

To Senators on the Senate Select Committee on Climate Policy,

I want to see Australia set emissions targets responsibly. I want Australia to set an example to the rest of the world that I can be proud of. Not one that gets everybody off the hook.

If we go ahead with the current scheme, the results will be catastrophic for the whole world and that is abominable and intolerable. The results will be much worse than the financial problems we are now experiencing.

I have a responsibility not to let that happen and I am asking you to help me out here.

We have to set much higher targets.

People have to have their personal efforts rewarded. To reward personal efforts by allowing industry to pollute is outrageous.

If this legislation goes through as it stands, I will have to sack the people who voted for it.

Why don't I just kill myself, voting for this will kill the planet?

Just a thought...
