

Dear Sir/Madam,

I just wanted to highlight the impact of the government's decision to means test the installation of solar panels to $100,000.

The Sunraysia community has been extremely proactive in working to introduce a community solar solution. This has effectively been negated with the government's decision and impedes the adoption of environmentally sustainable solutions.

Kind Regards,

Ian Drayton