(3) Sub-section (1) does not apply to the destruction of a Commonwealth record, being a record to which sub-section 47 (1), 70 (1) or 107 (1) of the Copyright Act 1968 applies, where the Director-General has declined to consent to the delivery of the record to the Australian Archives.

(4) This section does not authorize the Archives to permit the destruction or other disposal of a Commonwealth record that is in the possession of, or has been received into the custody of the Archives from, a Commonwealth institution without the consent of that institution or of a Commonwealth institution that has succeeded to the relevant functions of that institution.

(5) For the purposes of the application of sub-section (1) to a record of a kind used by means of any mechanical or electronic device or equipment, including a computer, any treatment or modification of the record that would prevent the obtaining from the record of information or matter that could previously have been obtained from the record shall be deemed to be destruction of the record.

25. (1) Where a Commonwealth record has been in existence for more than 25 years, a person shall not add to, or otherwise alter, the record without the approval of the Archives.

Penalty: $200.

(1) Subject to this Division, when a Commonwealth record in the possession of a Commonwealth institution has ceased (whether before or after the commencement of this Act) to be required to be readily available for the purposes of a Commonwealth institution, the person responsible for the custody of the record shall, unless the record is lawfully destroyed, cause it to be transferred to the custody of the Archives in accordance with arrangements approved by the Archives.

(2) Subject to this Division, where a Commonwealth record in the possession of a Commonwealth institution other than the Archives has been in existence as a Commonwealth record for 25 years, the Commonwealth institution shall cause the record to be transferred to the custody of the Archives as soon as it is practicable to do so.

27. Subject to this Division, the Archives is entitled, for the purposes of this Act, to full and free access, at all reasonable times, to all Commonwealth records in the custody of a Commonwealth institution other than the Archives.

28. (1) A Commonwealth institution, or a person having authority to act on behalf of a Commonwealth institution, may, with the concurrence of the Director-General, determine that a Commonwealth record, or each record in a class of Commonwealth records, being a record or class of records in the possession of the Commonwealth institution or relating to the functions of the Commonwealth institution, is—

(a) a record that is not required to be transferred to the custody of the Archives under section 26; or

(b) a record to which the Archives is not to be entitled to have access under section 27 or is not to be entitled to have access under that section otherwise than on specified conditions to be observed by the Archives, and such a determination has effect for such period as is specified in the determination, but may at any time be revoked by the Commonwealth institution or a person having authority to act on behalf of the Commonwealth institution.

(2) Notwithstanding sub-section (1), the responsible Minister may determine that a Commonwealth record, or each record in a class of Commonwealth records, is—

(a) a record that is not required to be transferred to the custody of the Archives under section 26; or

(b) a record to which the Archives is not to be entitled to have access under section 27 or is not to be entitled to have access under that section otherwise than on specified conditions to be observed by the Archives, and such a determination takes effect upon its being notified to the Archives and has effect for such period as is specified in the determination but may at any time be revoked by the responsible Minister.

(3) The Archives may agree with a Commonwealth institution that records accepted into the custody of the Archives are to be held on certain conditions to be observed by the Archives, not being conditions inconsistent with Division 3.

(4) Where—

(a) the Archives seeks access to a Commonwealth record that is not in the custody of the Archives; and

(b) a person responsible for the custody of the record considers that it might be appropriate for a determination to be made under sub-section (2) applying paragraph (2) (b) to the record, the person so responsible may forthwith notify the Archives that he so considers and take appropriate action for enabling consideration to be given by the responsible Minister to the making of such a determination.

(5) Where a notification under sub-section (4) has been given in respect of a record, the Archives is not entitled to have access to the record for a period of one month from the date on which the notification was given, but, if the notification is withdrawn by the person responsible for the custody of the record before the expiration of that period, this sub-section ceases to have effect in relation to the record.

(6) A record that is in the open access period is not, by virtue of a determination under sub-section (1), a record to which paragraph (1) (b) applies unless there is in force a certificate of a Minister under section 32 in respect of the record.

(7) A record in the open access period is not, by virtue of a determination under sub-section (2), a record to which paragraph (2) (b) applies unless there is in force a certificate of a Minister under section 32 in respect of the record.

(8) The concurrence of the Director-General is not required for the making by the Director-General of the Australian Security Intelligence Organization of a determination under sub-section (1).

29. (1) The Archives shall ensure that all Commonwealth records received into its custody from a Commonwealth institution are made available, as reasonably required, for use by, or at the direction of, that institution, or a Commonwealth institution that has succeeded to the relevant functions of that institution.

(2) Where a record that has been in existence for more than 25 years is made available to a Commonwealth institution under sub-section (1), the record shall not be made available in a manner that involves its leaving the custody of the Archives except as necessary for the proper conduct of the business of the Commonwealth institution.
30. (1) Subject to this Part, the Archives shall cause all Commonwealth records in the open access period that are in the custody of the Archives or of a Commonwealth institution, other than exempt records, to be made available for public access.

(2) The Archives may withhold a Commonwealth record or a class of Commonwealth records from public access for a reasonable time pending examination in accordance with section 33.

31. For the purposes of this Division, a Commonwealth record is an exempt record if it contains information or matter of any of the following kinds:

(a) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would prejudice the defence, security or international relations of the Commonwealth;

(b) information or matter communicated in confidence by or on behalf of the Government of another country or of a State to the Government of the Commonwealth or a person receiving the communication on behalf of that Government, the disclosure of which under this Division would constitute a breach of that confidence;

(c) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would prejudice the relations between the Commonwealth and any State;

(d) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would have a substantial adverse effect on the financial or property interests of the Commonwealth or of a Commonwealth institution;

(e) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would be reasonably likely to have a substantial adverse effect on the interests of the Commonwealth or of a Commonwealth institution in or in relation to pending or likely legal proceedings;

(f) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would constitute a breach of confidence;

(g) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would—

(i) prejudice the enforcement or proper administration of the law in a particular case;

(ii) prejudice the fair trial of a person or the impartial adjudication of a particular case;

(iii) contrary to the public interest, disclose, or enable a person to ascertain, the identity of a confidential source of information in relation to the enforcement or administration of the law;
(iv) disclose methods or procedures for investigation of breaches or evasions of the law the disclosure of which would prejudice the effectiveness of those methods or procedures; or

(v) endanger the lives or physical safety of persons engaged in or in connexion with law enforcement;

(h) information or matter the disclosure of which under this Division would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person);

(j) information or matter, including commercial or financial information, the disclosure of which under this Division would be likely to expose unreasonably to disadvantage the material interests of an undertaking.

32. (1) Where a Minister is satisfied that a record contains information or matter of a kind referred to in paragraph 31 (a), (b) or (c), whether or not the record has been examined in accordance with section 33 and whether or not a decision has been given in respect of the record under that section, he may sign a certificate to that effect and such a certificate, so long as it remains in force, establishes conclusively that the record is an exempt record referred to in the relevant paragraph of section 31.

(2) Where a Minister is satisfied as mentioned in sub-section (1) by reason only of information or matter contained in a particular part or particular parts of a record, the certificate under that sub-section in respect of the record shall identify that part or those parts of the record as containing the information or matter by reason of which the certificate is given.

(3) The regulations may prescribe a period as the period during which certificates under sub-section (1), or any class of such certificates, remain in force unless sooner revoked.

(4) Regulations made in pursuance of sub-section (3) may be expressed to apply to certificates signed before the day on which the regulations take effect, but a certificate that is in force at the time when any such regulations take effect does not, by reason of the regulations, cease to be in force before the expiration of a period of 1 year from the date on which the regulations take effect.

(5) Notwithstanding sub-section (3) and any regulations under that sub-section, where a certificate under this section has been signed in respect of a record, a further certificate under this section in respect of the record may be signed at any time, whether or not the first-mentioned certificate is still in force.

(6) Where a certificate under this section is in force in respect of a record, the record is not subject to examination under section 33.
(7) A Minister may, either generally or as otherwise provided by the instrument of delegation, by writing signed by him, delegate his powers under this section, other than this power of delegation, to—

(a) the Permanent Head of a Department of the Australian Public Service;

(b) the person holding an office the holder of which has, in relation to a branch of the Australian Public Service, all the powers of, or exercisable by, a Permanent Head under the Public Service Act 1922;

(c) the holder of an office that is a prescribed office, or is included in a class of offices that is a prescribed class of offices, for the purposes of this sub-section; or

(d) a person performing the duties of an office referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c).

(8) A power delegated by a Minister under sub-section (7), when exercised by the delegate, shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to have been exercised by the Minister.

(9) A delegation by a Minister under sub-section (7) does not prevent the exercise of a power by the Minister.

33. (1) The Director-General, in consultation with the responsible Minister or a person authorized by him, shall make arrangements for determining the Commonwealth records in the open access period that are to be treated by the Archives as being exempt records and may make arrangements for determining the extent to which access in part to Commonwealth records identified as exempt records may be given without disclosing the information or matter by reason of which the records are exempt records.

(2) Except in the case of records exempted from transfer to the custody of Archives by virtue of a determination under section 28, an examination of records for the purposes of sub-section (1) shall be conducted on premises of the Archives.

(3) The identification of records as exempt records in accordance with this section shall be conducted in accordance with programs approved by the Director-General and may take place before the records concerned become records in the open access period.

(4) Determinations under sub-section (1) in respect of records identified as exempt records shall be reviewed, in accordance with arrangements made as referred to in that sub-section, at such intervals as the Director-General thinks appropriate having regard to the nature of records concerned and any other relevant circumstances and whenever necessary for the purposes of reconsideration of a decision in accordance with section 38.
5 The functions of the Archives with respect to public access to Commonwealth records in the open access period shall be performed in conformity with the determinations made from time to time under this section, except to the extent that any such determination is inconsistent with a decision of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal on a review under this Act.

34. (1) Where the Archives is required by this Division to cause a record to be made available for public access, any person is, subject to this Division, entitled to access to the record in any one or more of the following forms:

(a) an opportunity to inspect the record;

(b) on payment of a fee determined in accordance with the regulations, provision to the person of a copy of the record;

(c) in the case of a record from which information or matter can be produced or made available in a particular form by means of a computer, projector or other equipment, provision, on payment of a fee determined in accordance with the regulations, of access to that information or matter by the use of that equipment; and

(d) in the case of a record by which words are recorded in a manner in which they are capable of being reproduced in the form of sound or in which words are contained in the form of shorthand writing or in codified form, provision, on payment of a fee determined in accordance with the regulations, of a written transcript of the words recorded or contained in the record.

25 (2) Where—

(a) the giving of access under this Division to a record in a particular form other than the form referred to in paragraph (1) (a) would interfere unreasonably with the operations of the Archives or of another Commonwealth institution that has the custody of the record;

(b) the giving of access under this Division to a record in a particular form would not, having regard to the physical nature of the record, be appropriate;

(c) the giving of access under this Division to a record in a particular form would be detrimental to the preservation of the record; or

(d) the giving of access under this Division to a record in a particular form would involve an infringement of copyright (other than copyright owned by the Commonwealth) subsisting in the record, the Archives may decide that access to the record is not to be given in that form and cause access to be given in another form.

35. (1) The Director-General may, for the purpose of ensuring the safe custody and proper preservation of any record, determine reasonable conditions to which access to the record is to be subject, or determine that the record is to be withheld from public access.
(2) Where a record is withheld in accordance with sub-section (1), a copy may be provided where, in the opinion of the Director-General, it is practicable to do so without detriment to the proper preservation of the record.

36. Where a record that would otherwise be required to be made available for public access under this Division is an exempt record, the Archives may, where it is practicable to do so, make arrangements for part of, or a copy of part of, that record to which access could be given without disclosing information or matter by reason of which the record is an exempt record to be made available for public access in accordance with this Division.

37. (1) Subject to section 38, an application may be made to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review of a decision of the Archives in respect of access to a record, being—

(a) a decision refusing to grant to the applicant access to the record on the ground that the record is an exempt record or is a Commonwealth record to which this Division does not apply;

(b) a decision refusing to grant an extension of partial access to the record on the ground that the record is an exempt record and it is not practicable to make arrangements for giving the further access desired by the applicant in a form that would not disclose information or matter by reason of which the record is an exempt record; or

(c) a decision refusing to grant to the applicant access to the record in a particular form by reason of paragraph 34 (2) (a), (b) or (d).

(2) For the purposes of the application of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975 to a review under this section of a decision, the Director-General shall be deemed to be the person who made the decision.

(3) In proceedings before the Tribunal under this section—

(a) the onus of establishing that a record is an exempt record is on the party claiming that it is an exempt record; and

(b) the Tribunal is not restricted by any determination made at any time under section 33 in relation to the record.

(4) Where, under a provision of Part V, it is provided that a certificate of a specified kind establishes conclusively, for the purposes of this Act, that a record is one of a kind referred to in that provision, the powers of the Tribunal do not extend to reviewing the decision to give the certificate or the existence of proper grounds for the giving of the certificate.

(5) On a review under this section, the Tribunal may, if it is satisfied it would be practicable to give access to, or to a copy of, part of an exempt record in a form that would not disclose information or matter by reason of which the record is an exempt record, direct that access be given accordingly.
(6) In proceedings under this section, the Tribunal shall make such order under sub-section 35 (2) of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975 as it thinks necessary having regard to the nature of the proceedings and, in particular, to the necessity of avoiding the disclosure to the applicant, in the proceedings, of matter by reason of which section 31 applies to a record.

(7) Section 37 of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975 does not apply in relation to a document that is claimed to be an exempt record but, in proceedings before the Tribunal in relation to such a document, if the Tribunal is not satisfied, by evidence on affidavit or otherwise, that the document is an exempt record, it may require the document to be produced for inspection by members of the Tribunal only and if, upon the inspection, the Tribunal is satisfied that the document is an exempt record, the Tribunal shall return the document to the person by whom it was produced without permitting any person other than a member of the Tribunal as constituted for the purposes of the proceeding, or a member of the staff of the Tribunal in the course of the performance of his duties as a member of that staff, to have access to the document or disclosing the contents of the document to any such person.

(8) The Tribunal may require the production, for inspection by members of the Tribunal only, of an exempt record for the purpose of determining whether, and to what extent, it is practicable for arrangements to be made in accordance with section 36 and, where an exempt record is produced by reason of such a requirement, the Tribunal shall, after inspection of the record by the members of the Tribunal as constituted for the purposes of the proceeding, return the record to the person by whom it was produced without permitting any person other than such a member of the Tribunal, or a member of the staff of the Tribunal in the course of the performance of his duties as a member of that staff, to have access to the record or disclosing the contents of the record to any such person.

(9) Notwithstanding sub-sections (7) and (8) but subject to sub-section (10), the Tribunal is not empowered, in any proceedings, to require the production of a record in respect of which there is in force a certificate under section 18, 19, 20 or 32.

(10) Where a certificate of a kind referred to in sub-section (9) identifies a part or parts of the record concerned in the manner provided in sub-section 19 (3), 20 (3) or 32 (2), sub-section (9) does not prevent the Tribunal from requiring the production, in proceedings before the Tribunal under this section in relation to the record, of a copy of so much of the record as is not included in the part or parts so identified.

(11) Sub-section (7) or (8) does not operate so as to prevent the Tribunal from causing a document produced in accordance with that sub-section to be sent to the Federal Court of Australia in accordance with section 46 of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975, but, where such a document is so sent to the Court, the Court shall do all things necessary to ensure that the contents of the document are not disclosed (otherwise than in accordance with this Act) to any person other than a member of the Court as constituted for the purpose of the proceeding before the Court or a member of the staff of the Court in the course of the performance of his duties as a member of that staff.

(12) In proceedings before the Tribunal under this section, evidence of a certificate under section 18, 19, 20 or 32, including evidence of the identity or nature of the record to which the certificate relates, may be given by affidavit or otherwise and such evidence is admissible without production of the certificate or of the record to which it relates.

38. (1) An application under section 37 to the Tribunal for a review of a decision (other than a decision on a reconsideration under this section) shall not be made unless—

(a) the decision was made on an application to the Archives for access, or for an extension of partial access, to the record, being an application that complied with sub-section (2);

(b) the applicant has, within 28 days after the day on which notice of the decision was given to the applicant, applied in writing to the Archives for a reconsideration of the decision; and

(c) the applicant has been informed of the result of the reconsideration or a period of 14 days has elapsed since the day on which he made the application for reconsideration.

(2) An application referred to in paragraph (1) (a)—

(a) shall be in writing;

(b) shall be expressed to be made in accordance with this section; and

(c) shall provide such particulars, if any, concerning the record to which it relates as are contained in the Australian National Guide to Archival Material.

(3) The Archives shall give all reasonable assistance to persons to enable them to make applications complying with the requirements of paragraph (2) (c).

(4) Where an application for reconsideration of a decision is made in accordance with this section, the Archives shall—

(a) reconsider the decision and for that purpose arrange for any necessary review under section 33 of a determination under that section; and

(b) give notice to the applicant of the decision reached on the reconsideration (whether or not that decision confirms the previous decision).
(5) Where the decision on the reconsideration does not grant access as sought by the applicant, the notice referred to in paragraph (4) (b) shall—
   (a) state the findings on any material questions of fact, referring to the material on which those findings were based, and the reasons for the decisions; and
   (b) inform the applicant of his right to apply to the Tribunal for a review of the decision.

(6) The Archives is not required to include in a notice under sub-section (5) any matter that is of such a nature that its inclusion in a Commonwealth record would cause that record to be an exempt record.

(7) Section 28 of the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975 does not apply in relation to an application to the Tribunal under this Act where a notice in compliance with sub-section (5) of this section has been given to the applicant.

(8) If an application to the Tribunal for review of a decision is made before a reconsideration of the decision in accordance with this section has been completed and the result notified to the applicant, the Tribunal may, if it is satisfied that further time is reasonably necessary to enable the reconsideration to be completed, adjourn the proceedings for such time as it thinks fit.

(9) Decisions by the Archives on applications in accordance with this section shall be made, and notified in writing to the applicant, as expeditiously as practicable and, in the case of an application for reconsideration of a decision, shall be made after consideration of the application by the Director-General or a person authorized by him to deal with such applications.

(10) Where—
   (a) an application for a reconsideration of a decision has been made in accordance with sub-section (1); and
   (b) the applicant has not been informed of the result of the reconsideration within 14 days after the day on which he made that application, an application to the Tribunal for a review of the decision may be treated by the Tribunal as having been made within the time allowed under the Administrative Appeals Tribunal Act 1975 if it appears to the Tribunal that there was no unreasonable delay in making the application to the Tribunal.

39. (1) The Minister or a person authorized by him may, in accordance with arrangements approved by the Prime Minister, cause all records in a class of Commonwealth records not in the open access period to be available for public access.
(2) The Minister or a person authorized by him may, in accordance with arrangements approved by the Prime Minister, cause Commonwealth records which are not available for public access under this Act to be made available to a person for a purpose specified in the regulations as a purpose for which access may be given under this sub-section.

(3) Where records made available to a person by virtue of sub-section (2) are so made available on conditions to be observed by that person, that person shall not contravene those conditions.

Penalty: $200.

40. Where, in the ordinary course of the administration of this Act, access is given by the Archives to a record as being a record required by this Division to be made available for public access—

(a) no action for defamation or breach of confidence lies, by reason of the authorizing or giving of the access, against the Commonwealth or any person concerned in the authorizing or giving of the access;

(b) the giving of the access shall not be taken, for the purposes of the law relating to defamation or breach of confidence, to constitute an authorization or approval of the publication of the record or of its contents by the person to whom the access was given; and

(c) a person concerned in the authorizing or giving of the access is not guilty of a criminal offence by reason only of the authorizing or giving of the access.

41. Nothing in this Act prevents a person from publishing or otherwise giving access to records (including exempt records), otherwise than in pursuance of this Act where he can properly do so or is required by law to do so.

42. Where a record has become available for public access in accordance with this Division, any security classification applicable to the record ceases to have effect for any purpose.

43. For the purposes of this Division, where, in accordance with the administrative arrangements in operation before the commencement of this Part, a record in the open access period has been withheld from public access or has been made available for public access, a determination shall be deemed to have been made in accordance with section 33 immediately after the commencement of this Part that the record is to be treated as an exempt record, or that the record is not to be treated as an exempt record, as the case may be.

PART VI—OBJECTS OF ARCHIVAL SIGNIFICANCE

44. (1) Where it appears to the Minister that a particular object that is the property of the Commonwealth or of a Commonwealth institution is, or that such objects of a particular description as are the property of the Commonwealth or of a Commonwealth institution are, part of the archival resources of the Commonwealth, he may, by notice in the Gazette, declare the object, or every such object, to be an object to which this section applies.

(2) If an object to which this section applies has ceased (whether before or after the commencement of this Act) to be required to be readily available for the purposes of a Commonwealth institution, the person responsible for the custody of the object shall, if the Archives so requires, cause it to be transferred to the custody of the Archives in accordance with arrangements approved by the Archives.

(3) A person shall not destroy or otherwise dispose of or damage any object to which this section applies without the permission of the Archives.

Penalty: $200.

45. (1) The Minister may, by notice published in the Gazette, declare that a specified class of objects, not being objects referred to in sub-section (3), (4) or (5), is a class to which sub-section (2) applies.

(2) The Archives may require any Commonwealth institution to cause to be delivered to the custody of the Archives samples of objects included in a class of objects to which this sub-section applies that are the property of the Commonwealth or of the Commonwealth institution.

(3) The Reserve Bank of Australia shall cause to be delivered to the custody of the Archives such samples as the Archives requires of notes printed by, or under the authority of, the bank that are legal tender throughout the Commonwealth.

(4) The Controller of the Royal Australian Mint shall cause to be delivered to the custody of the Archives such samples as the Archives requires of current coins caused by the Treasurer to be made.

(5) The Australian Postal Commission shall cause to be delivered to the custody of the Archives such samples of current postage stamps issued by the Commission as the Archives requires.

30 PART VII—CARE OF MATERIAL OF THE ARCHIVES

46. (1) Subject to this Part, material of the Archives shall be kept at such places as the Director-General considers appropriate.

(2) In considering the place at which material of the Archives should be kept, the Director-General shall take into account—

(a) the convenience of persons who are likely to require access to the material;

(b) the desirability of keeping related material in the same place; and

(c) the appropriateness of keeping in a State or Territory material that relates in particular to that State or Territory or to places in that State or Territory.

(3) Copies of records forming part of the material of the Archives may be kept in such places as the Director-General considers appropriate.
47. (1) Subject to any other law of the Commonwealth and to the rights of Commonwealth institutions, where the Director-General considers it appropriate to do so, the Archives may make arrangements with a person for material of the Archives to be kept in the custody of that person.

(2) Arrangements referred to in sub-section (1) shall provide for the care of the material of the Archives to which they relate and for the regular inspection of that material by the Archives.

(3) All material of the Archives which has been delivered to the Archives in accordance with the Copyright Act 1968, other than Commonwealth records, shall, subject to the consent of the Director-General of the National Library of Australia, be deposited by the Archives with the National Library of Australia.

PART VIII—REGISTERS AND GUIDE RELATING TO ARCHIVES

48. (1) The Archives shall maintain a register to be known as the Australian National Register of Records.

(2) The Register shall contain such particulars of the material of the Archives as the Director-General considers appropriate.

(3) The Register may also contain such particulars as the Director-General considers appropriate of—
   (a) current Commonwealth records;
   (b) material in State archives;
   (c) material in other archives, including private archives; and
   (d) other archival resources relating to Australia.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the Archives shall seek the co-operation of the owners and custodians of material in State archives and other archives.

49. (1) The Archives shall maintain a guide to be known as the Australian National Guide to Archival Material.

(2) Subject to sub-section (4), the Guide shall contain particulars, in such form as the Director-General considers appropriate, of all Commonwealth records in the open access period which have been examined in accordance with sub-section 33 (1), other than records in respect of which a notation in accordance with section 32 is in force.

(3) Subject to sub-section (4), the Guide may also contain copies of particulars contained in the Australian National Register of Records.

(4) The Guide shall not include—
(a) particulars that would disclose any information or matter of a kind referred to in section 31; or
(b) particulars the disclosure of which would be contrary to any arrangements entered into by the Archives in accordance with this Act.

(5) A copy of the Guide shall be kept at the principal office of the Archives in each State and Territory in which the Archives maintains an office and may be kept at such other offices of the Archives as the Director-General considers appropriate.

(2) The first report under this section shall relate to the period commencing on the date of commencement of this Part and ending on the next following 30 June.

52. (1) The Director-General may give a certificate that a record referred to in the certificate is a true copy of a record that is a record in the custody of the Archives.

(2) A writing purporting to be a certificate given under this section shall, unless the contrary is proved, be deemed to be such a certificate and to have been duly given and such a certificate is prima facie evidence in all courts of the matter stated in the certificate.
53. (1) A reference in any law of the Commonwealth or of a Territory, or in any agreement or arrangement, made before the commencement of Part II to the Commonwealth Archives Office, to the Archival Authority or to the authority concerned with the preservation of the archives shall, in respect of any time after the commencement of Part II, be read as a reference to the Archives.

(2) Notwithstanding Part II, arrangements in operation immediately before the commencement of Part II relating to the disposal or custody of Commonwealth records may continue in operation until the Director-General otherwise directs.

(3) Where, immediately before the commencement of this Part, any records were in the custody of the establishment known as the Australian Archives, as existing at that time, under arrangements by which the custody of the records was accepted from a person other than a Commonwealth institution by the Commonwealth, or an authority or person acting on behalf of the Commonwealth, those arrangements (including any provision of those arrangements concerning access to or disposal of those records) have effect from that commencement as if they were made, after that commencement, by that person with the Archives, and subsection 6 (2) applies accordingly.

54. The Governor-General may make regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, prescribing all matters that are required or permitted by this Act to be prescribed or are necessary or convenient to be prescribed for carrying out or giving effect to this Act.
