

SENATE STANDING COMMITTEE ON LEGAL AND CONSTITUTIONAL AFFAIRS
ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT

Group 3

Program 1.6

Question No. 52

Senator Xenophon asked the following question at the hearing on 12 February 2013:

- a) Can the AFP or Department provide a break-down of how much of the funds in the Confiscated Assets Account have been spent, and where?
- b) Have any of these funds been directed to managing online databases like Project Stop, operated by the Australian Pharmaceutical Guild, which records purchases of products containing pseudoephedrine?

The answer to the honourable senator's question is as follows:

- a) Since the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 (POCA) came into effect nearly $100 million has been made available to a total of 305 projects including 258 non-government organisations and 47 government organisations. A list of all funded projects is attached.
- b) No funds from the Confiscated Assets Account have been directed to Project Stop or any other online databases that record purchases of products containing pseudoephedrine. Project Stop received $500,000 in seed funding from the Commonwealth but this did not come from the Confiscated Assets Account.

- Noah's Ark Centre of Shoalhaven Inc. – Shoalhaven Managing Children Program (Aboriginal Project) – $98,625 (2011) – This project increased the number of Aboriginal families using positive behaviours support to manage their children's behaviour.
- Albury / Wodonga Youth Emergency Services Ltd – Introducing Restorative Conferencing – $125,570 (2010) – This project implemented a Restorative Conferencing Program in the Albury area targeting young people aged eight to 18 years and worked on solutions to anti-social behaviour and prevention of further criminal behaviour.
- Australian Red Cross Society – Step Out – $150,000 (2010) – This project aimed to enhance the social inclusion and reintegration back into the community of young people leaving custody. The intention was to reduce recidivism and encourage involvement in activities with a diversionary focus that also provided inroads to employment readiness.
- Community Transitions – Second Chance Employers Network (SCENE) – $135,550 (2010) – This project developed, maintained and expanded an employer register for people with barriers to employment including ex-offenders.
- Katherine Town Council – Stage 1, Lighting of the Katherine River Cycleway, Riverbank Drive and O'Shea Terrace – $150,000 (2011) – This project improved lighting on the cycleway/walkway running from O'Shea Terrace along the east bank of the Katherine River to Riverbank Drive and the Katherine Hot Springs.

- Samaritans Foundation – Hunter Post Release Strategy – $149,350 (2010) – This project focused on recalibrating the service system to ensure a more responsive approach to support people leaving correctional facilities by creating an integrated model of support and a transition support hub of relevant government, non-government and community services.
- Shine for Kids Cooperative Limited - The Belonging to Family Project – $500,000 (2009) – This project worked with offenders and their families prior to release and over the twelve months following release. The project provided case management with links to education, training and employment agencies and opportunities for personal development and to connect people with Indigenous culture.
- South East Women and Children's Services (SEWACS) – SEWACS Child Support – $149,800 (2010) – The project provided therapeutic activities for adolescent victims of crime and diversionary activities for young people involved in, or at risk of involvement in, violent or other criminal behaviour. The project used an early intervention approach with children and young people, families and the broader community.
- The Patricia Giles Centre – Home, Safe, Home – $66,360 (2010) – This project delivered three eight-week courses for women who have experienced family violence from a partner or adolescent. The courses were: a therapeutic “Parenting after Violence” course; a Home and Safety practical skills course; and a self-defence course.
- Centacare Catholic Family Services, Diocese of Broken Bay – Breaking the Domestic and Family Violence Cycle – $61,070 (2010) – This project developed and delivered educational and support groups to engage and inform women who were subject to domestic or family violence or were concerned that their personal or family situation may lead to domestic or family violence.
- Information & Cultural Exchange (ICE) – Youth Education Arts program – $50,000 (2010) – The project worked in partnership with the Inner West Skills Centre to deliver on-site competency-based training, including in Reiby Juvenile Centre and Parramatta Correctional Centre. The project provided young people with an opportunity to express their ideas, concerns and share their experiences and personal stories using digital media and storytelling.
- Midnight Basketball Australia – Midnight Basketball Program – $148,550 (2010) – This project targeted at-risk youth (majority Indigenous) aged 12 to 18 years whose lives were characterised by high levels of violence, drug and alcohol misuse, long-term unemployment, poor health and education, and over-representation in the criminal justice system. The project introduced a Midnight Basketball program into two selected communities in the Greater Melbourne area aiming to reduce youth crime and anti-social behaviour.
- Neighbourhood Watch Northern Territory Incorporated – Big Day Without – $150,000 (2010) – The project aimed to promote music and dance with bands and DJs to young people without the presence of alcohol or drugs. Events were promoted as a safe environment for youth and encompassed drug and alcohol education components and messages – a big day without.
- Police & Community Youth Clubs Ltd Kempsey – Midnight Basketball – $100,000 (2010) – This project worked with at-risk youth to engage them in a sporting activity as an alternative to anti-social and potentially criminal behaviour on Friday nights. Players were provided with a healthy meal and attended a mandatory life skills workshop before competing in a basketball tournament.

- Relationships Australia (NSW) – Pacific Islander Families and Communities Together (FACT) – $149,550 (2010) – This project aimed to empower up to 800 young Pacific Islander people through partnerships in juvenile justice, education and the strengthening of connections within their family relationships and community.
- Tribal Warrior Association Incorporated – Tribal Warrior Indigenous Youth Mentor Program – $158,400 (2010) – This project was an Indigenous youth mentoring program for disadvantaged Indigenous youth. Participants had the opportunity to obtain certified training in the maritime industry.
- Victorian YMCA Youth and Community Services Inc - The Bridge Project - $500,000 (2009) – This project provided support, training and employment opportunities to young offenders to help stop the recurring cycle of crime, poverty and imprisonment. The grant helped young offenders aged 16 to 21 to re-engage socially and economically with their community by strengthening their vocational and work readiness skills to improve work prospects.
- Wellington Council – CBD Security Cameras – $150,000 (2011) – This project installed CCTV cameras in the Wellington CBD to provide surveillance to reduce the incidents of anti-social behaviour, malicious damage and robbery.
- Whitelion Incorporated – Whitelion – At Risk Youth Mentoring Program (Greater Hobart Region) – $110,000 (2010) – This project targeted 30 young people in the Greater Hobart area who were at risk of becoming involved in criminal activity. Individual support was combined with group activities.
- City of Cockburn – Community Crime Watch – $65,400 (2011) – This project installed computer software in Community Watch mobile patrol vehicles patrolling Cockburn. The computer software known as "GPAC Units" allow for remote monitoring and control of any fixed CCTV camera or device.

Funding declined / to be returned

- Tablelands Regional Council – Crime Prevention for Kuranda – $35,000 (2011) – This project was to commission a feasibility report and design of an integrated CCTV network across four recently amalgamated shire councils in the Tablelands-wide area.
- West Arnhem Shire Council – Community Safety Educator – $138,300 (2011) – This project was aimed at reducing unsafe behaviours and crime across the West Arnhem Shire. The project employed a Community Safety Educator to work across the region with local community safety workers to raise awareness and provide training in relation to safety issues, appropriate solutions and community safety management plans.

GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS:

Active Projects

- AUSTRAC - The Financial Intelligence Data Management Project – $3,185,854 – This project aims to improve its operational and analytical financial intelligence capabilities. Improved financial intelligence capabilities will enable AUSTRAC to more effectively assist partner agencies in the investigation and prosecution of criminal enterprises, and will strengthen its ability to identify and provide early-warning on emerging high risk threats to the Australian community.

- Attorney-General's Department - Combating People Trafficking – $250,000 – This project is to provide funding for the continuation of the National Roundtable on People Trafficking, which involves approaching legal education and training bodies to assist in the development of people trafficking resources.
- Australian Federal Police - Enhanced National Intelligence Picture on Illicit Drugs (ENIPID) Project – $5,864,000 – This project aims to provide a means to collect and interrogate scientifically robust data monitoring illicit drug market indicators such as purity, method of production, precursor chemical used and/or geographic origin. It will enable separate instances of drug-related crime to be connected across domestic jurisdictions and enhance opportunities for forensics evidence to be presented in court in support of prosecutions.
- Australian Federal Police - National Drug Precursor Risk Assessment Capability (NDPRAC) Project – $1,795,000 – This project aims to provide a rigorous risk-based assessment of illicit drug precursor chemicals to inform national policies to reduce domestic manufacture of illicit drugs.
- Attorney-General's Department - Pacific Islands Law Officers' Network (PILON) Project – $400,000 – This project aims to establish a permanent secretariat for the Pacific Islands Law Officers' Network.
- Attorney-General's Department - Implementing Border Controls on Tablet Presses Project – $300,000 – This project aims to implement new border controls on the importation of tablet presses. This will contribute to the reduction of illicit drugs manufactured within Australia by making it harder for organised criminals to access tablet presses.
- Attorney-General's Department - Asia Pacific Anti-Money Laundering Assistance Program – $790,730 – This project aims to build the capacity of regional jurisdictions to target the movement of money by foreign organised crime networks and reduce the opportunity for such networks to engage in criminal activities which threaten Australia's national security. Proceeds of crime training will be delivered to priority countries in Asia, such as Indonesia, Philippines and Sri Lanka, which have been identified according to Australia's strategic interests.
- National Institute of Forensic Science - Forensics Standards Development – $454,000 – This project aims to define appropriate forensic practices for all evidence types most commonly encountered by forensic practitioners. The proposed Standard Framework will provide defined practices to ensure individuals working with evidence will be able to follow standardised evidence recovery, storage and examination practices. In particular, the proposed standards would help provide reliable justice outcomes by ensuring that there are consistent and reliable practices in place across all jurisdictions
- NSW Police - NSW Waterfront Taskforce – $5.8 million – This project is part of a joint response to substantial organised crime on Australian waterfronts.
- Australian Crime Commission - ACID Database upgrade scoping study – $2 million – This project will fund a scoping study to determine options for the overhaul of the ACID (the national criminal intelligence database).

- AUSTRAC - Enhanced Emitter Registration project – $2.95 million – This project will allow AUSTRAC to put in place new processes to support the Government’s move to tighten the regulation of remitters.
- Attorney-General’s Department - National Anti-Corruption Policy Statement – $737,986 – This funding will allow ICCD to develop a national anti-corruption policy statement, implement the G20 Anti-Corruption Plan and review Australia's compliance with the UN Convention against Corruption.
- ACLEI - Surveillance Capability Enhancement project – $2,649,268 – This funding will provide a dedicated surveillance capability for the organisation.

Completed Projects

- CrimTrac - The Australian National Child Offender Register (ANCOR) – $713,333 – This project developed a national consistent approach to child protection offender registration. Funding received under the POCA made up one-third of the total development funding for this project, with the remainder being provided by the states and territories.
- Attorney-General’s Department - Firearms Management System Scoping Study – $1 million – This project developed a system to provide (i) the ability to detect movement of illegal firearms into Australia and between jurisdictions, (ii) early identification of trends in firearms supply and use, (iii) better coordination of law enforcement efforts, (iv) the ability to travel more easily between jurisdictions for people with a legitimate use of firearms, and (v) an improved ability for Australia to meet its international firearms commitments.
- Australian Federal Police - Enhanced IT Intelligence Functionality project – $1 million – This project upgraded the AFP’s high-tech computer systems to improve their ability to sift through large databases to extract intelligence, linkages and other information to enhance the prevention and investigation of criminal activity.
- Australian Customs Service - CCTV Upgrade at Australian International Airports – $890,000 – This project upgraded the closed-circuit television (CCTV) capabilities at Adelaide, Darwin, Brisbane, Perth, Gold Coast and Cairns International Airports by providing wide-angle surveillance and digital video-recording capabilities.
- Department of Health and Ageing – Croc Festivals – $105,000 – Operated by Indigenous Festivals Australia, to support the 2005 festival program.
- National Institute of Forensic Sciences - 18th International Symposium on the Forensic Sciences – $60,000 – This project was to assist in the funding of the Symposium.
- AUSTRAC - Reform of Measures to Combat Money Laundering and the Financing of Terrorism – $1,919,419 – This project engages in reform of measures to counter money laundering and the financing of terrorism.
- Attorney-General’s Department - South East Asian Collaborative Group on Precursors – $310,000 – This project created a forum to extend and coordinate the aims and objectives of the National Strategy to Prevent the Diversion of Precursor Chemicals into Illicit Drug Manufacture Beyond Australia. The funds were used to facilitate a meeting on these issues with governments of the Asia-Pacific region.

- Attorney-General's Department - South East Asian Collaborative Group on Precursors – $166,602.90 – This project facilitated the Second South East Asian Collaborative Group on Precursors (AcoG) meeting in Tokyo, Japan in February 2007.
- Australian Federal Police – In-Car Computing – $394,000 – This funding was used to accelerate in-car computing research and development from the concept to application stage.
- Australian Crime Commission - Lost and Stolen Documents Register – $33,950 – This project conducted a feasibility study into the establishment of a lost and stolen document register for proof of identity documents, intended to assist victims of identity theft and mitigate the risk of further compromise of their identity for criminal purposes.
- Attorney-General's Department and the Australian Taxation Office - ATO Document Verification Study – $508,574 – This project undertook an empirical study of the Proof of Identity (POI) information provided by a sample of customers applying for tax file numbers with the ATO. The study has implications for wider whole-of-government identity security measures.
- Australian Institute of Criminology - Drug Use Monitoring in Australia – $360,000 – This project continued to extend data collection of drug use by police detainees to a new site in Darwin and another in Melbourne.
- Attorney-General's Department - Review of the Extradition Act 1988, the Mutual Assistance in Criminal Matters Act 1987, and intensive bilateral treaty negotiations – $1,119,347 – This project was to significantly enhance Australia's capacity to cooperate with other countries to enforce the law where alleged offenders and evidence are located in a foreign jurisdiction. Extradition and mutual assistance in criminal matters are essential to effectively combat terrorism and transnational organised crime, including people smuggling, trafficking (in persons, firearms and illicit drugs), money laundering and corruption.
- Attorney-General's Department - Shared Responsibility Agreements – $600,000 – This project contributed to Shared Responsibility Agreements (SRAs) between the Attorney-General's Department and Indigenous communities. SRAs are agreements between governments and Indigenous communities, and are developed where Indigenous people and communities decide they want to address specific priorities. SRAs combine better coordinated service delivery that reduces bureaucratic red tape for individuals and communities.
- Attorney-General's Department - South East Asian Collaborative Group on Precursors – $252,000 – This project facilitated the third meeting of the South East Asian Collaborative Group on Precursors (AcoG) which was held in Hobart in September 2007.
- Australian Federal Police - International Policing Towards 2020 Conference – $200,000 – This project funded travel expenses for 17 international delegates to attend the International Policing Towards 2020 conference in Canberra from 19 to 21 November 2007. The conference focused on emerging trends in crime, sociology, geopolitics and science and technology.
- Attorney-General's Department - National Firearms Management System (NFMS) Business Case – $500,000 – This project contributed to the development of the NFMS Business Case, which was led by Victoria Police. The establishment of a NFMS enabled state and territory firearms registries to communicate more effectively and reduce the risk of firearm diversion posed by the interstate movement of firearms.

- Australian Institute of Criminology - Cybercrime - Australian Computer Security Survey – $750,000 – This project undertook a national survey of the business sector of the extent and impact of attacks on the confidentiality, integrity, or availability of network data. The AIC contacted via telephone and mail a random sample of businesses across all business sectors in Australia.
- CrimTrac - Automated Number Plate Recognition Scoping Study (ANPR) – $2,223,000 – This project funded a detailed scoping study which identified a strategic approach to integrate ANPR technology across Australia, identifying the necessary infrastructure and associated cost benefits analysis. Such a national approach provided a significant benefit to the Australian community. Police forces and other law enforcement agencies are now able to identify and track potential vehicles of interest within and across state and territory borders.
- CrimTrac - Minimum Nationwide Person Profile (MNPP) project – $1.9 million – This project assisted the Minimum Nationwide Person Profile project, providing the police throughout Australia with direct online access to assist them in determining whether a person is a threat to police safety, a threat to themselves or others, of interest to the police, or wanted by the police.
- Australian Federal Police - Australian Federal Police Disaster Victim Identification (DVI) Database – $200,000 – This project supported the development of DVI capabilities within Australia and New Zealand. The project purchased, configured and implemented a database system for use by all jurisdictions in Australian mass-casualty incidents.
- Australian Federal Police - Proceeds of Crime Conference – $105,350 – This project conducted a national conference of Commonwealth and state and territory agencies involved in recovering the proceeds of crime. The aim of the conference was to improve investigation and litigation practices, and to increase the effectiveness of proceeds of crime recovery.
- Australian Customs Service - Electronic Signage at International Airports – $1.5 million – This project increased electronic signage at international airports to warn travellers of particular offences.
- Australian Federal Police - Asia Pacific Group Meeting – $72,000 – This project assisted in conducting the 2009 Asia Pacific Group Meeting. The meeting aimed to facilitate the adoption, implementation and enforcement of internationally accepted standards against money laundering and the financing of terrorism.
- National Institute of Forensic Sciences (NIFS) - Improved Closed Set DNA profiling – $900,000 – This project funded research into the possible development of a fresh approach to DNA profiling in situations where there is a closed set of subjects (such as identification of victims of mass disaster). The near-perfect accuracy required for some circumstances, such as criminal prosecutions, is costly and time-consuming. NIFS, in partnership with Forensic Sciences South Australia and the Flinders University, sought to develop a process for closed set DNA profiling which, by having a lesser, more appropriate standard of accuracy, to be quicker and more cost-effective.
- Australian Federal Police Disaster Victim Identification (DVI) Commander Training Program – $200,000 – managed by the Australian Federal Police to support the development of a DVI Commander Training Program for Australian and New Zealand police jurisdictions. The program sought to develop and deliver four instances of the Australasian DVI Commander Program and develop the emerging leaders in Australian and New Zealand DVI response.

- Australian Federal Police - Covert Aerial Surveillance Platform – $1.146 million – This project improved the capability to provide close operational support, including surveillance capacity for investigations.
- Australian Crime Commission - Governance and Administrative Audit of the Australian Crime Commission – $100,000 – This project reviewed the current capability and considered its long-term sustainability and future direction. The audit enabled the ACC to better support the Government's national security objectives, and support its partners in the fight against serious and organised crime.
- Australian Federal Police - Virtual Global Taskforce Conference – $259,000 – This project met the administrative costs of the 4th biennial conference addressing online child abuse.
- Australian Crime Commission - The Sentinel Strategy – $5,000,000 over two years – This project helped to counter threats posed to the community by serious and organised crime. The Sentinel program is a key plank in the ACC's operating model and supported the Government's expanded national security objectives and the proposed Organised Crime Strategic Framework.
- Australian Institute of Criminology - Firearms Theft Monitoring Program – $400,000 – This project undertook a long-term Firearms Theft Monitoring Program to assist in identifying changes in the nature and extent of firearms theft, and provides valuable support for the future development of policy on firearms theft in Australia.
- Australian Federal Police - Criminal Assets Confiscation Taskforce – $1,946,801 – This funding allowed the AFP to meet the costs of establishing the permanent Taskforce in 2011/12.
