

Government Response to Select Committee on Climate Policy Report

The Government responded to the proposals embodied in the Committee's recommendations during consideration of the CPRS legislation in Parliament from May to December 2009. The Government has now convened the Multi-Party Climate Change Committee to consider a carbon price more broadly. The issues raised in the Report can be considered in that context.