Question no.: 122

Program: N/A Division/Agency: (AMSA) Australian Maritime Safety Authority Topic: Joint response to capsized boat off the coast off Indonesia Proof Hansard Page/s: Written

Senator NASH asked:

An article from 27 August 2012 which was published by a number of news outlets including The Age and the Canberra Times which alleges that Indonesian Authorities approached "Australia's ocean safety authority" about assisting a boat 29 hours before it was found to have capsized in June.

- 1. Is this the case?
- 2. Did Indonesian Authorities request assistance from AMSA in relation to this boat? If so, when?
- 3. The article claims that the boat made several calls for help to AMSA between 19 and 21 June and that vessels were sent to assist 41 hours after the first call. At what date and time was the first call received?
- 4. What action was taken after this call was received?
- 5. Please provide details of the date and time of all subsequent calls.
- 6. What action was undertaken after each of these calls were received?
- 7. When was maritime assistance provided?
- 8. When was a fly-over approved?
- 9. What communication with Indonesian Authorities and their search and rescue agency Basarnas was undertaken?
- 10. When was this undertaken?
- 11. What is the Department's response to academics that claim that Australia failed to meet its international obligations under international conventions to provide assistance to vessels in distress at sea?

Answer:

- 1. No.
- 2. On 20 June 2012 the Indonesian search and rescue authority (BASARNAS), asked to be advised if further information came from the boat and requested assistance be provided when the boat was close to Christmas Island.
- 3 to 10. Several calls from the boat were received by AMSA during the period 19-20 June. All information received in the calls was passed to BASARNAS as the vessel was in the Indonesian search and rescue region.

BASARNAS advised an Indonesian navy vessel was enroute. Around 3:00pm, 21 June 2012, AMSA advised that an Australian Customs and Border Protection Services routine surveillance flight had sighted people in the water. AMSA communicated mayday relays to shipping in the area. At the request of BASARNAS, AMSA assumed the coordination role late 21 June 2012.

11. AMSA has not seen the advice that was the basis for the media comment so cannot comment directly on these claims. Australia has met its obligations under relevant international conventions in responding to this incident.
