

To Whomever This Concerns - I am writing to add my voice to a growing and passionate community concern at the heartless lack of response from government to the immensely difficult and often quite tragic plight of the many young people with disabilities who are forced to live in desperately inappropriate accomodation such as aged care facilitie.

Does no-one in government feel any compassion for these people? Has politics really become so self-serving that such a desperately needy, marginalised and powerless part of our society are being ignored because they are not a means for some-one to win votes?

Please, surely, it's time to remember our humanity - some-one has to help, and this is how I want my taxes spent, not on keeping innocent families, who would be happy to work for a living, locked in detention centres.
