

Dear Senators,

Terrorists hope that their campaigns will change our way of life.

If we adopt this Bill, the terrorists will have won, because our way of life will change, for the worse, without a single casualty of terrorism on Australian soil (as far as I am aware).

We will have lost the few fundamental freedoms that ensure that we live in a free, just, and democratic society.

We should instead be enshrining these freedoms in a Bill of Rights, and expanding these freedoms in the unjust societies that feed terrorist propaganda.

Please reject this proposed legislation.

Yours sincerely,

Associate Professor Steven Bellman.
