Question No. 56

Senator Nettle asked the following question at the hearing on 26 May 2008

What level adviser would a Security Intelligence Report normally go to in the Attorney-General's Office?

The answer to the honourable senator's question is as follows:

A Security Intelligence Report (SIR) would normally go to the appropriate adviser in the Attorney-General's Office who is responsible for security matters. On occasions an SIR might also go to the Chief of Staff.
