the case, it would be very good to get that on the public record. That is what I am trying to explore. Mr Wilkins: As I said, we had people up here this morning to answer these questions. I did not realise it was going to be raised this afternoon, so I suggest we take it on notice.
42	AG	Office of the Australian Information Commissioner	Macdonald	Statistics to quantify decisions	CHAIR: Do you have statistics to quantify how many of the review requests are in relation to denials and how many are in relation to agreement given, but with a third party objecting? Prof. McMillan: Yes, there are detailed statistics on all of those matters in the annual report. I do not have them at hand, but I am happy to independently draw attention to some of	L&C 77 those statistics.

43	AG	Strategy and Delivery Division	Singh	Organisational chart	Senator SINGH: Ms O'Brien, could you provide an updated organisational chart? I would like that for the board. Mr Wilkins, could I also have an organisational chart for the classification section of the department? Senator Brandis: I think you can probably find these things in the annual reports, you know. Nevertheless, we will get something for you.	L&C 82
44	AG	Civil Law Division	Singh and Marshall	Classification Review Board budget	Senator SINGH: What is the review board's overall budget? Ms O'Brien: I would need to refer to that question to the department as I do not have any oversight of the budget. Mr Fredericks: I do not have that information; I would need to take it on notice. Senator SINGH: No-one here knows what the budget is of the Classification Review Board? CHAIR: I think they are saying no. Perhaps they can take that on notice. Mr Fredericks: I think we will have to take that on notice.	L&C 83
45	AG	High Court of Australia	Seselja	Electricity costs	Senator SESELJA: I have one quick follow-up question. You were talking about the impact on electricity prices. I do not know what your structure is like in terms of what has been negotiated, but I know that when the carbon tax came in in the ACT prices went up by 17 per cent, and I think 14 per cent was attributable. On notice, are you able to let us know how much your electricity rates and bill went up in the last financial year? Commercial premises are not always at the retail rate that has been quoted by the ICRC. Mr A Phelan: We know to the cent how much we spent on electricity. I am not sure I have it here though. I am sorry; we will have to take that on notice. Senator SESELJA: If you could take that on notice. Mr A Phelan: I obviously do not have any idea about what the component of the pricing is. We do know how much is	L&C 85&86

					statutory charges and how much is variable depending on usage, and over half the percentage is statutory charges, which go to fund the network. I would have no idea what the components of the cost of that are. Senator SESELJA: A breakdown of the last two financial years with as many components as you have, including usage and the cost, would be very helpful. Mr A Phelan: Yes, I will take that on notice.
46	AG	Australian Government Solicitor	Ludwig	Release of Cabinet documents (summons) for the Royal Commission into the Home Insulation Program	Senator LUDWIG: I understand that evidence, and I understand that Mr Govey has indicated that he has made AGD aware of the documents that have been handed over. Is that correct, Mr Govey? Mr Govey: I could not tell you whether we made them aware or whether they were aware separately from the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet. But I think it is clear that they were aware. Senator LUDWIG: And how are the documents described? Is there a file? I am not asking for the number—but if you have the number that would be helpful. But are they in lever-arch folders? Mr Govey: I think they might be in boxes, but I do not have the detail of that. I do not know whether the Attorney-General's Department does. We would need to take that on notice. Senator LUDWIG: Yes, please, if you would not mind. And were the cabinet documents separated out into a separate bundle? Mr Govey: That is my understanding. Senator LUDWIG: And of course you indicated from 31 January, but I am happy for you to take that on notice—whether that was the cabinet documents that were handed over at that time or whether it was other documents and they were handed over subsequently to that. If you are not sure, then please take it on notice.	L&C 89&90

					Mr Govey: I think it would be better to take that on notice.
47	AG	Australian Government Solicitor	Ludwig	Letter from the AGS to the Royal Commission conveying documents and terms and conditions of supply	Senator Brandis: It is. As far as Mr Govey, who represents the Australian Government Solicitor's office here, knows, there has not been a reply. Like Mr Wilkins, I would not necessarily have expected a reply to a letter of that kind. Perhaps, Mr Govey, you would be good enough to make an inquiry of the relevant officer to establish whether or not a reply arrived. Senator LUDWIG: Thank you. One would have expected at least a confirmation, even if it was just a thank you for the documents enclosed. I would have expected it may have said more. It may even have included an agreement to that. To date you are not aware, but you will search the records. Senator Brandis: We will see. Senator LUDWIG: That would be helpful. Thank you.	L&C 92
48	AG	Australian Government Solicitor	Ludwig	Provision of legal advice to PM&C	Senator Brandis: I have provided no advice to the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet on the issue of public interest immunity in relation to this matter. I have had discussions with the Prime Minister but I provided no advice to the department. As to others at the table, they can answer for themselves. Senator LUDWIG: I only wanted to pause you there, Senator Brandis, because the advice from PM&C this afternoon suggests there is such advice. So if it was not from you—although they did identify the Attorney-General—I wanted to make sure everyone had an opportunity to correct that record. Was it from you, Mr Govey? Mr Govey: It was advice provided from the Australian Government Solicitor. Senator LUDWIG: Senator Brandis, were you aware of that advice? Senator Brandis: No. Senator LUDWIG: And that advice has gone straight to the Prime Minister and Cabinet?	L&C 92

					Mr Govey: I cannot recall whether it went straight to the Prime Minister and Cabinet or whether it went to the Attorney-General's Department first. Mr Wilkins: I am not sure why you are looking at us. Senator LUDWIG: Mr Wilkins, I hazard to ask you this question: were you aware of any advice? I thought I had already asked that but, as Senator Brandis clearly said, he was not and I think Mr Govey has confirmed that. Mr Wilkins: Yes, I was aware that the AGS had given advice. Senator LUDWIG: On what date? Mr Wilkins: I do not know. Senator LUDWIG: Would you like to take it on notice? Mr Wilkins: We can take it on notice, yes.
49	AG	Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions	Singh	Prosecutions obtained between 18 September 2013 and 24 February 2014	Senator SINGH: How many prosecutions have been obtained since the Abbott government came into office? I think I might have asked this question at the last November estimates as well. How many prosecutions have you pursued since the Abbott government has been in office? Mr Bromwich: At any one time we have a body of existing cases and we have a body of new matters that come in. I do not keep in my head a tally of those sorts of figures. I can indicate that there is no difference that I am aware of in the pattern before or after the election. It is not the sort of thing that changes. Senator SINGH: So you do not have the numbers? Mr Bromwich: Not to that degree of detail off the top of my head—remembering of course also that even if there was some change of legislation or government policy, even if there was a dramatic change in the law yesterday or the Monday after the election or the month after the election, it takes quite a long time for things to come through an investigative pipeline. So, other than things like drug busts and those sorts of things, which occur more on the spot, we would not be	L&C 94

					receiving anything of complexity that had been new since the election, for example. Senator SINGH: Maybe you could take that on notice. Mr Bromwich: Certainly. Just for clarity, you wish to know the number of matters that have commenced since the election? Senator SINGH: Yes. Mr Bromwich: We can give that statistic. Senator SINGH: And also what areas of criminal law they relate to—or whether you can go into that now. Mr Bromwich: Do you mean which offences? Senator SINGH: Yes. Mr Bromwich: We will get to the statistics and provide the figures by some sort of logical breakdown. [...] Mr Bromwich: I take it you want it by some sort of grouping rather than individual section numbers—drug cases or something of that type. Senator SINGH: That is right, yes.
50	AG	Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions	Singh	Staffing number	Senator SINGH: You may have to take this on notice as well, but what is the full-time staffing of the DPP? Mr Bromwich: Our full-time equivalent is 442. Senator SINGH: Has that decreased or increased since the November estimates? Mr Bromwich: I would have to check what the number was. I think that would be down somewhat. I would have to get the figure that was there as at the date of November estimates. The 442 number I am giving you now is as at 31 January, so it is not to today.	L&C 95
51	AG	Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions	Seselja	People smuggling prosecutions discontinued	Senator SESELJA: How many prosecutions did not occur? Obviously, for this direction to apply, you would have to have a potential prosecution and then apply the test that you are not going to prosecute because there are a series of matters that you need to consider around whether the person fits a	L&C 99 particular category. How many did not occur as a result of this direction being implemented?

Mr Bromwich: I know it was over 100 cases that were discontinued. I just want to get the precise figure, if I could.

Senator Brandis: I assume, Senator Seselja, that the number would be greater than 100, because the relevant question would be: how many cases were never commenced that would, in the ordinary course of events but for Attorney-General Roxon's directive, have otherwise been commenced?

Senator SESELJA: Correct. There must be some ability to gauge that number because, as I say, a test would have to be applied where a prosecution is not launched as a result of this direction. You would have to consider this direction and consider the circumstances of the individual.

Mr Bromwich: What happened was, when the direction was given, an assessment was carried out of existing prosecutions, and those matters that could not be continued in the application of that direction were discontinued. A number were continued in relation to lesser offences. Then, when it came to new matters coming through the door afterwards, they were measured against the direction, and from time to time a question came up for determination as to whether an exception to the direction applied—for example, whether someone was a repeat offender and so on—and, if the exception to the direction applied, then the prosecution would still be brought.

Senator SESELJA: So how many were discontinued?

Mr Bromwich: I will have to take that on notice. I do have the number here somewhere; I just cannot lay my hands on it. But it was something in excess of 100.

Senator SESELJA: Okay—in excess of 100, and you will get us that number. Do you have the ability to tell us how many were not launched as a result of this direction being applied?

					Mr Bromwich: I will have to take that on notice. I do not know how readily that can be ascertained, because it becomes like any other criterion in deciding to prosecute. And we do not necessarily see all the matters at the higher levels where there is a decision not to prosecute any more than we see all the matters where there is not sufficient evidence. You have certain parameters— Senator SESELJA: So this direction could then be applied at a low level, where a decision is just taken: 'Well, this person fits the exception— Mr Bromwich: That is right. Senator SESELJA: given by the Attorney-General, and therefore no prosecution.' So that would not necessarily be recorded anywhere? Mr Bromwich: It is a question of whether it fits within the direction. If it fits within the direction, then it would not be prosecuted under the terms of the section, 233C, to which the direction applied. It would only come to me, for example, if approval was being sought to prosecute despite the direction by reason of exception to the direction, within its own terms, applying. Senator SESELJA: It would come to you. But who is making that decision, then, if it is not coming to you? Mr Bromwich: At a case officer level. I am not saying we did not measure it; I am saying I am not sure if we did or not. Senator SESELJA: Sure. Is it possible to check whether that is ascertainable, whether that information exists? Mr Bromwich: I will take that as a question on notice as to cases that were not prosecuted but could have been but for the direction, and I will ascertain whether we have that answer or not.
52	AG	Australian Crime Commission	Singh	UN Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice	Senator SINGH: I understand there is a UN Commission on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice in May this year. Are we sending anyone to that event? Is a minister attending that	L&C 101

				May 2014 meeting	UN commission? Mr Jevtovic: I am not able to answer that question. Senator SINGH: Why is that? Mr Jevtovic: Because I do not necessarily know that it actually relates to the Australian Crime Commission. Senator SINGH: That is all right. It is just that it was a UN commission on crime prevention. Mr Jevtovic: Yes. Senator SINGH: I thought the Australian Crime Commission might have some input into it or connection to it in some way. Mr Jevtovic: From time to time we do make some submissions and work collaboratively with the UN, particularly the UNODC, but on this occasion I am not certain that is the case. Senator SINGH: Are you able to take it on notice? Mr Jevtovic: I can take that on notice.
53	AG	Australian Crime Commission	Singh	Commencement of Operation Attero	Senator SINGH: When did this operation Attero start? Mr Jevtovic: Attero started in early 2013 if I recall correctly, but I will get you a precise date.	L&C 102
54	AG	Australian Security Intelligence Organisation	Singh	ASIO denying asylum seekers representation during interviews due to security clearances	Senator SINGH: I will start by asking you about the Inspector-General of Intelligence and Security report from January this year into the inquiry into the attendance of legal representatives at ASIO interviews and related matters. That inquiry found that ASIO was denying asylum seekers legal representation during their interviews for security clearances. Is that correct? If so, have the recommendations listed in that report been taken up by ASIO? Mr Irvine: Strictly speaking, there is no legal requirement for lawyers to be present during ASIO security assessment interviews. But it has been our policy over a number of years to permit, unless there are significant operational reasons, lawyers to be present at security assessment interviews for visa applicants. We conduct hundreds of those interviews, and the inquiry was concerned with the nonattendance of lawyers	L&C 107

					at just four of those interviews. As to whether we accept those recommendations, we have generally accepted those recommendations. Senator SINGH: What would be the criteria for not permitting a lawyer to be present at an asylum seeker interview? Mr Irvine: There would be no specific criteria. It would really depend on the view of the assessment officer as to whether it would assist or, alternatively, impede the interview. It is at the interviewee's discretion to request a lawyer, and the person would know that they have that right. But I do not think there are specific criteria that I could give you that are written down where we would deny it. Senator SINGH: So it is up to them to ask for a lawyer? Mr Irvine: Yes. But the recommendation is, of course, that we specifically ask them when they want a legal representative to attend—and we have accepted that recommendation. Senator SINGH: Is it the case that some refugees have been given confidentiality agreements at the time of their interview without the opportunity to understand their obligations and what they are signing? Mr Irvine: I am not sure to what you are referring. I will have to take the question on notice.
55	AG	Australian Security Intelligence Organisation	Rhiannon	ASIO Business Liaison Unit Workshops	Senator RHIANNON: Could you explain the language that is used to promote the ASIO Business Liaison Unit workshop about making doing business in Africa more productive. It talks about 'possible partnering opportunities' and 'providing information briefings to executives and staff'. The explanation you have just given around threats does not come through here; the emphasis is on making business more productive. Mr Irvine: I am not aware of the document you are quoting from. Senator RHIANNON: It is from the ASIO BLU website.	L&C 110

					Mr Irvine: Let me say to you that our Business Liaison Unit is just that, and it is there to provide security advice to Australian companies whether they are operating overseas or here in Australia. And if the safety of Australians operating overseas working for those companies is enhanced, then maybe their productivity will be enhanced too. Senator RHIANNON: Do you run any workshops with any other Australian business sectors such as the finance sector overseas? Mr Irvine: Yes, we do. I would have to check back to find out exactly which sectors, but our business website has a number of subscribers from the private sector. I would need to check which sectors. Senator RHIANNON: Could you take it on notice to tell me what the other sectors are—because it was only coming through that it is with the resource industry. Mr Irvine: I will take that on notice, yes.
56	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Singh	Operational budget for Operations Polaris, Trident and Jericho	Senator SINGH: Are you involved with Operation Polaris? Mr Negus: We are, yes. Senator SINGH: Is there an operating budget for the Polaris task force? Mr Negus: Yes there is. The Polaris task force of course is a joint operation between the AFP and New South Wales police, with some representation from the Australian Crime Commission, the New South Wales Crime Commission as well, and of course Customs. Senator SINGH: Have container check ratios increased under Operation Polaris? Mr Negus: The standard checking of containers is really a matter for Customs, but I can say that they have managed to gather significant intelligence across a whole range of issues on the waterfront. They have been very successful in arresting a range of people and seizing a range of illicit goods, including tobacco coming in in containers. I think 11 tonnes	L&C 114 & 115 was one of the seizures that they had last year. They have been very successful but the container checks themselves are really a standard issue for Customs, but they would act on the intelligence that is provided by the Polaris task force.

Senator SINGH: So who are the main partners to the AFP in Operation Polaris. There is New South Wales—

Mr Negus: Mainly the New South Wales police and Customs, and there is smaller representation from both the New South Wales Crime Commission, who has one person, and the Australian Crime Commission, who I think has one person as well.

Senator SINGH: You were providing me with an operating budget.

Mr Negus: I think we will have to take that on notice. We do not have the operating budget here for that particular task force but we would certainly have that available. In fact we will try to get that this evening if we can before we finish.

Senator SINGH: I also have a similar question for the Trident task force.

Mr Negus: I will get Deputy Commissioner Phelan to talk about it because, again, Trident and Jericho, which is in Brisbane, are the spin-offs from Polaris—because it has been so successful we introduced it in Melbourne and Brisbane respectively. I will get the Deputy Commissioner to give you a few points on that and we will see if we can get the budgets.

Mr Phelan: Similar to Polaris, the relationship down there is a joint task force with obviously the Victoria Police, the Australian Crime Commission and also the Australian Customs Service down there, working out of the Customs building. There have been multiple successes across a number of crime types, and it is really due to the sharing of intelligence across each of those agencies as well. That follows the full gamut of working down the port, whether it be narcotics trafficking, also working in closely with the Victoria

					Police's other task forces, particularly Taskforce Echo in relation to outlaw motorcycle gangs and also targeting the tobacco industry as well—so the full gamut of that which runs the port. In terms of the budget for that, we can get that for you; we will have to take it on notice. But the budgets for Trident, Polaris and Jericho, whilst discrete in those particular geographical locations, all fit within the serious and organised crime budget, so we should be able to get that breakdown for you relatively easily. Senator SINGH: That would be great. If you could take that on notice, that would be very good.
57	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Milne	Possible foreign bribery investigation	Senator MILNE: I want to go back to the issue of the OECD international anti-bribery convention and, in particular, the Phase 3 report and Australia's response to it—but, firstly, to the criticism that was made in it that, of 28 foreign bribery referrals received by the Australian Federal Police, only one case has led to a foreign bribery prosecution. That was up to 2012, so I would like to ask you first of all, in relation to those: can you give me a breakdown of the sectors that those companies represent and can you explain why only one of those was pursued? Mr Negus: I will pass over to the deputy commissioner, who I think has at least some of those details. Mr Phelan: In relation to those particular companies and the sectors, we will have to take that on notice to break that down. But, as to one matter coming before the court in relation to foreign bribery matters, it should be noted that these are extremely complex matters. They are matters that require a lot of investigation domestically and also a lot of investigations with offshore entities, including the utilisation of mutual assistance matters, which makes it quite difficult sometimes to follow the trail and move from one phase of an investigation to another. So, by definition, these investigations take a long time. Currently, we have 13 active investigations that the AFP	L&C 120

					is doing. ... Senator MILNE: The OECD referred to a case in Chinese Macau where a Chinese official is currently serving a 289-year sentence for accepting bribes of up to $100 million. The properties were part owned by James Packer's company, Crown, and the AFP did not launch a domestic investigation. Is that one of the investigations that you have reopened? If not, why, given that this person has been put in jail for taking bribes for $100 million, was the Australian end of the operation not investigated? Mr Phelan: That information is not before me. I will have to take that on notice.
58	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Milne	Foreign bribery – facilitation payment defence	Senator MILNE: Can you tell me how many Australian companies operating overseas have relied upon the facilitation payment defence when accused of bribery in the last three financial years? If so, can you tell me how many in each of the last three years? Mr Phelan: I will have to take that on notice, but only one case of foreign bribery has come to court. I am not sure whether they have raised that as a defence.	L&C 121
59	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Milne	Foreign bribery investigations	Senator MILNE: I return to the Crown case in Macau: is that one of the 13 you have reopened? Mr Phelan : I said I would take that on notice. Senator MILNE: You said some of the 13 active investigations relate to the previous 28. How many of them are additional? Mr Phelan: I will take that on notice. I will have to do an extrapolation of what we had before. Senator MILNE: Please give me a breakdown of that. Mr Phelan: I can do that.	L&C 121
60	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Kroger	Cost of Channel 7 investigation	Senator KROGER: I have a final question, which relates to costings. Given that you have to work on a budget like everybody else, do you cost these exercises individually?	L&C 130

					Mr Negus: Yes, we would. We would have time attribution, where all the officers involved would record the amount of time they have spent on the case. We would be able to obtain that figure. Senator KROGER: Would you please provide on notice what this raid and extraneous activities have already cost the AFP? Mr Negus: Certainly, Senator. CHAIR: Don't include your cost of being here at estimates all day!
61	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Whish-Wilson	Proceeds of crime	Senator WHISH-WILSON: My question also relates to a proceeds-of-crime action. I would just like to ask a few questions about the ASIC referral of John Gay, ex-CEO of Gunns Limited—an insider-trading charge. When did ASIC refer John Gay's case to the AFP for the proceeds-of-crime investigation? Mr Negus: I do not have that in front of me. I will just see whether we have information about that here. CHAIR: You have come prepared. Mr Negus: I am sorry, but we would have to take that on notice. I do remember the media reporting around this, and I know there were a range of different inquiries that we had in place with ASIC to establish those time frames, but we just do not have it here with us.	L&C 130&131

62	MJ	Australian Federal Police	Whish-Wilson	Proceeds of crime	Senator WHISH-WILSON: Proceeds of crime—just because I am not a lawyer like my colleagues—only relates to the recovery of funds; it does not relate to potential jail time or other— Mr Phelan: No, it is a confiscation of profits, effectively. Senator WHISH-WILSON: Was there any discussion with creditors on this case? Mr Phelan: I would have to take that on notice. I am not sure. I seriously doubt it, though. Senator WHISH-WILSON: But you would obviously have had discussions with ASIC, or is it handed to you in a file? Mr Phelan: I assume so, but I would have to take on notice the exact circumstances around the referral. Senator WHISH-WILSON: If you could, particularly so I can get an idea of when the case was referred to you and when you made the decision. That would be quite useful—how long that process took. Mr Phelan: Yes.	L&C 132
