

Government Response to Senate Select Committee on Fuel and Energy

The CPRS: Economic cost without environmental benefit – Interim Report

The Government responded to the proposals embodied in the Committee's recommendations during consideration of the CPRS legislation in Parliament from May to December 2009. The Government has now convened the Multi-Party Climate Change Committee to consider a carbon price more broadly. The issues raised in the Interim Report can be considered in that context.