

Senators,

I just want a emissions trading scheme that works. Not one that compensates polluters, not one that negates the contributions that I make in my own home, and one that sets targets which will actually make a difference. The planet is warming up faster than we realised. Please, take heed of the science, and do something effective, for the sake of our children.

Thanks, Kristan Baker