ANSWERS TO OUESTIONS ON NOTICE

Prime Minister and Cabinet Portfolio

Australian Public Service Commission

Estimates 2004-05 – Additional Estimates, February 2005

Question: PM 38

Topic: Indigenous employment

Senator Crossin asked: Have you any figures to give a breakdown of Indigenous employment by department and level over the years 1995 to 2004?

Answer: The APS Employment Database (APSED) contains information on all people employed under the Public Service Act. The provision of Indigenous status by

APS employees to their agency is voluntary, and as a consequence APSED data most likely under-represents the number of Indigenous Australians employed in the APS.

In addition, this data includes ongoing employees only, as data is not routinely collected for all non-ongoing employees.

The following tables show the number of ongoing Indigenous employees by agency and classification for the past ten years. Any agency not shown in a table for a particular year did not have any ongoing Indigenous staff identified on APSED in that year.

Due to machinery of government changes, the structure of some departments and agencies has changed over time. Agencies are therefore listed in alphabetical order rather than by portfolio.
