

To Senators on the Senate Select Committee on Climate Policy,

It's very simple: just make companies come up with environmentally friendly products or else they don't get to make them. The consumer just has to do without. We're all too greedy and our planet cannot take it any longer.
It's time to evolve people.

Name: Mark Beyers