

The prospect of introducing, or even the REMOTE possibility of introducing 'mad cow' disease into Australia is completely 'MAD.

Who can forget the horrors of the break out in England and its spread to other countries. There are no reasonable arguments to allow this to POSSIBLY occur in Australia and I urge you to reconsider your decision to allow these imports of beef from countries which have been contaminated.

Yours sincerely

Paulene & Patrick Hertslet