Footnotes:

- (1) The Acts establishing these Accounts provide that amounts appropriated by Parliament for the purposes of the Account must be, or may be, credited to the Account. 15 out of the 42 Special Accounts established by Acts are subject to such provisions.
- (2) Item 308 of Schedule 1 of the Bill amends the name of this Account to 'Confiscated Assets Special Account' to distinguish the Account from the Confiscated Assets Account established by the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002.
- (3) These Accounts were established after the commencement of the FMLA Act on 1 July 1999. The enabling Acts do not therefore include references to components of the RMF and therefore do not require amendment to include references to Special Account.
- (4) The Telstra Corporation Act 1991 expands the purposes of the Regional Telecommunications Infrastructure Account, but does not establish the Account. The Account was originally established by a determination of the Finance Minister. The Account is therefore not listed in this table.
- (5) Amendments to the Ozone Protection Act 1989 (the Act) are not included in the Bill because appropriate amendments to the Act are included in the Ozone Protection and Synthetic Greenhouse Gas Legislation Amendment Bill 2003 (Amendment Bill). The Amendment Bill changes the name of the Account to the Ozone Protection and SGG Account.
- (6) The provision in the National Blood Authority Act 2003 that establishes the National Blood Account commences on 1 July 2003.

- (7) Subsection 38(6) of the Aboriginal Land (Lake Condah and Framlingham Forest) Act 1987 provides for the responsible Minister to establish the Aboriginal Advancement Account.
