IMMIGRATION AND BORDER PROTECTION PORTFOLIO

(AE14/217) PROGRAMME – 1.1: Visa and Migration

Senator Carr (Written) asked:

In 2012-13, DIBP data shows there were 81 550 x 457 primary visa applications lodged and 68 480 x 457 visas granted. How many in each category (i.e. 457 visa applications lodged and granted, respectively) were from/to persons who had previously held a substantive visa in Australia?

Provide a table showing 457 primary visa grants to persons located onshore at the time of visa grant, by occupation (ANZSCO 6-digit) and last substantive visa held, for 2012-13 and 2013-14 to end-January 2014.

Answer:

The department can confirm that in 2012-13, there were 81 547 primary subclass 457 visa applications lodged and 68 481 granted¹. The table below displays the number of subclass 457 primary applications lodged and/or granted in 2012-13 by client location.

Subclass 457 primary applications lodged² and/or granted in 2012-13 by client location

	In Australia (ie holding or held a substantive visa at lodgement)	Offshore	Total
Lodged	42 610	38 937	81 547
Granted	33 441	35 040	68 481

The requested table detailing primary visa grants to persons located onshore at the time of visa grant, by occupation (ANZSCO 6-digit) and last substantive visa held, for 2012-13 and 2013-14 to end-January 2014 is in the attached excel spreadsheet (AE14-217 Table 1.1).

² Lodgement figures vary over time due to various factors such as a time lag between receiving the application and data entry, and applications that appear valid later being classed as invalid.
