Senator Scullion asked:

Senator SCULLION—Have any DLOs assigned to the office written policy advice, papers or opinion pieces, formally or formally, for Labor members or senators prior to last year's federal election? I appreciate that you may not be able to provide all the answers to that broad-ranging question now, but if it is possible to take that on notice I would appreciate it.

Mr Pahl—In answer to that last one: so far as we are aware, the answer would be no. Senator SCULLION—I accept that. However, if other issues come to your attention, I would appreciate it if you could bring that to our attention.

Mr Pahl—Certainly.

Answer:
----------------

No.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ON NOTICE Additional Estimates February 2008 Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry

Question: CP 02

Division/Agency: Corporate Policy Division

Topic: Ministerial staff

Hansard Page: 18 (18/02/2008)

Senator Scullion asked:

Senator SCULLION—I am pleased to hear that. Let us just hope it is the same with other departments. There were two DLOs with the minister's staff. Could you tell me how many other staff the minister has?

Dr O'Connell—We might have to bring the number back during the day, if that is okay. According to the government's guidance on numbers of staff, it is very clear what the limits are. We will bring back the minister's exact number.

Answer:

The minister has been allocated nine ministerial staff (this does not include Departmental Liaison Officers or electorate staff).

Question: CP 03

Division/Agency: Corporate Policy Division

Topic: Answers from previous committee hearings

Hansard Page: 20-21 (18/02/2008)

Senator O'Brien asked:

Ms Hinder— ......In relation to some of the other questions that you were asking, interim answers had been provided for AQIS 01, 02 and 06, and those were from the February 2007 committee hearings. We also had fisheries and forestry 01 from the supplementary October 2006 hearings. Full responses to those questions were also provided to Minister Burke's office on 4 February for approval, and they are in the current batch, which is coming back to the committee this morning.

Senator O'BRIEN—Were they previously provided to the previous minister? Ms Hinder—I am sorry—I would have to take that on notice, unfortunately. Senator O'BRIEN—If you would. In relation to the answers to be provided today, do I understand from your response that they were available to be provided essentially in that form last September?

Ms Hinder—I would need to double-check as to whether or not those particular responses were updated in light of current events but, as I said in my previous response, responses to the questions were provided to the previous minister throughout August and, I believe, September of last year and approval was not given for them to be provided to the committee because we went into the caretaker period.

Answer:

Answers to AQIS 01, 02 and 06 from the 2007 Additional Estimates hearings were not provided to the previous minister prior to the commencement of the caretaker period.

The answer to F&F 01 from the 2006 Supplementary Estimates hearings was provided to the former Minister for Fisheries, Forestry and Conservation's office on 25 September 2007.

Question: CP 04

Division/Agency: Corporate Policy Division

Topic: Legal action regarding taro industry claims

Hansard Page: 69 (18/02/2008)

Senator Milne asked:

Senator MILNE—...... My second question in relation to that is that during the election campaign the growers say that they were contacted by Norm Blackman, Senior Adviser to Mr McGauran, who told them that DAFF had agreed that illegal taro had come into Australia and that growers would be compensated. The next thing is that when the growers put that out to their membership they were threatened with legal action from the department. Can you go through with me what actually happened and whether that legal action has now been dropped and what action you are currently taking?

Dr O'Connell—On the issue of the suggestion that one of the advisers to Minister McGauran had made some commitments to taro growers and that then there were some issues around the potential for legal action, I would have to take that on notice in terms of what occurred there, because we do not have the information right here.

Senator MILNE—Surely you have the information about the department threatening legal action.

Dr O'Connell—With regard to the legal action I do not want to say anything in case I get it wrong—

Senator MILNE—Could you again take it on notice. Specifically, I want to know whether it is agreed that a phone call was made to the taro growers, what was promised to the taro growers in that phone call, whether there was legal action threatened and if that has now been dropped, and what is happening about this issue of compensation because of the taro coming into Australia. In particular, I want to know about the IRA and where it is up to.

Answer:

In October 2007, the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry (the department) became aware of an email sent by the Secretary of Taro Growers Australia. The email made a number of allegations about the department and specifically alleged that a staff member of the then Minister for Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry had made statements in relation to a number of issues, including possible compensation that could be sought by the taro industry. These statements were expressly denied by the member of staff involved.

The department's legal advisers wrote to Taro Growers Australia requesting that the record be corrected. The department did not threaten Taro Growers Australia with legal action. Taro Growers Australia were advised that the ministerial staff member involved was considering his personal legal position.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS ON NOTICE Additional Estimates February 2008 Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry

Question: CP 05

Division/Agency: Corporate Policy Division Topic: Taro industry claims for compensation

Hansard Page: 70 (18/02/2008)

Senator Milne asked:

Senator MILNE—It does, but if you cannot answer then I will ask anybody on the panel. Is there a concession from AQIS that the growers were right and AQIS were wrong in terms of the import of the small taro in the first place and is there a process now for compensation?

Mr Hunter—My understanding is that all imports of taro met the import conditions that existed at the time. I am not aware of any compensation claims or activities that are underway.

Senator MILNE—I am gobsmacked by the fact that you are not aware because the growers have argued in the first place that the conditions that were set were not adequate. They have been proven to be right and they have suffered accordingly, and the whole issue of compensation is one that they have been discussing at length. I cannot understand why you do not know about it.

Mr Hunter—I will take the question on notice, but I am not aware of it. I am not aware of the requests for compensation.

Answer:

The Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry is not aware of any formal claim for compensation made by the taro industry in relation to illegal importation of taro.
