BI-93	Carr	28/05/2007	Disability standards access code – Jaguar Consulting Senator CARR—What is the relationship between your final advice and the Jaguar Consulting access reports? Mr Donaldson—They were one of a number of consultants that we used during the process to help us with our impact analysis. Our relationship with them was that they provided services to assist us in that analysis. Senator CARR—And they provided services at the cost of $87,000? Mr Donaldson—I would have to go back and check. It is some time ago now. Senator CARR—I am just referring to the annual report. Is that the total amount? Mr Donaldson—I am not prepared to confirm that without checking. There was a significant amount of funding committed to this process in terms of both the amount of time involved by officials and people in the community and also the process of analysis that we needed to go through, including economic and social impact analysis.	E4	11/09/2007	11/09/2007
BI-94	Carr	28/05/2007	Disability standards access code – disability parking requirements Senator CARR—As I understand it, the present disability parking requirements were set in 1986 and require one per cent of spaces to be set aside for disability parking. 			Senator CARR—As I understand it, in the department’s reports there has been some $337,000 spent on consultancies in terms of access to premises standards. Mr Donaldson—No. My recollection is that that is an annual figure for 2005-06. The funding involved in this program would be far larger than that. I can provide it if you wish. Senator CARR—How much larger would it be? Mr Donaldson—It would certainly exceed $2 million. Senator CARR—Are you sure? Mr Donaldson—I have not got the numbers in front of me, but I am happy to provide them. Senator CARR—I appreciate the advice.
BI-96	Carr	28/05/2007	Disability standards access code – final advice Senator CARR—I appreciate the point. BI-97	Carr	28/05/2007	LPG program advertising Senator CARR—How much remains, do you know? Mr Peel—The only figure I have here is as at the end of March, and the remaining amount then was $154,000. That work has just been completed and it identifies the nature and extent of the impact of intermediaries on the sustainability and growth of small and medium sized enterprises in Australia. That report has not been made public, but we will consider making public a version with the commercial-in-confidence material removed. Senator CARR—Thank you very much. When did you receive the evaluation from Howard Partners? Mr Pennifold—The information I have is that it was completed at the end of October 2006—that was the contract period. I would have to check exactly when we received the report.
BI-99	Carr	28/05/2007	R&amp;D tax concession – evaluation Ms Berman—That is correct. We talked about the evaluation of the new elements—the premium and the offset. That evaluation has been finalised and, at this very moment, we are seeking final steering committee sign-off. The report is being completed. When that sign-off is complete, which was sought last week, we will then be forwarding it to our minister. Senator CARR—Are you able to indicate what the evaluation considered? Ms Berman—We can certainly provide you with the terms of reference. In summary, we looked at all the data leading up to 2001, when the new elements commenced, and then looked at the years following the introduction, and analysed the changes in expenditure, the number of customers and sought to identify the impact of the two changed elements on expenditure by business. Senator CARR—Are you able to outline what the main findings of the committee were? Ms Berman—I do not believe I am in a position to do that until the minister sees the report. Senator CARR—Is it the intention to release that report once the minister has seen it? Ms Berman—That is the minister’s decision. Senator CARR—I take it that you will appreciate this is a formal request to have	E43	11/09/2007	11/09/2007	Revised answer provided to the committee on 13/09/2007.

BI-100	Carr	28/05/2007	R&amp;D tax concession – Douglas Cumming report Senator CARR—The table of consultancy services commissioned by the department for 2005-06 on the website indicates that Douglas Cumming was commissioned to undertake a data analysis and modelling of the R&amp;D tax concession. Was that report commissioned as part of this evaluation? Ms Berman—It was. When the evaluation commenced, one of the analyses we sought was an interpretation of the data alone without any comment from the people using it. We put that data together in a number of years and provided it to Mr Cumming, who did some analysis for us. That was only one of the inputs in terms of analysis. We had several other inputs as well, which were done within the department, and together they are referred to in the final report, and the findings are according to what the data found. Senator CARR—The report is not on the research page of the department's website? Ms Berman—The report of Mr Cumming? Senator CARR—Yes. Ms Berman—It was probably the previous financial year. Senator CARR—So it may well still be there? Ms Berman—It was paid for in the previous financial year, and not the financial year we are in. Senator CARR—How much was that? Ms Berman—I would be guessing, but it is probably in the order of about $30,000. Senator CARR—So you think it might well have been published in the previous financial year? Ms Berman—Registered in the previous financial year; is that correct?	E43-E44	11/09/2007	11/09/2007	Revised answer provided to the committee on 13/09/2007.

			Mr Pennifold—My information is that the report did cost us $30,000. It was a direct engagement. It provided baseline data. My information is that it has not been published but indeed formed an input to the review that you were referring to. Senator CARR—Is it the intention to provide a copy of that report to this committee? Mr Pennifold—That would be the minister's decision. It was commissioned as an input to this review of the new elements of the tax concession.
BI-101	Carr	28/05/2007	R&amp;D tax concession – legislation Senator CARR—Can I be clear about this: you are proposing legislation be debated in the chamber in September or that it be introduced in September? Ms Berman—I think it is to be introduced in August or September, but I would have to confirm that. But that is the intention, that it is very soon. Senator CARR—And the 10 months ends in April? Ms Berman—April of the following year. Senator CARR—Will it be 10 months from the time the legislation is changed or 10 months from the first— Mr Peel—Ten months from the end of the financial year. I believe the plan is that the legislation will actually be retrospective to cover the whole of the financial year. Senator CARR—What happens if there is an election? In respect of your legislative program will it affect the timelines? Mr Peel—If there were to be an election before the legislation was dealt with it would be a matter for the incoming government to decide what to do. Senator CARR—It is possible that these legislative changes will not be in place before an election? Mr Mackey—That would just be speculation on our part. Senator CARR—Of course, but it is possible, isn't it? 			Senator O'BRIEN—This is about expenditure of public money. There is nothing in the estimates process that allows for the refusal to answer questions without a very clear statement about it failing the public interest test. I hear nothing in your comments that indicates it is the subject of public interest immunity. Mr Noonan—I was not suggesting that. I was just referring to an answer to what seems to be a similar question to the one that you are now asking. There was a breakdown of expenditure given in that answer. It was under the output structure rather than by reference to particular programs, presumably for the reasons that the answer advanced. Senator O'BRIEN—It may be that there is an endeavour not to answer the question directly, but I do not think that is acceptable. That is why I am raising this issue now. The answer to question 3079 does not answer the question in either of its parts.
