SENATE LEGISLATION COMMITTEE - QUESTIONS ON NOTICE 2006-2007 BUDGET ESTIMATES HEARING

Outcome: 2
Output Group: 2.2 - New Apprenticeships

DEST Question No. E108_07

Senator Wong asked on 1 June 2006, EWRE 56.

Question:

To provide me with the list of the 330 and 170 and then the list of the 313 New Apprenticeships Centre sites.

Answer:

Australian Apprenticeships Centre (formally called New Apprenticeships Centre) sites

There were 348 full time and part time sites and 180 information sites as at 23 June 2006 (Attachment A refers). These figures are higher than those provided to the Committee on 1 June 2006 because several Australian Apprenticeships Centres increased their site numbers in preparation for the new Contract.

As part of their tender submissions, successful Australian Apprenticeships Centres had proposed a combined total of 313 full time and part time sites nationally. However, following the finalisation of negotiations for the Australian Apprenticeships Support Services 2006-2009 contracts on 23 June 2006, there will be 341 full time and part time sites (Attachment B refers) operating in the contract period.

From July 2006, there will be greater regional coverage through the extensive use of Field Officers rather than Information Sites with no physical presence. The new contract will also see greater dissemination of information about Australian Apprenticeships with the Department distributing marketing materials and information on Australian Apprenticeships through such networks as Australian Technical Colleges, Youth Pathways Programme Providers, Local Community Partnerships, Job Network Members, Regional Industry Careers Advisers and National Industry Career Specialists. This will ensure information about Australian Apprenticeships is targeted and supported, particularly in regional Australia.

It should be noted in both Attachment A and B that some locations have more than one site as different organisations have sites operating in the same general location. Large cities are listed according to suburban locations.
