Hello,

I'm writing to suggest there's no real problem with the word "cunt" being used on television after eight pm or so. The argument that it is a bad influence on youth is ridiculous. Let's be serious - if a parent isn't bothering to monitor their children's TV viewing habits properly, and instilling them with manners and morals that aren't drawn from the media, the kid is "fucked" anyway.

Kind regards, Chris Ryan
