SUBMISSION

Inquiry into the Commonwealth Radioactive Waste Management (Repeal and Consequential Amendment) Bill 2008

In 2005, the Howard Government passed the 'Commonwealth Radioactive Waste Management Act' to dump Australia's radioactive waste in the Northern Territory eroding due process and democratic rights. Senator Ludlam's bill seeks to repeal the existing Commonwealth Radioactive Waste Management Act 2005 and the amendments made to that Act in 2006.

The ALP should keep their promise to repeal this bill, to undo the dispossession of Indigenous people and disregard for NT legislation . . . the whole of Australia is watching the ALP's performance and will vote them out of office if they fail to act with integrity.
