

Thanks for the chat and especially for the support + encouragement.

To be honest I may not get my story down in time for S.1.

I do feel very guilty because I know what you say is true, that we have an obligation to let people know.

I will let you know if I do manage to get over these personal hurdles. I think you know what I mean. Any how please try not to think that I am not making an effort, As I sincerely mean to, especially seeing the Senate inquiry is in some ways a once in a life time opp to contribute my voice to something I feel strongly about.

Thanks again for all of CLAN's great works

sincerely

B. As
