Dear Sir,

"Carbon Pollution Reduction Scheme "

Surely you are aware that neither solid Carbon or Carbon Dioxide (CO₂) is a pollutant thus any claim that either is a pollutant misleads both the people and the Parliament

It is well known that Carbon Dioxide is a fertiliser for photosynthesis and plant growth and is needed for all life on earth.

When the United Nations formed the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) 20 years ago, the task of the IPCC was to determine whether continued industrialisation and CO₂ emissions were going to cause dangerous climate change and they mistakenly assumed, based on the studies with computer models, that most of the slight warming over the last 50 years was very likely the result of human activities and that global temperatures will increase between 2 and 4 degrees celsius before the end of the century.

The IPCC uses the analogy of CO₂ forming a blanket around the earth, which would trap the radiation to space, of the heat received by the earth from the Sun, and would make the earth warmer, even dangerously so.

But rigorous scientific investigation and observation has proved that CO₂ has never caused and never can cause harmful global warming.

Most people and many governments continue to regard the IPCC as the World's Authority on Climate Change BUT their many false alarmist reports , starting at 2001 has shown that they cannot be trusted.

In spite of this many people have been persuaded to adopt a religious view about the so called "saving the planet" and regard skeptics as heretics, and do their utmost to suppress debate.. But such suppression hardly fits the role of our democracy in which freedom of speech is upheld.

Our climate is controlled by many complex natural forces, not understood by most people I draw your attention to Professor Ian Plimers' statement , under the heading "Heaven and Earth" attached. which emphasizes how ignorance not knowledge has prevailed.

Surely we should have an open national debate so that the public can be shown the complete picture,, not only that presented by the IPCC and it's followers .

We should never take anything for granted . The European Union have obviously done just this, formed policies which are seriously harming their countries and achieving nothing but distress and outcry. Surely you should be careful to avoid policies which would seriously damage your government .

Your ministers appear to be determined to avoid an open, not contrived National debate, a dangerous policy for them and your government.

Please reply openly to this letter.

Yours faithfully

E.C."George" Fox.

To the Senate Standing Committee on Economics.

The Western World is confronted by a massive FRAUD based on a fantasy endorsed by the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), that calamitous global warming, caused by mankind's emissions of carbon dioxide, will end civilisation as we know it.

However, the perpetrators of this fraud must be aware that carbon dioxide is a beneficent fertilising gas that sustains all life on earth, and has not caused and cannot cause run-away global warming.

Attempts to debate this issue nationally have been repeatedly suppressed by the fraud perpetrators, who are frightened at the consequences of their lies receiving critical attention.
