Senator Ellison asked:

What is the rationale behind the revision to the Australia-Japan free trade agreement – continuation of negotiations?

Answer:

The Government made a decision to partially reverse the additional funding provided in the 2007-08 Budget to various government departments and agencies for the continuation of negotiations for an Australia-Japan Free Trade Agreement. As this was a policy initiative of the Government, it is not appropriate for the Department to continue to comment on the possible rationale.
